Hi Jackie,

It's a pleasure to hear from you!

6 4 grandson

I may have my genealogy a bit mixed up, but I believe that Justin Baker was Edward Hinsdale Baker's ~~brother~~. Unfortunately, I know very little about that side of the family.

H. 4 5

Edward Baker's second wife was Maria Whiting Palmer and their only child was Frances Bingham Baker. Edward Baker died, I believe, when Frances was about 15 years old.

Frances Baker married Allen Joseph Hinkelman and they had three children, Allen Joseph Hinkelman, Jr., 6 Edward George Hinkelman, and Roy Palmer Hinkelman. 6

H 5 H

Edward Baker's first marriage produced George Baker. I am named after my grandfather Edward and my mother's half brother George. ?

Our family lived in Yonkers, New York, then Southborough, Massachusetts. I went to Tufts University and studied economics. I was born on June 27, 1947 at the start of the post-war baby boom. I'll be 70 in two weeks.

I started a publishing company in 1993 called World Trade Press. We started out publishing reference books for international trade. Over the years we've morphed into an educational publishing company specializing in country information in the fields of culture, business, import, export, travel, local living, and now food. (In three weeks we're releasing a new digital product that is essentially a comprehensive cookbook for every country in the world.) Company offices are in Petaluma, California.

My wife Gayle and I just celebrated our 18th anniversary on June 5th. She was a Congregational/UCC minister for 35 years and then a therapist/counselor for five years. We have a great relationship that has been deepening over the years. I feel blessed.

We live in Petaluma, California for 7 months of the year and have a summer cottage on Lake Michigan in Omena, Michigan where we spent about five months of the year. We're in Michigan now.

Please let me know something of yourself. I am especially interested in the other Bakers!

Best regards,

Ed

was after police had been apprised of an apparent entry into a Fulton automobile agency building early Monday morning, two men had been taken into custody and a new model automobile recovered.

Held today for investigation into an entry at the Premo automobile agency, 131 E. Broadway, were George Berry, 28, of 121 Erie St., Syracuse; and Douglas Kimball, 17, of 418 Ontario St.

The two were taken into custody on the Hinmanville road, south of Fulton, shortly before 1:15 a. m. today by Patrolmen Charles Guyer and Robert Somers. The officers said Berry was driving a new model car, taken from the automobile agency, and that Kimball was a passenger in the vehicle.

Police swung into action at 1 a. m. today after Mrs. Marion Barbo of 257 S. Second St., a resident near the automobile agency, telephoned Lt. Thomas Alnutt at headquarters she had observed a car driven from the rear of the building and head south in the north-south arterial. She said the garage doors had been left wide open.

Patrolmen Guyer and Somers, who were operating a radio car in the north-south arterial, near the Academy St. intersection, two blocks away immediately swung their vehicle around and started in pursuit of the car. State and county police agencies were alerted by Lt. Alnutt and road blocks outside the city were immediately set up.

Guver and Somers said

Woman Seriously Injured in Crash Dies in Hospital

FULTON—Critically injured early Sunday morning when her car skidded 100 feet, struck an island containing gasoline pumps and then rolled over two or three times in old Route 57, just north of the city line in the Town of Volney, Mrs. Rena Mae Baker, 48, wife of James C. Baker, died Monday morning in University hospital, Syracuse.

The Baker home is at 461 N. Sixth St.

Mrs. Baker was rushed to Lee Memorial hospital in the Menter ambulance and late Sunday morning transferred to University hospital at Syracuse. According to information given investigating authorities, Mrs. Baker suffered several fractured ribs and possible lung injuries. Authorities said they were informed by attending physicians that an emergency operation was required to permit the woman to breathe properly.

Patrolman Jesse Yardley, who made the initial investigation, after Lt. Thomas Alnutt had received a report of the accident at headquarters at 1:40 a. m. Sunday, said Mrs. Baker was driving south in the old Route 57 when her auto went into a 100-foot skid, hit an island containing gasoline pumps in the yard of the Babcock Oil Station, at the north city line, and then continued on about 40 feet more, rolling over once or twice and coming

Hello Jackie,
Mary Elizabeth Baker was the mother to my great grandmother Margaret Thresa White, Maggie married George Washington Harvey in Denton Co. Tx. Mary was known as Mollie to our family, she is buried here in Oklahoma she was married many times, I still havnt found out who Mr. White is, she marrie to a Mr. White, G.S.L. Sikes, John Morrow, and William A. Raines, she has a child Nancy Sikes whom I havent found either, She also had a son named T.M. Raines who lived in Kingfisher, OK. I finally located his grave a couple weeks ago.. Just before I got sick in January and had to have surgery Sue Kimmel sent me a big stack of stuff on Edwin Baker, I will dig that stuff out for you, Sue is kin to the Bakers through one of the twin sons, cant remember which one. We are trying to find out what happened to Edwin,He is on the 1885 Tx. tax list for Denton co. My copy machine is on the blitz so, if you want I can take my Baker stuff and run it off for you at the library and send it to you, Sue Kimmel is the one who helped me straighten my Bakers out. Sue Kimmel

7221 Oakbluff Dr.
Dallas, Texas 75254

The stuff she sent to me starts with Matthew Baker JR. : born Oct.21, 1791 Stamford, Vermont, Bennington co.
Looks like it came from LDS records. Do you have Matthews Jr will? I would like a copy if you dont mind.
I also believe Edwin was a grandson, I wonder why he wasnt in the will if he lived with them? I was just starting on this packet in January. Albert is also the one I was narrowing down to as Edwins father, I put a note on his page. The page on Albert is not anything except his birth. Right now I can not get out to do alot of research, Please keep me in mind if you find out anything else.

P.S. I have a copy of the 1860, 1870,1880, Denton co.TX census on Edwin Baker also Cherokee Indian Lineage

I have done considerable research on this and other Archiblad families, as my g-g-grandfather, David H. Archibald is a member of this clan. I have a copy of the testimony given at the Clevenger trial (the one who killed Harvey). Dr. Gilbert Barnes of Carmel, Indina is a descendant of this branch and has also done extensive research. I will be happy to share. The Archibalds have a reunion each year and publish the Archibald Clan Newsletter, which contains much information.

Hi,
I am researching the Heard families that came from TX and Oklahoma.
They went to Santa Clara co., San Jose area or what they called the Bay area?
Children of John William Heard.
John William Jr.(Johnny)
Gordon
LeRoy
Shirley Ann
Who was the mother to these children?
John Heard sr. died in Hinton, Ok. Jan.29,1970.I believe his son John jr. was here with him at the time of death. Dont know what happened to him after that.
John's sister went with this family at the same time I assume, Florence Amelia Heard.
She was married to a Giles in 1943, but married to an Easley in 1976, located in Irvington, Cal. Fremont area, Alameda co.
These Heard families were connected to the Ledford familes back here in Oklahoma. I would like any information anyone is willing to share. I have alot of information on both Ledford and Heard.
Please e-mail me. ledfordd@worldnet.att.net
Thanks
Connie Ledford

Laura was my grandmother. Her son, John Harvey Deegear, was my father. After my parents divorced we had very little contact with the Deegears. There is another son in San Antonio, Tx J. O. Deegear and a grandson in Austin, Tx. Dennis Deegear. I would like to learn more about the Deegears. Please let me hear from you. I have a brother in Azle, Tx. Charles Harvey Deegear.

My father is James Otis Deegear, Jr. of San Antonio, Texas. He is the son of Laura Harvey Deegear and James O. Deegear, Sr. and the brother of your dad, John. I met your father, my uncle, once sometime around the time a tornado went through Oakcliff in Dallas; I must have been all of 3 years old.

My children are currently compiling a family history based in part from the family Bible and from knowledge that my dad has re: our geneology. When they are done, I'd be happy to share it with you.

I'm researchin the harveys of Tippecanoe county, Indiana. I just recieved the civil war records on John R. Harvey (g-g-g-grandfather) he was born in Tippecanoe county, Milford twp. Indiana, 1844. I believe his parents were John P. Harvey and Elizabeth (Archabold) Harvey. She is a widow in 1850, and John R. is listed with her. John P. Harvey is listed on the 1850 mortality census as being murdered in April, can anyone shed some light on this?? I would like to find an article that would tell the story. Help! Please e-mail me. The following is from Leng, Charles W., Staten Island and its People, A History 1609 - 1933. Vol. 5 p. 205.

Cornelius Lambertse Cool of Holland was the first to come to America, arriving in New Amsterdam abt 1639. He married Altie Bracthonge and had three children, the youngest, Lambert Cornelius Cole. He married and had a son, Abraham Cole, who in 1695 married Rebecca Britten born in 1668, daughter of Nathaniel Britten.

If you think this is your Abraham Cole, I can send some more info.

Thanks

Dear Mr. Cooney,

I am your third half cousin on your Baker side. Our common 2nd great grandfather James Millard Baker had two wives. You descend from his first wife Mary Parker. I descend from his second wife Mary Larkin.

~~I am wondering if you know anything~~ about a Baker bible? I have been searching the Baker line for 16 yrs. I have not been able to find where our ancestor Matthew Baker was born about 1768, or the name of his parents. I know that he lived in Stamford VT in 1791, next to Thos. Sergeant Baker.

I have tracked Sergeant Baker to his origins, but I cannot find anything to tie the two men together in deeds or naming of children. T.S. Baker was s/o a Matthew Baker who died in MA in 1757. That seemed promising, but I tend to think that our Matthew may have had a father named John, based on naming pattern.

~~If you have any information about Matthew Baker's origin, I would be indebted to you forever.~~

I am enclosing quite a bit of narrative for you to study. I would appreciate having you add to my missing data and correct any incorrect data that I have written. You can write directly on the family group sheets that I have marked in pencil and return same to me. I am sending duplicate copies for your own use.

I don't wish to burden you with this request. If it is too much for you, please add info. from the earliest families first. If you have written a narrative of your own, perhaps you would share it with me.

You will see that I do not know the parents of Polly/Mary Parker, first wf of James M. Baker. Their dau. Mary Carolyn Baker married Isaac G. Parker. I have long wondered if they were related. ~~Do you have answers to this question?~~

~~Since you descend from Jerome C. Baker, perhaps you know the parents of his wf Betsey A. Evans.~~ I cannot find where Jerome and Betsey were buried, ~~or when and where they died~~. I ~~know they resided in Syracuse in 1880 census~~.
I have no info. on Jerome's children Henrietta and Ida S. Baker. Did they live to adulthood?

Since you descend from Lillian (Baker) (Waggoner) Maginnis, perhaps you can tell me when ~~Frank Waggoner and Lillian died~~ and where they were buried. ~~You may also know the first name of her 2nd husband Mr. Magginis and when they were married.~~

Lillian Baker Waggoner had a son who resided in B'klyn N.Y. and was employed in YWL br work. Do you have any idea what that means? The only son that I have found for Lillian was Frank Waggoner Jr. I assume this was the son who lived in B'klyn.

I will be so pleased to receive any info. from you to add to my Baker manuscript which is very large. I have followed all the lines. It is only recently that I found enough info. about Jerome Baker's descendants to track you down.

I am always in hopes that someone will have info. about Matthew Baker's ancestry, even if it only be clues.

My thanks to your gracious wife Elizabeth, re: our conversation this A.M.

Sincerely,

Jackie Humphrey

EDWIN R. BAKER AND VERLATIA MOORE

Gen. 4.

41. Edwin R. Baker may have been the son of Albert Baker, #8 in this mss, (Matthew2,1). Edwin was born ca 1832/3 OH, perhaps Delaware or Licking Co. Ohio. He died sometime after the 1885 tax list of Denton Co. TX. The Neely/Kimmel family believe that he was buried in Bolivar TX, but no grave has been found.

Edwin resided with Matthew Baker Jr. in 1850 census, but was not his son. All of the children of Matthew have been accounted for in the Wills of Matthew and his wife Samantha. Edwin did not reside with Matthew in 1840 census, when Matthew and his wife Samantha lived alone. No relationships are shown on 1850 census, so Edwin could have been grandson, nephew or cousin, no relation at all.

Assuming that Edwin was grandson of Matthew Baker Jr., the only family that Edwin b. ca 1832/3 could fit into, was that of Matthew's son Albert, born 1809.

One Albert Baker married 1839 to Rachel Place in Delaware Co. OH, but it is not proven that he was the Albert of whom we treat.

One Albert Baker was divorced from Rachael Baker in Coles Co. IL in 1844, where Matthew Baker resided.

These two events seemingly link the divorced Rachael as Rachel (Place) Baker of Delaware Co. Ohio in 1839.

If Albert was father of Edwin b. 1832/3, there is a missing wife, whom he married ca 1830/32. Edwin lists his mother as born Ohio on 1880 census.

Edwin R. Baker married 31 Aug. 1850, Coles Co. IL, to Verlatia Moore, who was born ca 1832 in Iowa according to 1850 census. They were married by Rev. Matthew Baker, V.D.M. (Minister of Gospel). She was alive 1880 census in Texas.

1850 census, Salisbury Pct. Coles Co. Illinois.
15.15. Matthew Baker, occup. Farmer, age 59, (b. ca 1791) VA, (sic), Samantha, 60 yrs, (b. ca 1790) Mass., Edwin R. Baker 17 yrs, born Ohio (ca 1833), Verlitia, 18 yrs b. IA.

Note that Matthew's birth in VA is not correct, should read VT. Salisbury Pct. is close to the border between Coles and Cumberland Co. IL. Cumberland was formed 1843 from Coles, thus some residents may not have moved, although listed in a different county. Marriage records in Cumberland Co. were burned. Salisbury was later called Hutton Twp.

Edwin was not named in the will of Matthew Baker Jr. or by Samantha Baker who named all her children, and only her two grandchildren, by her deceased son John. Matthew and Samantha lived alone in 1840 census which further eliminates Edwin as son of Matthew.

Edwin R. Baker moved to Tx ca 1857/1859, based on birth places of his children.

No land deed has been found for him in TX by descendants in Neeley/Kimmel family.

Edwin was probably listed as Edward, incorrectly on 1860 census. Verlatia was listed as Latha. The children all fit the known children of Edwin and Verlatia.

1860 July 17 census, P.O. Carter, Denton Co. TX. A.Y. Hutchinson Ass't Marshall. p.450 stamped on rt, p.113 on left. 799.796. Edward Baker 25 yrs b. IL (ca 1835), Farmer, real Estate blank, Pers. Prop. $200. Latha 25 yrs, b. IL, Caroline 8 yrs b. IL, Elizabeth 6 yrs b. IL, Nancy 4 yrs b. TX, George 1 yr b. TX, John 1 yr b. TX.

Edwin served from Feb. 8 to June 30 1862 as a Private in Co. G., 15th TX Cavalry Regiment of the Confederate Army in Texas during the Civil War. He enlisted at Denton by Capt. A. Faulkner. He was never paid. He also served extra duty July 25 and also Sept. and Oct. 1862. He was 29 yrs old March 24 1862 in Muster Roll at Clarksville, (birth ca 1833 or 1832 if his birthday occurred later in yr). He was a Prisoner of War at Headquarters at Camp Douglas, Chicago. IL on 16 March 1863, when he signed an oath of Renunciation to the Confederate States and swore allegiance to the U.S. He was 30 yrs of age, 5 ft 5 1/2 in., brown eyes, black hair. He was captured at Arkansas Post January 11 1863; by Feb. 8 he was at Camp Douglas. (Ref: official military papers supplied by Sue Kimmel).

Corroborated service viewed online at www.civilwar.nps.gov, which lists Edwin R. Baker's record in film no. M227, Roll 2. This site states that "Units of the Confederate States Army" by Joseph H. Clute Jr. contains no history of this unit.

Ancestry.com's Civil War site lists Edwin R. Baker as above, but adds that he served in the second Regiment, Johnson's Brigade: found in Box 227, Extraction 2, Record 1093.

Edwin was released and served the Union Army during the remainder of the War, according to descendant Sue Kimmel. Sue did not find that Edwin or his wife ever applied for a Civil War pension.

Texas Confederate military men were given pensions by the State of Texas, not the Federal Gov't. This should be researched. Try Texas State Archives.

MARIAH SARAH JONES AND JOSEPH NEAL AND MILTON G. ill RYAN

53. Mariah Sarah or Sarah Mariah Jones was daughter of Mary Butler Baker (Matthew2,1) and David G. Jones #10. She was born 24 Nov 1830, Delaware Co. Ohio, died 25 Dec. 1908, 78 yrs 1 mo 1 day, near Janesville, Cumberland Co. IL. She died at the home of her son George A. Neal near Janesville IL. She was buried in Tippett Cem. (obit. subm. by Seaman).

Where did I get her birth in Delaware Co.? Not on IGI.
I could not find her or her husb. in 1900 census, or husb. in 1910 census.

Mariah Sarah Jones married first 9 Jan 1848 to Joseph T. Neal, probably in Coles Co. IL. Joseph b. ca 1827 KY. He died shortly after returning from Civil War duty. His mother was prob. Elizabeth, b. ca 1798 KY, alive 1870 with son in Campbell, Cumberland Co. IL.

Mariah Sarah (Jones) Neal married second, 3 Dec 1864 as second wife of Milton G. Ryan b. ca 1822/1823 IL, alive 1880, both par. b. KY.

William Neal, of Granville and Obigam Neal owned lots in Hutton Twp, Coles Co. IL in 1839 in Sections 18, 23 and 24 adjoining the section where Matthew Baker purchased in 1849.

Obituary of Mariah Sarah Ryan.
She came to IL with her parents as a child and settled near Whetstone Church in Coles Co., of which her grandfather Baker was organizer and first Pastor. She joined the Hurricane Congregation of the Separate Baptist church at age 14 and was a member until her death. She had five children by Joseph Neal two of whom were living at her death, George A. Neal living near Janesville, Cumberland Co. IL and Zibe G. Neal of Bells, TX.

By her marriage to Milton Ryan, three children were living at her death: Tom Ryan at Greenup, Cumberland Co. IL; Oliver Ryan near Bradbury; and Mrs. Essie Titus, near Hidalgo. She was survived by twenty grandchildren. and two step-sons, Rev. James L. Ryan of Greenup IL and A.M. Ryan of Janesville IL.

The latter part of her life was spent with her sons near Bradbury. She had planned to spend Christmas and perhaps make her home with with her son Zibe G. Neal in Bells Tx. She was a dutiful, consistent Christian. The bible was her source of comfort. In her neighborhood, her young friends miss her visits, her old friends feel her loss and speak her name with reverence and her children rise up and call her blessed.

Funeral services were held in Cottonwood M.E. church, Rev. P. York presiding. She was buried in Tippett Cem. The Toledo Democrat listed her as a good woman who has gone to a good reward. "'Tis sad to know the visit referred to above can never never be. - Z.B. Neal- Bells Bulletin Print TX.

Benjamin was a Methodist (M.E.) preacher. He resided on a farm until 1861. He served in the Civil War 1861-1865 and was wounded several times. He graduated from Illinois State Normal Univ. in 1870. He earned degrees in A.M. and P.H.D. from Wesleyan Univ. in Illinois. He earned his Doctor of Divinity diploma from Chaddock College. He joined the Central IL. Conference of Methodist Episcopal Church in 1874. He was Pastor at Denver 1881-1883; presiding Elder 1895-1889, Financial Secretary Illinois Wesleyan U. 1889-1893, President Chaddock College 1893-1908. (Who Was Who in America, Companion Volume to Who's Who in America, Biographies of The Non-Living, V.1, 1897-1942; published by A.N. Marquis, Chicago 1943).

An Historical Sketch of Illinois Wesleyan Univ. 1857-1895 by William H. Wildr, p. 116 lists a bio. of Benjamin Webb Baker, Class of 1874.

President Benjamin Webb Baker, Ph.B., M.A., Ph.D. was born in Coles (Co.), Illinois. in 1841. He was one of those fortunate men whose parents were poor yet honest and industrious. Pres. Baker was left fatherless when but a child and was compelled to aid in earning a living for his widowed mother, and upon a timbered farm laid the foundation for a rugged physical manhood and a stalwart moral character. He attended the select subscription school a few months annually until 1861, when he enlisted in Co. E. 25th Illinois Volunteer Infantry, and during those 3 years participated in many hard fought battles.

In 1865 he took up a more heroic battle to gain an education, and entered the Illinois State Normal University, from which he was graduated in 1870, at which time also he was elected principal of the Grammer Dep't, which position he held for four years. In 1870, he entered the Illinois Wesleyan University, from which he has successfully taken his degrees.

In 1874 he united with the Central Illinois Conference, and with the exception of one year in Denver, has given most efficient service to the Church, having been presiding elder for one full term, in which position he displayed rare administrative ability. He represented his conference in the General Conference of 1888.

In 1890 he became financial secretary of the Illinois Wesleyan University, which office he held until 1893. He brought to this position, so difficult to fill, unbounded enthusiasm, great faith in his cause, extraordinary endurance and rare skill in interesting the common people and youth in the cause of Christian education, and in securing the endowments that have come to the univsity since 1888.

In 1895 he was elected president of Chaddock College, where he is waging a desperately earnest and heroic batle to establish that institution and save it to Methodism. If President Baker does not win this battle, it cannot be won, for no man is better adapted to the conditions, and no one more self-sacrificing and heroic. He has faithfully served the Illinois Wesleyan University for many years as trustee, snd will ever be remembered as one who has contributed largely to it's success.

I believe he was Pres. of Chaddock College for abt 2 yrs, until it closed. It is now a home for troubled boys. Find article.

Note that Benjamin's mother Sarah Eliza m2. in 1850, (when Benj. was 9 yrs old), to Hezekiah Jones who died in 1856. Sarah was again a widow 1856-1860, (when Benj. was 15-19 yrs), when she m3. to Rob't Moore. Thus, the time when Benj. aided his mother seems to be ca 1856-60. Sarah had children by all 3 marriages.

Benjamin wrote letters home while in service. Typewritten copies are in possession of Alice Lackey. One letter mentions the killing of his brother John in service.

In the 1870's, he resided Watseka Iroquois Co. IL. This is close to the Indiana border. His mother and stepfather and several half siblings followed him to Iroquois Co.

REV. BENJAMIN WEBB BAKER AND MARTHA FRANCES HENRY

54. Benjamin Webb Baker was born 25 Nov. 1841, Hutton Twp., Coles Co. IL. He died 20 June 1909 Guthrie, Logan Co. OK. He was s/o John B. Baker (Matthew2,1) and Sarah Eliza Adams #11. Benjamin was buried at summit View Cem. Guthrie Logan Co. OK in Block 36, Lot 52, then removed 14 May 1923 (Survey of Summit View Cem. by Logan Co. OK Genealaogy Soc'y in 1995). He was reburied with wife in Oakwood Cem. Metamora, Woodford Co. IL

Benjamin W. Baker married 14 Dec. 1871 Lisbon, Kendall Co. Illinois to Martha Frances Henry Bk A1, p. 151, online IL marriages. Martha was born. 24 June 1850 IL, died 24 Oct. 1922 St Joseph MO. She was d/o John Henry (b. VT) and his wife Zilpha Wright (b. N.Y.), acc. to Alice Lackey. Martha was a student at Illinois Wesleyan Univsity when she met Benjamin.

Her obit. was published in Metamora Herald in IL 3 Nov. 1922. The article mentions that three of her children were also buried in Oakwood Cem. The article mentions her husband's prominence and that her son Rev. James Baker D.D. of Urbana and Mrs. Agnew and other relatives accompanied the remains. Services were in the reformed church in charge of Dr. Byrnes of Champaign and Rev. E.K. Towle D.D. of Urbana. The family intends to bring the remains of Dr. Baker here. He died several yrs ago in Oklahoma.

John Henry is listed in an index of Bicentennial History of Kendall Co. Illinois by Kathy Farrer, p. 133; publ. 1976. John Henry is listed in an index of Biographical Dictionary of Kendall Co. Illinois by George Fisher, p. 63, publ. 1876. There was also a Rev. Wright in Kendall Co.

Note that Martha was listed as Margaret on 1880 census and was known as Mattie. On the Illinois State Marriage List online: B.W. Baker married Mattie F. Henry in Kendall Co. IL, 14 Dec 1871, Vol. A 1, p.151 and also listed Vol. A, p.141.

President Benjamin Webb Baker, Ph.B., M.A., Ph.D. was born in Coles, Illinois. in 1841. He was one of those fortunate men whose parents were poor yet honest and industrious. Pres. Baker was left fatherless when but a child and was compelled to aid in earning a living for his widowed mother, and upon a timbered farm laid the foundation for a rugged physical manhood and a stalwart moral character. In 1874 he united with the Central Illinois Conference, and with the exception of one year in Denver, has given most efficient service to the Church, having been presiding elder for one full term, in which position he displayed rare administrative ability. He represented his conference in the General Conference of 1888.

He brought to this position, so difficult to fill, unbounded enthusiasm, great faith in his cause, extraordinary endurance and rare skill in interesting the common people and youth in the cause of Christian education, and in securing the endowments that have come to the university since 1888.

In 1895 Benjamin Webb Baker was elected President of Chaddock College where he is waging a desperately earnest and heroic batle to establish that institution and save it to Methodism. If President Baker does not win this battle, it cannot be won, for no man is better adapted to the conditions, and no one more self-sacrificing and heroic. He has faithfully served the Illinois Wesleyan University for many years as trustee, snd will ever be remembered as one who has contributed largely to it's success.

The College was founded by the Methodist Episcopal Church. The name became Chaddock in 1876 after Charles Chaddock gave a large sum to the financially distressed college. About 1879 the Wesleyan University at Bloomington IL assumed full control of the institution. Chaddock was located on State St. at Quincy, Adams Co. IL. In 1900, it was changed to an orphanage named Chaddock Boys School. In the 1960's, it became a home ? for neglected boys. (www.rootsweb.com/~iladams/places/chaddock.htm).

Thus, Benjamin Baker was President of this college for less than five years.

Note that Benjamin's mother Sarah Eliza married second in 1850, (when Benj. was 9 yrs old), to Hezekiah Jones who died in 1856. Sarah was again a widow 1856-1860, (when Benj. was 15-19 yrs), when she married third to Rob't Moore. Thus, the time when Benjamin aided his mother seems to be ca 1856-60. Sarah had children by all three marriages.

The Twentieth Century Biographical Dictionary of Notable Americans, Vol.1, p.167, article found on Ancestry.com by Alice Lackey lists his birth date in Hutton IL and his parents and all his grandparents, including their maiden names. This article lists Matthew Baker and wife Samantha Town of Massachusetts as well as John Adams of N.Y. and wife Harriet S. Webb of MD.

This article repeats the foregoing, but has a few different dates for Benjamin's life. The article lists his PhB from Illinois Wesleyan in 1874; Presiding Elder of Streator District 1885-89 of Central Illinois Conference; President of Chaddock College 1893-1898, receiving his Dr of Divinity there in 1898; Trustee of Illinois Wesleyan Univ. 1888-98. This article adds that he was President of Missouri Wesleyan College in Cameron MO beginning in 1898.

Alice Lackey obtained a published article of the Minutes of the Central Illinois Conference, a type of Eulogy on Benjamin Webb Baker written by Joe Bell, shortly after Benjamin's death in 1909. Benjamin's funeral was in charge of Joe Bell and Dr. Bradford, Pres. of Epworth League Univ. Oklahoma City and Dr. Simes, pastor of the M.E. church at Winfield KS. Interment was at Guthrie OK.

This article gave Benjamin's birth date in Coles Co. and his death date in Guthrie OK; his marriage date and maiden name of his wife who survived him.

It lists his mother as having more than ordinary strength of character and mentions his father's early death. The article mentions his grandfather, a Methodist preacher who was the circuit rider of his day.

Benjamin's military service is listed, giving his wounding at Chickamauga by a minnie ball to the left shoulder and the love and respect by his comrades.

Benjamin was stationed at Lexington in 1874 by the Central Illinois conference for two years, then was appointed to Watseka (Iroquois IL) for two yrs, then to Sheldon for 2 yrs and to Fairbury in 1880. There his health began to fail and he was advised to seek a higher altitude. He was transferred to the Colorado Conference at Denver where he remained until 1883. He was then transferred to the Central Illinois Conference at Metamora, where he served two yrs. The article continues with his being Elder of Streator District and the position of Financial Secretary at Bloomington as previously mentioned.

The article continues with 1893 when he became President of Chaddock College at Quincy, IL for five yrs, clearing financial matters which had become embarrassing, and buildiong it up to a creditable school. It lists his Presidency of Missouri Wesleyan College at Cameron in 1898, whereby he gave it standing among institutions throughout the west. He resigned in 1905 because of the failing health of both he and his wife. He resided in De Funiac Springs FL where he ministered to a church there. In 1907 he was appointed as a supply to West Side Methodist Church in Guthrie OK, where he served for one yr. His failing health caused his retirement.

A lengthy account of his inspirational, honest character is cited. The Dr of Divinity was an honorary degree bestowed by Illinois Wesleyan University.

The Minutes mentioned his four living children as Mrs. Mary J. Agnew, wife of Professor Walter Agnew, Dean of the School of Theology of Grant Univ. Chatanooga TN; Webb E. Baker of Guthrie OK, Lawyer and real estate agent, representing one of the largest firms in the west; Rev. James C. Baker, pastor of Trinity Church Urbana IL and Mrs. Zilpha E. Bentley, wife of Professor Bentley, professor of Latin in St. Joseph's High School, St. Joseph's MO.

Benjamin's obituaries were published in the Watseka Republican June 23 1909 and the Times Democrat June 25, 1909. Copies found at Iroquois Co. IL Historical Soc'y by A. Lackey. The obit. mentioned that Dr. Bell pastor of Watseka Mathodist Church was chosen by the family to conduct the funeral. They became close friends after Dr. Bell was converted during the greatest revival that the Sheldon Meth. Church ever had, which was conducted by Benjamin Baker. The obit. listed his moving to Fl for a yr in 1906. On returning, they moved to Guthrie OK

The obit. lists all of the children as before mentioned and added that Mary's husband was Rev. Agnew, Pres. of the MO Wesleyan Univ. at Camtron MO; (sic) Zilpha's Bentley husband was a Latin teacher.

Benjamin wrote letters home while in service. Typewritten copies are in possession of Alice Lackey and were published in 2003 by Benson Bobrick. One letter mentions the killing of his brother John in service. His mother and stepfather and several half siblings followed him to Iroquois Co. IL.

EDWIN D. LARKIN AND LUCINDA J. FELLOWS

38. Edwin D. Larkin was born Nov. 24, 1834, Memphis, Onon. Co. NY. he was the son of Maria^3 Baker (James M.^{2}, Matthew^1) and John Larkin. He died Sept. 20, 1912 in Syracuse NY. His middle initial was typed as F. on Mrs. Chas. G. Gruman's rec. of the Oakwood Cem. Syracuse, where both were buried in Lot 45, Section 9. Edwin # 14618 and Lucinda #9464. It appears that they were first buried elsewhere and moved to Oakwood.

His Larkin line was John6, Amos5, Joshua4, Joseph3, Edward2, Edward1 of Westerly, RI.

He may have m ca 1860, Helen J. ___, b. 1843, Vt. If not his wf, she was his sister since they were both living with John and Maria Larkin at the time of the 1860 census. Helen was certainly related. She is listed just below Edwin. No ch. so perh. newly mar. Edwin had real Estate of $8,500 and Personal Property of $3,500, more than the amounts listed for his father.

He married, between 1860 and 1870, Lucinda J. Fellows, born March 25, 1834, Otsego Co. NY, died Feb. 2, 1897, Syracuse. She was d/o David G. and Mary Knapp Fellows who marrid Nov. 15, 1832 at Cherry Valley area, Otsego Co. NY. David was born 1809, s/o Warner + Lucinda Fellows of Norwich, CT. The Fellows family are of a Mayflower line according to Beauchamp, p. 200. Beauchamp ~~states~~ lists Lucinda ~~was~~ as a native of Baldwinsville, NY. (See Voorhees p. 27 + p 83 #1392

Excerpt from 1908 letter written by Lorenda Knox, d/o Mary Carolyn Baker and Isaac Parker - I suppose cousin Edwin Larkin gave possession of his place today. It makes me feel lonely to think of strangers being there where he had lived so long.

Beauchamp, p. 200, states that Edwin had been a commercial traveler; was retired and residing in Syracuse in 1908.

Hinsdale of Amboy, Mrs. Sidney Blanchard of Baldwinsville, etc.

Note that Dr Larkin was Duane's bro-in-law, Mrs. Harriet Rose was nee Baker, d/o Jerome Baker and 1st couisn of Mary C. Larkin, wf of Duane. A cousin Zilpha Larkin married Sidney Blanchard.

Marcellus Weekly Observer Nov. 29, 1901 lists the sudden & unexpected death of E. Duane Sherwood. He had attended the Pan American Exposition 3 weeks prior to his death and had a bout of indigestion there. At the time of his death his house was being repaired, so he was staying at his daughter's home, Mrs. John S. Munro. He, his brother and others planned a train trip to Syracuse that day, but he went home hurriedly , expecting to be back to take the train. When he didn't arrive, Mrs. Sherwood found him in his barn, expired. He wa sborn in Camillus 28 Oct 1833, s/o Gaylord N. and Sarah (Bennett) Sherwood, being one of nine children. He attended Munro Collegiate Institute at Elbridge NY. In 1856, he moved to Bflo and entered office of Elevator of Sherwood, Bennet and Glass, til 1859, when he entered mercantile business in Memphis. In 1863, he moved to Camillus in the same line of business, retiring in 1883. His osn John L. Sherwood , now of Fayetteville, took his store. In 1887, he built and operated a chair factory in the village, on site of the present knife facory, but it burned two yrs later. After that, he looked after his three farms and other real estate. He was Pres. of the village; on Bd of Supr's 1877 and 1879. He wa sof baptist faith. He was pleasant, affable, companionable, a kind husband, an indulgent father. Heand his only brother are attached to each other. In 1857, he married Mary C. Larkin, who survives him. He is survived by two children, Mrs. John S. Munro of Camillus and john L. Sherwood of Fayetteville. He is survived by five grandchildren, Mabel, Duane, Henry Sherwood and Rosita and Sibel Munro. He is survived by a brother Charles E. Sherwood of Camillus and a sister miss Rosita Sherwood of B'flo N.Y. Funeral service by Rev. F.C. Barrett, Bapt preacher and Rev. F.L. Freeman of Canandaigua, who officiated at his marriage. Burial Oakwood Cem. Syracuse.

Gaylord[7], (Henry J.[6], Henry[5], Jonathan[4], Isaac[2],[3], Thomas[1], of Fairfield, Ct.). Gaylord was b. Fairfield, Herkimer Co. N.Y., April 18, 1805 married 1828, sister of David Bennett, died January 10, 1895 in Buffalo, N.Y. Gaylord was Pres. of Camillus Village Board 1853 and 1862. He was Chairman of the Board of Supervisors, moved to Buffalo. (Ref: Bruce, Onondaga Centennial, p. 679 and Cutter). Sarah Bennett was d/o James Bennett and Sarah Olmstead.

A Rootsweb listing of this family submitted by Ross Jones gives Gaylord's ancestry as Henry6, Jonathan5, Isaac4,3, Thos. 2,1. He lists 2 more wives of Gaylord as 2. Sarah Donnelly and 3. Sarah Munroe.

Edward Duane Sherwood went to Camillus with his father in 1827. E. Duane owned a chair factory with his son in Camillus in the 1880's. He and his brother Charles E. owned a general merchandise store in Camillus for many years which was founded by his father. He purchased property in 1866, and built a brick house 1878. The chair factory burned in Nov. 1889.
E. Duane was President (same as Mayor) of Camillus in 1894, (Dwight Hall Bruce Onon. Centennial. p 679). Listed as one of the oldest settlers, resided in village of Camillus according to Clayton's History of Onondaga Co., p. 311.

John Knox was born 8 Aug. 1848 at Nelson, NY., resided Skaneateles. They were married at Camillus, in the Baker house, 30 March 1870. They moved to Skaneateles when dau. Harriet was 2 yrs old. Lorenda described her wedding thus: I was married standing on the east side of the parlor facing toward the street, (letter). Note that John married a woman who had the same given name as his father.

> John was the s/o Rev. Loren Laertes Knox (John 4, Wm3, John2, Wm1) and his 1st wife Ann Eliza Bowen. Loren was a Methodist preacher. John´s grandfather Rev. Elias Bowen of Cortland, wrote a history of the Free Methodist Church which became standard, (Knox Geny).

I have a picture identified as John Knox; and another that appears to be the same man that was taken at Kenosha Wisc. Perhaps he lived in Wisconsin for a time.

Obituary of John Knox:
formerly a well known resident of Skaneateles, died suddenly Sunday morn. Oct. 16, 1916 in his home at Pearl River, NY, burial in Hackensack, N.J. Printed in Oct 20, paper in Central, NY. William Knox of Blandford, Mass. and his Descendants, by Nathaniel Foote of Rochester, NY, Nov. 1926, lists his death as Oct. 15.

Mr. Knox was a resident of Skaneateles from 1874 until 1892, being engaged as a dealer in boots and shoes and clothing. While here he was an active member of the M. E. Church, a trustee of the Skaneateles Savings Bank, and served as Justice of the Peace and as a member of the Board of Education. He was an active Republican.

In 1892, Mr. Knox became interested in the Dexter Folder Company, through the late Joseph C. Willets, and for 24 years had made his home in Pearl River, N.Y. where the manufacturing plant of the company is located, occupying a responsible position. He had visited Skaneateles almost every year since his removal, often accompanied by his wife or daughter.

Mr. Knox was held in high esteem by his many friends and acquaintances in Skaneateles, who regret to hear of his death.

Besides his wife, Mr. Knox leaves surviving one daughter, Dr. Harriet L. Knox of Hackensack, N.J.

Lorenda was a very thrifty lady, judging from the tone of her letters.

1908 letter- A year after her father's burial, Lorenda made a nostalgic visit to Camillus, and while there visited Mr. Larkin. (I believe she was referring to her cousin Edwin D. Larkin). She travelled by horse and wagon while in Camillus. " There is only one family of our relatives left now at Camillus after cousin Edwin sold his home in 1908."

In 1911, the magazines Housewife and Ladies World were being published. Lorenda sent a gift subscription to Mrs. Peterson who resided in the Baker house. (Knox letter)

1927 letter - "My Father (Isaac G.) took so much pains to have everything on our lot in Maplewood cemetery just to suit him." She mentioned Tilley's and their oldest sister's daughter Ella Parker Crysler. She also wrote that Mrs. Sarah Tilley and her sister Frances Tilley had just returned form a trip to Alaska and the Canadian Rockies. Mrs. *Crysler lives with her mother in Bridgeport, Ct. She mentioned The new State Highway that was being built in Camillus for auto travel.

Cole daughters or grdau

Dec. 1929 letter 80 yrs old.
"Such things as Christmas trees were uncommon in my childhood. I exercise by walking up and down on the front porch for 45 min daily. Had chilblains when a child so did not enjoy being outdoors in winter in Skaneateles."

Note the similarity of given names in family. James M. named daughter Orida"(Rinda)." Add the prefix L and one has Lorinda.

Note: A letter form Lorenda Knox early 1900's mentions Ella Parker Crysler, d/o a Tilley family and Frances and Sarah Tilley. These ~~may have been~~ were cousins since we know that Tryphenia Baker's dau. Sarah Cole m. Mr. Tilley. She also mentioned a person named Blanchard, (prob. Larkin, Mrs. Sidney Blanchard, ck out).

Eva Parker Crysler, wf of Edward W., 1858- 1907, buried Oswego Bitter cem. She came down the Tryphenia Baker + James Cole line

Letters from Lorenda Knox to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peterson who had purchased the James M. Baker house on the Bennett's Corners Rd in Camillus: Excerpts?

1924 had a colored maid.
1925 "It is a slow process for a broken hip to heal, and I have been here a little more than eight weeks, all but the first two days a prisoner in a plaster Paris cast, having to lie night and day flat on my back, unable to change my position or any part of my anatomy except my arms. It seems to me I have had the very best friends a person has had, so thoughtful to come to see me often. My room has been kept bright with lovely flowers, kind messages from those who are too far away to come. Daughter is well and comes here three times a day."
1928 "Farm work is not an easy life but one which pays in comfort and independence. I remember with great satisfaction the 24 years of my life spent on the farm that is now your home." (Baker farm)

1928 "I shall reach my seventy-ninth birthday on the 11th of April. I used to think that was very old but do not feel that way now. Have as much ambition as ever although my movements are so hampered since my accident, shall never be able to walk without a cane, but am so thankful that I can walk at all."

1928 "I well remember when we used to get a quarter of beef each winter and how anxious we used to be when the weather changed to warmer. At that time, we knew nothing about canning it, but it is such a good idea. One of our neighbors, whose father was too feeble to get out in the winter and for that reason used to kill his chickens in the fall and kept them nicely in fruit cans."

CHARLES J. COOK AND MARTHA L. WRIGHT

60. Charles J. Cook was son of Julia A. Baker (James2, Mathew1) and Alanson Cook. Charles was born March 1849 Onondaga Co. N.Y. (2 mo. old in 1850). Charles died after June 1900 census and before 1910 census, probably in Black Hawk Co. Iowa, whwere his widow Martha remained after Charles' death.

Charles J. Cook married circa 1874, probably in Iowa or possibly N.Y.S., to Martha L. Wright, born March 1847 in English Canada. Martha survived Charles and was alive 1910 in Black Hawk Co. Iowa. Their unmarried son Lewis Cook resided with Martha.

Martha was probably the d/o Leonard (b. ca 1824-28) and Betsey Wright, (1827-28) both born N.Y., both alive 1880 in East Cascade, Dubuque Co. Iowa.

Martha likely had a previous marriage to Mr. Willard, based on 1870 census and Charles Cook's step-dau. Stella, 9 yrs old, born Iowa, who resided with Charles and martha Cook as listed in 1880 census. Stella's father was born Iowa, her mother b. Canada, which links Martha as probably Stella's biological mother.

Basis for parents of Martha:
Note that Albert Wright born ca 1859 in Iowa resided with Charles and Martha Cook in 1880.

(Note that Mark was Mark Warren Wright; that The Wright family resided in Canada from abt 1845-1847, based on birth places of Mark Warren and Martha. There is also an eight yr gap between births of Martha and Ida, which might indicate that Betsey could have a second wife, or the two eldest children were Betsey's by a previous husband).

HENRIETTA M. BAKER AND HULBERT D. ROSE

61 ~~58~~. Henrietta M. Baker was the daughter of Jerome Baker (James M.2, Matthew1) and his wife Betsey/Elizabeth Evans #18. Henrietta was born 27 Feb. 1851 in the Baker house on Bennett's Corners Rd. Tn Camillus, Onondaga Co. N.Y. She died 2 December 1943 in Bridgeport CT and was buried at Oakwood Cem. Syracuse, N.Y. in Lot 62-4, Section 13, of which she and her husband were the owners. Henrietta is #24047 with her husband Hurlbert #16697. (Cem. rec).

Hulbert was buried 23 Aug. 1918. Henrietta was buried 4 Dec. 1943. Her brother James and her mother Betsey were also buried in this lot.

Dick Rose, a relative of Hulbert Rose visited the cem. in 1993 and said there was a large monument in the lot with Rose on one side and Baker on the other side. This was separate from the gravestones of Henrietta and Hulbert.

Henrietta married ca 1874 to Hulbert D. Rose who was born 10 July 1848 N.Y., died 21 Aug. 1918 Syracuse, Onondaga Co. N.Y.

Dick Rose has a letter that Hurlbert wrote on Syracuse Savings Bank stationery which mentions that his father was J. DeWitt Rose.

Hulbert D. Rose was the son of Joseph (or John) DeWitt Rose and Harriet S. Roode. J. DeWitt was born 1 March 1812 Syracuse, d. 24 Dec. 1889 Syracuse. He married 22 Feb. 1842 Syracuse N.Y. to Harriet S. Roode b. 13 Dec. 1824, Waterville, Oneida Co. N.Y., d. 23 March 1902 Syracuse, N.Y. In 1880, father J. DeWitt Rose and wife lived in Town of Onondaga, Onondaga Co., close to their son Hulbert. J.D. Rose was s/o Nathan Rose and Magdalen Wheeler. Harriet Roode was d/o Oliver Roode and Levina Munger. HULBERT D. ROSE, AUDITOR AT THE ONONDAGA COUNTY SAVINGS BANK, DIES AT 70.

Prominent Man in Banking Circles Had Been Ill Three Weeks. Funeral Tomorrow.
Hulbert D. Rose, 70, auditor for the Onondaga Co. Savings Bank, died at his home No. 621 East Fayette St. early yesterday morning after an illness of about three weeks resulting from an attack of appendicitis. His death removed from local banking circles one of the oldest workers. For more than forty years he has been in the service of the local institution, rising through various grades to the position of auditor which he held at the time of his death.

Mr. Rose was born in this city July 12, 1848. As a young man, he was employed for several years by Grant and Dunn as a bookkeeper. Later, he was employed by the banking house. He was advanced to receiving and paying teller and later to auditor. He was a nephew of the late William E. Rose who was a member of the first Board of Trustees of the institution.

Mr. Rose is survived by his widow, Henrietta M. Rose, and one daughter, Mrs. Alexander Howell of Bridgeport CT.

Another obit. 21 Aug. 1918 for Hulbert D. Rose adds additional information as follows:
During his forty yrs with the Onon. Co. Savings Bank, his wide acquaintance with the thousands of depositors had become of a personal nature and he was liked and admired by one and all.

Mr. Rose was the last of his kin to be connected with the Savings Bank. The name of Rose has always been one of importance in the bank's history. His Uncle, William E. Rose, was one of the first members of the Board of Trustees. His brother, the late Clinton T. Rose, was connected with the bank for many yrs and at the time of his death was Treasurer. Samuel Rose, a cousin, was with the bank for 25 yrs. Internment for Hulbert Rose will be in Oakwood Cem.

Mrs. Howell died Sunday in Bridgeport CT, where she had lived since moving from Syracuse 40 yrs ago. Surviving are two cousins, Mrs. Richard Cooney and Mrs. Harriet Iloff of Westport CT.

   If Lillian had any ch., they obviously died without issue. Harriet Waggoner Iloff was her first cousin. Mrs. Richard Cooney as surviving cousin doesn't make sense. Lillian's first cousin Ruth Waggoner married Frank Cooney and was alive in 1958. Ruth had a son Richard Cooney, who died in 2003, but he would be her cousin, not his wife? Was Richard Cooney's first or second wife a Rose cousin?

LILLIAN D. BAKER AND FRANK WALLRATH WAGGONER SR.

59. Lillian D. Baker was the daughter of Jerome Baker (James2, Matthew1) and his wife Betsey A. Evans #18. She was born 10 August 1855 Camillus, Onondaga Co. N.Y. in the Baker house. She died 11 Feb. 1943 in Syracuse, N.Y. and was buried in the Peter Waggoner lot in Oakwood Cemetery in Syracse, N.Y. Lot 43-47, Section 23, with her husband.

Lillian Baker married ca 1874 to Frank Wallrath Waggoner, born 8 Oct. 1851 N.Y., probably in Onondaga Co. He died suddenly 9 July 1911, age 60, Syracuse, Onondaga Co. N.Y., while on a short visit from Leonia N.J. where he lived with his only son Frank Walrath Waggoner, who was known as Wallace. He was separated from his wife at that time. Frank was the son of Peter Waggoner who was the owner of the Oakwood Cemetery lot where he was buried with his wife Harriet Downs. Frank was buried in Lot 43-47, Section 23 on 11 July 1911.

Obit. Syracuse Post Standard, Sunday 14 Feb. 1943, p. 25, col. 3. Services for Mrs. Lillian D. Waggoner, who died Thursday, were held yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Meatyard of 403 Sedgewick Drive, Rev. Alfred Rapp officiating. Bearers were Otto W. Iloff, Jerome V. Cooney, Frank W. Waggoner and Joseph M. Meatyard. Burial was in Oakwood Cemetery.

F.W. WAGGONER IS FOUND DYING.
Well-Known Plumber Succombs to Sudden Attack at Hotel.
COMES TO SYRACUSE ON VISIT.
Frank W. Waggoner, a former well-known plumber, whose family resides at 611 W. Onondaga St., died suddenly last eve. at the Jervis House on Fayette Park. The cause of death is not known, but Coroner's Physician Archer D. Babcock will investigate today.

Mr. Waggoner returned to Syracuse last week. For the last few years he had been with his son in N.J. and his return here was unexpected.

At the Jervis House last eve., he had not complained of being ill. His groans were heard and he was found unconscious. He died soon after being found.

The case was reported to the Coroner's office. The body was first taken to Hart's undertaking rooms, but moved to Fairchild and Fancher, undertakers at the request of the family.

Joseph M. Meatyard of 611 W. Onondaga St. is a son-in-law of Mr. Waggoner.

He had been with his son, Wallace Waggoner, who has been engaged in the plumbing business at Leonia, N.J. for about six years. He had been troubled with heart disease at times.

Mr. Waggoner was 60 yrs old and had been a resident of Syracuse most of his life. In 1906 he had a plumbing shop in this city. He moved to Leonia N.J. six years ago because of family differences and for his staying at the Jervis House, instead of the W. Onondaga St. home.

Surviving Mr. Waggoner are his widow, one son Wallace Waggoner; four daughters, Jessica, Ruth and Harriet Waggoner and Mrs. Joseph M. Meatyard of Syracuse; one brother Edward Waggoner of Jersey City N.J.
Arrangements have not been completed for the funeral service.

Jerome was listed between the Skeele and the Rappalye families.

Lillian was probably living in Syracuse in 1911 when her husband died. Her daughters were not yet married. They married later to Syracuse men.

Lillian visited her cousin Lorenda Knox in Hackensack N.J. in Oct. 1924. Lillian was then living in an apartment in East Orange N.J. with her daughter who was a teacher in Newark. This was probably Jessica. Lorenda identifies Lillian as daughter of her Uncle Jerome Baker. (Lorenda Knox letter).

Dec. 29 1929, Loranda wrote that her cousin Lillie Waggoner is suffering from injuries received in a trolley accident on the Baldwinsville trolley car and has had some disablement for thirty years or more. Lillie was keeping house for her daughter in 1929 who had been a teacher in a Newark school for 25 yrs. Lorneda mentioned that Lillie had three married daughters in Syracuse and one son in Y.W.L. work in Brooklyn, N.Y.

Lillian's grandson Richard W. Cooney said that Lillian and Jessica moved back to Syracuse where they both lived in nursing homes, (ph. convers. Nov. 2001).

HULBERT D. ROSE, AUDITOR AT THE ONONDAGA COUNTY SAVINGSBANK, DIES AT 70.

Prominent Man in Banking Circles Had Been Ill Three Weeks. Funeral Tomorrow.
Hulbert D. Rose, 70, auditor for the Onondaga Co. Savings Bank, died at his home No. 621 East Fayette St. early yesterday morning after an illness of about three weeks resulting from an attack of appendicitis. His death removed from local banking circles one of the oldest workers. For more than forty years he has been in the service of the local institution, rising through various grades to the position of auditor which he held at the time of his death.

Mr. Rose was born in this city July 12, 1848. As a young man, he was employed for several years by Grant and Dunn as a bookkeeper. Later, he was employed by the banking house. He was advanced to receiving and paying teller and later to auditor. He was a nephew of the late William E. Rose who was a member of the first Board of Trustees of the institution.

Mr. Rose is survived by his widow, Henrietta M. Rose, and one daughter, Mrs. Alexander Howell of Bridgeport CT.

Another obit. 21 Aug. 1918 for Hulbert D. Rose adds additional information as follows:
During his forty yrs with the Onon. Co. Savings Bank, his wide acquaintance with the thousands of depositors had become of a personal nature and he was liked and admired by one and all.

Mr. Rose was the last of his kin to be connected with the Savings Bank. The name of Rose has always been one of importance in the bank's history. His Uncle, William E. Rose, was one of the first members of the Board of Trustees. His brother, the late Clinton T. Rose, was connected with the bank for many yrs and at the time of his death was Treasurer. Samuel Rose, a cousin, was with the bank for 25 yrs. Internment for Hulbert Rose will be in Oakwood Cem.

MRS. LILLIAN R. HOWELL, Bridgeport CT.
Rites for former Syracusan, Mrs. Lillian Rose Howell, 83 will be held tomorrow at Fairchild & Meech Funeral Chapel, the Rev. John N. Hber officiating. Burial will be in Oakwood Cem. Mrs. Howell died Sunday in Bridgeport CT, where she had lived since moving from Syracuse 40 yrs ago. Surviving are two cousins, Mrs. Richard Cooney and Mrs. Harriet Iloff of Westport CT.

If Lillian had any ch., they obviously died without issue. Harriet Waggoner Iloff was her first cousin. Mrs. Richard Cooney as surviving cousin doesn't make sense. Lillian's first cousin Ruth Waggoner married Frank Cooney and was alive in 1958. Ruth had a son Richard Cooney, alive in 2001, but he would be her cousin, not his wife?

LILLIAN D. BAKER AND FRANK WALLRATH WAGGONER

56. Lillian D. Baker was born ca 1856 Camillus, Onondaga Co. N.Y. in the Baker house. She died 11 Feb. 1943 in Syracuse, N.Y. and was buried in Oakwood Cemetery in Syracse. She was the daughter of Jerome Baker (James2, Matthew1) and his wife Betsey A. Evans.

Obit. Syracuse Post Standard, Sunday 14 Feb. 1943, p. 25, col. 3. Services for Mrs. Lillian D. Waggoner, who died Thursday, were held yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Meatyard of 403 Sedgewick Drive, Rev. Alfred Rapp officiating. Bearers were Otto W. Iloff, Jerome V. Cooney, Frank W. Waggoner and Joseph M. Meatyard. Burial was in Oakwood Cemetery.

Lillian Baker married ca 1874 to Frank Wallrath Waggoner, born 8 Oct. 1851 N.Y., probably in Onondaga Co. He died suddenly 9 July 1911, age 60, Syracuse, Onondaga Co. N.Y., while on a short visit from Leonia N.J. where he lived with his only son Frank Walrath Waggoner, who was known as Wallace. He was separated from his wife at that time. He was the son of Peter Waggoner and Harriet Downs.

Syracuse Post Standard Mon. 10 July 1911, p. 6, Col. 3.
F.W. WAGGONER IS FOUND DYING.
Well-Known Plumber Succombs to Sudden Attack at Hotel.
COMES TO SYRACUSE ON VISIT.
Frank W. Waggoner, a former well-known plumber, whose family resides at 611 W. Onondaga St., died suddenly last eve. at the Jervis House on Fayette Park. The cause of death is not known, but Coroner's Physician Archer D. Babcock will investigate today.

Mr. Waggoner returned to Syracuse last week. For the last few years he had been with his son in N.J. and his return here was unexpected.

At the Jervis House last eve., he had not complained of being ill. His groans were heard and he was found unconscious. He died soon after being found.

The case was reported to the Coroner's office. The body was first taken to Hart's undertaking rooms, but moved to Fairchild and Fancher, undertakers at the request of the family.

Joseph M. Meatyard of 611 W. Onondaga St. is a son-in-law of Mr. Waggoner.

assume from letter of 1959

Waggoner [illegible]

He had been with his son, Wallace Waggoner, who has been engaged in the plumbing business at Leonia, N.J. for about six years. He had been troubled with heart disease at times.

Mr. Waggoner was 60 yrs old and had been a resident of Syracuse most of his life. In 1906 he had a plumbing shop in this city. He moved to Leonia N.J. six years ago because of family differences and for his staying at the Jervis House, instead of the W. Onondaga St. home.

Surviving Mr. Waggoner are his widow, one son Wallace Waggoner; four daughters, Jessica, Ruth and Harriet Waggoner and Mrs. Joseph M. Meatyard of Syracuse; one brother Edward Waggoner of Jersey City N.J.
Arrangements have not been completed for the funeral service.

1880, 7 June census, Syracuse Onondaga Co. N.Y. 7th Ward FHL 1254908; Nat'l Arch. T9-0908. (p.92, Sup'r Dist. 8, E.D. 218). p.405C. E. Fayette St. House 92, Dwelling 130, family visit 211.

Waller Waggoner, grandson, 5 yrs b. N.Y., both parents b. N.Y.; Jesse Waggoner, granddau. 1 yr b. N.Y., both parents b. N.Y.
Jerome was listed between the Skeele and the Rappalye families.

Lillian was probably still living in Syracuse in 1911 when her husband died. Her daughters were not yet married. They married later to Syracuse men.

Lillian resided at East Orange, N.J. in an apartment with her daughter Jessica in Oct. 1924 as Mrs. Waggoner. (Knox letter). She or someone close to her was injured about 1899 on the Baldwinsville trolley car and had some disablement lasting for some thirty yrs. Lillie was keeping house for her daughter in 1929 and lived near enough to Hackensack N.J. to visit her cousin Lorenda Knox.

Lillian's grandson Richard W. Cooney said that Lillian and Jessica moved back to Syracuse where they both lived in nursing homes, (ph. convers. Nov. 2001).

One of the daughters of Lillian resided at East Orange, N.J.; was a teacher at Newark N.J. from about 1904 to at least 1929. Three of her married daughters resided in Syracuse. (1929 Knox letter).

Gen. 4.

SAMUEL HENRY BAKER AND ADA EMELIE CHICK

72. Samuel Henry Baker was the son of Henry J. Baker, (James M.[2], Matthew[1]) and Fannie Amelia Stevens, (Henry's obit.). Samuel was born in Town of Camillus, Onondaga Co. N.Y on 26 Sept. 1856, died 21 July 1915, Village of 10 Mile S. Thompsons, Grand Co. Utah, near Green River. Samuel's body was shipped to Springfield MO for burial in Hazelwood Cemetery, (death Certif.; sister Fannie Baker's bible). Samuel's wife Ada Baker and his sister-in-law and brother-in-law, Herbert and Harriet (Chick) Hill were also buried there.

A biography of Samuel's son Clarence, at University of Illinois, lists his father Samuel as born 26 Sept. 1857.

Utah, Grand Co. Death Certificate 26, File 8a. Township Thompson, Village 10 Mile S. Thompsons.
Samuel H. Baker, birth date and place unknown, d. 21 July 1915, age 65, parents unknown, occupation a miner, untreated by any physician. Cause of death was probably Heart Failure, resided in Utah four months, resided at place of death four months, former residence Denver CO, died in wagon going out to his mine. L.H. Green, Coroner, signed July 26 1915, Elgin Utah. Burial Springfield MO. Informant Thos. ?Wineman, Green River Utah, Undertaker B. VanderSchut, Price Utah.

Samuel's death appears to have been sudden. Note that the Coroner was involved.

Samuel's sister, Fannie Baker's bible listed Samuel's death as 21 July 1915, Green River, Utah. Samuel was listed in Denver Colorado in 1910 census and 1913 City Directory.

Rev. Kerr Boyce Tupper, D.D. L.L.D., a famous Baptist preacher of Philadelphia PA, but formerly of Denver CO, where he was Samuel H. Baker's Pastor for eight years, wrote a typed Tribute/Eulogy to Samuel Baker. This tribute was found in Samuel's sister Fannie Baker's bible. The bible is held in 2010, by descendant Betsy (Baker) Leonard.
Samuel H. Baker was ushered into time in Camillus, N.Y. on September 26th 1856 and was translated into into glory near Green River, Utah, on July 21, 1915. Samuel married Miss Ada E. Chick in 1881, had a son Clarence, now a professor in the Taylorville, Illinois schools.

Samuel was the first Principal of the now famous Pillsbury Academy in Owatonna, Minnesota. He moved to Colorado, became Sup't of the Canon City Schools, while studying law and was admitted to the bar, there. Samuel moved to Denver in 1887, where he resided for a quarter of a century.

The tribute continues with a glowing resume of Samuel's character and his Baptist faith, as well as his wife Ada's devotion to Samuel. Samuel was a Trustee of the First Baptist Church of Denver. He was also a melodious speaker at conventions, educational and religious. Samuel was described as a noble husband and father. (Thanks to Samuel Baker's descendant Betsy Leonard for sharing this tribute and Fannie Baker's bible.

Note that the Minnesota Academy was a Baptist school formed in 1874 at Rochester MN. The school prepared students before entering college. Samuel was Principal there in Fall of 1877 when he was only 20 yrs old and in the Spring of 1878. He was Bachelor of Arts, Principal in Fall of 1879 and Spring of 1880. He was Principal from Spring of 1877 to Spring of 1880 inclusive, (3 yrs). Information from Ron Houghtelin email rone@ll.net in 2005. Isreal De Wolf became Principal in Fall of 1880-Spring of 1883. In October 1886, the school became Pillsbury Academy in honor of the Pillsbury family of pillsbury Flour fame, who contributed a substantial sum to the school. In 1930 it was a Military Academy, later becoming a seminary to train church workers for the Baptist Church.

Samuel's future wife, Ada Chick was a student at the Minnesota Academy, Steele Co. Historical Society; email Nancy; info@steelecohistoricalsociety.org, 2005.

Samuel's father, Henry J. Baker's lengthy obituary was published in Chicago IL, in "The Standard", a Baptist weekly newspaper, for the week of May 5, 1900, which listed Henry's father (d. April 11), as James Millard Baker of Camillus N.Y., and Henry's son Samuel H. Baker, a lawyer of Denver Colorado, who gained the degree of Master of Arts, as did Henry's dau. Fannie.

Samuel and Ada Baker's dates of birth were listed in his son Clarence's biography in the Alumni Record of 1913, University of Illinois.

Samuel H. Baker married Ada Emelie Chick 13 Sept. 1881, in Owatonna Minnesota, (Fannie Baker bible).

Last rites for Miss Fannie A. Baker, 93, were conducted Sunday in the First baptist Church of Tahlequah ....

A notable example of Miss Baker's missionary interest is that of a mission school in Ongole India. A girl;s school was established there the yr=ear that she was born, and her mother became interested init through the missionary society of the Central Baptist Church in Syracuse, N.Y. During the time of Adonram Judson, Miss Baker'sfirst cousin James Millard Baker went to Ongole as a missionary and served 25 yrs. Since the death of her mother in 1907, Miss Baker has sent quarterly donations to this mission.

Fannie Anna Baker was born in Camillus NY, July 1 1867. Her parents were Henry James and Frances Amelia Baker. They were living with Miss Baker in Ft Smith when they died. Her only brother Samuel Henry Baker was nine yrs her senior and died in 1915. His only son Clarence James Baker was dear to "Aunt Fannie" and she made the trip to Chicago, at the time of his passing, in 1937. His survivors are Herbert Douglas Baker and Marian Baker Greulick. Their four children Miss Baker loved from afar. (Herbert's ch), Barbara, Douglas and Betsy Baker of Tulsa, accompanied by their mother, Mrs. Jessie Lee Baker, attended the funeral. Since 1938, when Miss Baker broke a hip, travelling ......

Miss baker's early education started with her mother, a former teacher. It is recorded that she once said, "Fannie perplexes me - I need help ....
While a child the family moved west- attracted by new country and a change of climate for Samuel, plagued by asthma. In owatonna MN, Fannie entered the public schools; but the family didn't like the place, so all except Samuel returned to Syracuse. There Fannie finished preparatory school. Again the family made the trek west - this time to Lincoln,Neb. Fannie Anna attended the U. of Neb., receiving her Bachelor af Arts degree in 1891. She took a position in a Baptist college at grand Junction, Neb.; but soon changed to a public high school nearer the univ. She attended classes during the summer - graduating with a Master's degree in 1897. To move her ailing parents to a warmer clime, Miss baker accepted a position as a foreign language teacher in the Ft Smith high school. She was the only teacher there at that time with a master's degree.

After 20 yrs at the Arkansas school Miss Baker joined the faculty of Northeastern State College in 1921. She was retired in 1948, with the title "Profeesor Emeritus". In 1951, another title was bestowed upon her - "Faculty Advisor Emeritis" - by the Baptist Student Union, for her 25 yrs of service as faculty advisor.

Betsy (Baker/Koeppel) Leonard wrote that Fannie could speak 5 languages, Choctaw fluently. She worked at Indian schools, prob. lived at Tahlequah OK. Fannie was related to Betsy's father Herbert Douglas Baker in some way, believed to be a great Aunt.
Fannie is listed on roster of the State Historical Soc'y. Where, OK? Betsy thinks she was on staff at Northeastern State College (in Tahlequah OK. This is correct.
A scholarship was established in her name at Northeastern called the Fannie Baker memorial Scholarship; funded in 1983 in her memory. It supports students involved in the Baptist Student Ministries. Betsy wrote that her elder sister Barbara has Fannie's bible, but it does not have much family info. in it.
Betsy's mother and sister visited Fannie in hospital in Tahlequah shortly before her death.

When and where did Fannie learn the Choctaw language.
She did teach a classical language, acc. to a newspaper article.

EDWARD HINSDALE BAKER AND WIVES BEAN AND PALMER

14 ~~14~~ 53 ~~41.~~ Edward Hinsdale Baker was the s/o Charles. A. (James M.2, Matt.1), born May 28, 1860, Camillus, NY, died Apr 14, 1927, 60 Bruce Ave., Yonkers, NY, of stomach cancer. Buried Baldwinsville, NY in Bingham family plot, that of his 2nd wife´s family. (See middle name of their child).

Edward married first, Oct. 25, 1887, Georgia Bean, at 370 Niagara St., Buffalo, N.Y. by Rev. John H. Griffith. She was born Nov. 5, 1859, poss. in Canada. She died one yr after marriage, July 18, 1888, Buffalo, NY in childbirth.

Georgia was a member of the Washington St. Baptist Church in Buffalo. This church was located on the N.E. corner of Washington and Seneca St. in 1829, later was on E. side of Washington St., n. of Swan St. The present church building was built in 1900 and is located North and N. Pearl St. Her death recorded this church, age 28, publ. Western NY Genealogical Society Newsletter, V16 #3, Dec. 1987, p. 115.

> She was probably related to George A. Bean and Esther Read who were married Jany 16, 1857, St. Paul´s Episcopal Church, Bflo, NY, # 53, p. 58 of church record. They may have been her parents. A search of B´flo City Dir. 1861-70 lists George A. Bean as a tinsmith working for Rand and Felthousen, later called Felthousen and Russell at 113 Main St., Tremont House. Charles Bean worked for same firm in 1870. William Bean appears in 1870 at the same address as George. Other Bean in the various directories were: Dixon, William M., William, 2 Johns, Mrs. Eliza, Thomas, Heman L., Mrs. Mary, William A, William T.

Marriage date proves Edward was in Buffalo at time of Baker Bros. meat market partnership. In July 1888, he resided at 236 Maryland St.

Edward married second, Apr 14, 1909, May Whiting Palmer, at 790 N. Broadway, Yonkers, N.Y. by Rev. T. W. Cutler and Rev. C. L. Rhoades. Married just 9 days before his father died. She d. March 20, 1963. (great scott did Charles A. have stroke because son getting mar?

EDWARD HINSDALE BAKER AND WIVES BEAN AND PALMER

74 35 ~~34~~. Edward Hinsdale Baker was the s/o Charles. A. (James M., Matt.), born May 28, 1860, Camillus, NY, died Apr 14, 1927, 60 Bruce Ave., Yonkers, NY, of stomach cancer. Buried Baldwinsville, NY in Bingham family plot, that of his 2nd wife's family. (See middle name of their child).

Edward married first, Oct. 25, 1887, Georgia Bean, at 370 Niagara St., Buffalo, N.Y. by Rev. John H. Griffith. She was born Nov. 5, 1859, poss. in Canada. She died one yr after marriage, July 18, 1888, Buffalo, NY in childbirth.

Georgia was a member of the Washington St. Baptist Church in Buffalo. This church was located on the N.E. corner of Washington and Seneca St. in 1829, later was on E. side of Washington St., n. of Swan St. The present church building was built in 1900 and is located North and N. Pearl St. Her death recorded this church, age 28, publ. Western NY Genealogical Society Newsletter, V16 #3, Dec. 1987, p. 115.

> She was probably related to George A. Bean and Esther Read who were married Jany 16, 1857, St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Bflo, NY, # 53, p. 58 of church record. They may have been her parents. A search of B'flo City Dir. 1861-70 lists George A. Bean as a tinsmith working for Rand and Felthousen, later called Felthousen and Russell at 113 Main St., Tremont House. Charles Bean worked for same firm in 1870. William Bean appears in 1870 at the same address as George. Other Bean in the various directories were: Dixon, William M., William, 2 Johns, Mrs. Eliza, Thomas, Heman L., Mrs. Mary, William A, William T.

Gen. 4.

EDWARD HINSDALE BAKER AND WIVES GEORGIA BEAN AND MAY WHITING PALMER

74. Edward Hinsdale Baker was the s/o Charles. A. Baker, (James M.2, Matt.1) and wife Mary Hinsdale #20. Edward was born May 28, 1860, Camillus, NY, died Apr 14, 1927, 60 Bruce Ave., Yonkers, NY, of stomach cancer. He was buried in Baldwinsville, NY in the Bingham family plot, that of May Palmer's family. (See middle name of their child).

Edward married first, on Oct. 25, 1887, to Georgia Bean, at 370 Niagara St., Buffalo, N.Y. by Rev. John H. Griffith. Georgia was born November 5, 1859, died one year after marriage, in childbirth. A list of deaths 1881-1890 of the Buffalo Baptist Association, included deaths at other churches. Baker, Georgia Bean, died 18 July 1888, age 28, Washington St., Buffalo, N.Y. This indicates the Washington St. Baptist Church records. My old notes indicate that this church was located on the N.E. corner of Washington and Seneca St. in 1829, later was on E. side of Washington St., north of Swan St. The present church building was built in 1900 and is located at North and N. Pearl St. (Ref: Western N.Y. Genealogical Society Newsletter, V.16 #3, Dec. 1987, p.115. I do not have p. 114).

Grandson Justin Baker, now deceased, had possession of an elaborate marriage certificate for Edward H. Baker and Georgia Bean, by Rev. John A. Griffith, on Oct. 25, 1887, Buffalo, N.Y. Certificate now held by Justin's son.

Edward's marriage date proves Edward was in Buffalo at time of Baker Bros. Meat Market was in business. In July 1888, Edward resided at 236 Maryland St. (Ref: Bflo City Directory).

www.wnylegacy.org, Western N.Y. Legacy, Buffalo addresses and families researched by Elise Baker Aug. 2010, lists year: 1887, 370 Niagara st. George Bean (alphabetical list).
1888 Buffalo addresses and families. P.111 aka p.117; 236 Maryland St., cross St. was Whitney Place, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Baker and Mr. and Mrs. E.H. Baker. This was surely Edward H. Baker and wife Georgia Bean, living with her parents.

Thus, Georgia Bean was likely daughter of George A. Bean b. ca 1830/32 England, and his wife Esther Read/Reed/Reid. Georgia's grandfather may have been Adonijah Reed/Reid, born ca 1802/4, Vermont or Maine, who married 1836, Eliza Clark, in Hamburg, N.Y.

George A. Bean and Esther Read were married January 16, 1857, #53, p.58; St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Buffalo, N.Y., (Ref: FHC reel 928705, Buffalo). A search of B'flo City Dir. 1861-

Georgia
b. 1859

70 lists George A. Bean as a tinsmith working for Rand and Felthousen, later called Felthousen and Russell, at 113 Main St., Tremont House. Charles Bean worked for the same firm in 1870. William Bean appears in 1870 at the same address as George.

Adonijah's son Emmons Reed may have been in IL May/June 1857. Emmons Reed, 30, b. NY, was in Owatonna, Steele Co. MN Territory on 21 Sept. 1857, with wf Calista L. 27 b. NY, Frank L. 4 b. NY, Leroy 3 months b. IL.
In 1860 Emmons Reed, 34 b. NY, a butcher, and wf Calista, 30, b. NY, sons Frank 5, Leroy 3, both b. NY, were in Hamburg, N.Y., P.O. White's Corners.

Note that Owatonna MN was where Henry James Baker and a relative of the Millard family, resided for awhile. Henry was Uncle of Edward Hinsdale Baker.

By 1870 census, Sardinia, Erie Co. N.Y., P.O. Boston, p. 12 & 13, p. 523 stamped, Emmons Reed's wife Calista, now listed as Freeman, 42 b. NY, was remarried to Frank Freeman, 35 b. NY, because her sons Frank Reed, 16 b. NY, and LeRoy E. Reed, 13 yrs b. MN, were in household, as well as Cora A. Freeman, 3 yrs b. N.Y.

George Beam (sic), 69 yrs, b. August 1830, Eng, x3, Immigrated 1837, 63 yrs in US, Merchant, rents house, wife Esther 64, b. NY VT NY, bore 2 ch, 0 alive, both married 44 yrs, (ca 1856), adopted dau. Emma Greger, 23 yrs, b. ca 1878, NY, both par. b. Germany.

Edward H. Baker married second, April 14, 1909 to May Whiting Palmer, at 790 N. Broadway, Yonkers, N.Y. by Rev. T. W. Cutler and Rev. C. L. Rhoades. They married just 9 days before his father died. May was born ___, at ___, d/o ____. May died March 20, 1963 and was buried in Camillus according to Marilyn Gandenberger, but may have been buried in Baldwinsville with husband, I suspect. The Palmer family was from Dryden, N.Y. according to Marilyn (Baker) Gandenberger.

An obituary for May's mother Mrs. Frances A. Palmer was published Friday, June 26, 1914, in the Syracuse Journal. Frances, died Thursday, (25th), at her home in Yonkers. She was a member of a prominent pioneer family of the town of Van Buren. She was formerly of Van Buren. She was born in Coventry, Conn. being one of five children. In 1866, she married Joseph H. Palmer, of Yonkers, who was then a professor in New York University. He died several years ago. Mrs. Palmer is survived by three children, Mrs. Edward H. Baker, F.H. Palmer and H.H. Palmer, and four step-children, all named i the article. She was prominent in th elife of Onondaga Co. .... etc. She was a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

Edward was an amateur wrestler and boxer in his early days, (Ref: Contending The grade In India).

1874, Feb. 15, Edward joined Medina, N.Y., Baptist Church, (Ref: Contending The Grade in India, by J.M. Baker).

1880 census Edward Baker and his brother Charles were tallied twice. They were tallied in Shelby, Orleans Co. N.Y. with their parents and also in Camillus, Onondaga Co. N.Y.

1880 8 June, census, Shelby, Orleans Co. N.Y., p. 293, Charles A. Baker 43 yrs, b. N.Y., father born VT, mother born N.Y. Wife Mary 43 yrs. born N.Y., both parents born N.Y. Children Edward 20 yrs, Charles. H. 16 yrs, James 13 yrs, Florence 4 yrs all b. N.Y. and both parents born N.Y. Charles and James attending school.

1880 census, Camillus, Onondaga Co. N.Y., E.D. 161, Sup'r Dist. 8, Henry LeRoy, Enumerator, p. 18, house 154, Family 160.
Edward H. Baker, 20 yrs and Charles H. Baker, 16 yrs, both single, farmers, brothers, both parents b. N.Y.
They were operating a farm belonging to their father in Camillus, N.Y. Next neighbor Geo. (W?) Baker, no relationship found to date.

Edward was in Buffalo by 1887, the time of his marriage. Edward, in partnership with his brother Charles H. appears in Buffalo City Directory in connection with the meat market in 1891, 1895, and 1896, at 31/32 Elk St.

Edward is listed as a butcher in 1890/1, residing over 33 Bennett St. From 1894-1897, he resided at 297 Riley St. Edward, whose wife died in 1888, does not appear in the Directory after 1897. This is apparently when he returned to Medina to live.

Albert Baker was also listed in the directory with Baker Bros., residing at 706 Ellicott St. in 1896-1897. I don't know how Albert was related. He was still listed with the meat market in 1898 and residing at 39 Herman St. It would appear that Albert purchased the market from Edward.

> Note that an Albert Baker was associated with Henry Jerome Baker in Claremont, Dodge Co. Minnesota in 1880, but I don't know if could be the same Albert.

1889, Aug. 8, Baldwinsville Gazette And Farmer's Journal.

CHARLES HENRY BAKER AND NELLIE LOUISA COLLINS

75 ~~61~~. Charles Henry^4 was the son of Charles A.^{3} Baker (James M.^{2}, Matthew^1) and Mary Hinsdale. He was born March 18, 1864, in Camillus, Onondaga Co. N.Y. new ¶ Brooklyn, Kings Co. N.Y. Death Certificate #976 lists Charles' death at 12 o'clock on January 30, 1903 at age 38 yrs, 10 months, 12 days. Charles died at his home at 261 Prospect Place, Brooklyn, Kings Co. N.Y. He was born born U.S. The causes of death were Diabetes Mellitis, (before insulin was discovered); Angina Pectoris; Cardiac Aethenia. His home was listed as a tenement, which meant that more than two families resided there. (Prospect Place was a very nice neighborhood at that time). His occupation was listed as Treasurer. He had resided in the City of N.Y. for ten yrs (since ca 1893). His parents were listed as Charles A. and Mary Baker, both born in U.S. He was attended from Jan. 10 to Jan. 30 1903 by Herbert C. Allen, M.D. who resided 304 Clermont Ave. Brooklyn. He was buried 1 Feb. 1903 in Evergreen Cem., Whispering Grove Section, Lot 137, B'klyn. F. E. Pouch was Undertaker, who res. 305 Adams St. B'klyn. Charles' wife Nellie was buried beside him in 1933. It was her mother's plot.

Marriage Certif. #3924. Charles H. Baker married Nellie L. Collins in Brooklyn on Sept. 14, 1892 at 49 Cranberry St., (the home of Nellie's mother), by Rev. Howard S. Bliss Ass't Pastor of Plymouth Church. Bliss resided at 6 Middagh St. This was the first marriage for both of them. Charles was 28 years old, born Camillus, N.Y., parents Charles A. Baker and wife Mary Hinsdale. Nellie L. Collins was listed as 21 years (for birth ca 1871 which is probably incorrect). Her birth was listed as Brooklyn N.Y. Her parents were listed as William Collins and wife Nellie Gaylord. The residence of Charles was Buffalo, N.Y., occupation Bookkeeper. Nellie's sister Edith Collins and her future husband John C. Davidson witnessed Nellie's marriage.

The Plymouth Church was on Orange near Hicks St. at one time. This church is now called Plymouth Church of The Pilgrims and the church still owns property at 56 Cranberry St.

Nellie Collins was born 16 Dec. 1866 Brooklyn, N.Y. according to her father William T. Collins' 1898 Civil War Pension papers. He listed his wife's maiden name as Nellie Louise Gaylord. Official B'klyn births are not available for 1866. Nellie's only sibling was Edith W. Collins.

Brooklyn Death Certif. #14722. Nellie Collins died as Nellie B. Fisher at three A.M. on July 14 1933 at 449 E. 25th St. B'klyn, Kings Co. N.Y., a private house. Her age was listed as 60 yrs, 6 mo., 28 days. She was a lifelong resident of N.Y.C. She was the wife of John C. Fisher and was a housewife. Death was caused by Chronic Myocarditis, Congestive Heart Failure, Generalized Oedema. Contributary cause was Arteriosclerosis. Duration of illness was 2 yrs. Nellie's birth was listed as 16 Dec. 1872 B'klyn, N.Y. Her parents were listed as William C. Collins and Louise Gaylor, both born U.S. Dr. Judson P. Pendleton, of 125 Park Place attended her from Jan. 20 to July 14 1933. (He was physician to the family for many years, including this author when a small child). The undertaker was Frank H. Pouch and Son of 95 Sixth Ave. Brooklyn. Burial Permit #1951. Buried Evergreen Cem. July 17, 1933. Section Whispering Grove, Lot 137.

I, Jackie (Baker) Humphrey was 7 yrs old when my grandmother Nellie Fisher died. I resided with my beloved grandmother and I remember the day of her death very well. As soon as Nellie died, my Aunt Ruth Baker evicted me from the house. My father was temporarily out of the State. I knew where my mother was living and walked quite a distance to her abode. I had to cross busy Flatbush Ave. with trolley cars and heavy traffic to get there. That situation is another story in itself.

Note that Nellie's father's middle initial was incorrect in her death certificate. His correct middle initial was T. Her year of birth is also believed to be incorrect here. Neither she or her sister Edith were listed in 1872 B'klyn birth records, although not all births were registered in those days.

> Brooklyn, Kings Co. N.Y. Birth Register, p.76, April 1869 lists an unnamed daughter born 1 April 1869 in B'klyn to William T. Collins, (occupation Agent), and his wife Nellie L. Gaylord, who were both born in the U.S. They resided at 268 Bridge St. B'klyn. The Physician at this birth was F.Y. Colton.
> This date is very close to the April 1, 1868 birth date that William T. Collins listed as birth date of his daughter Edith on his Civil War Pension papers, except that the year was off by one digit.

Edith Collins was said to have been born 31 March 1872 by her grandson John Howard Jr. Edith's Brooklyn marriage certificate #5073, listed her as age 20 in Nov. 1892 for birth ca 1872.

Nellie's father William T. Collins was born ca 1844, Brooklyn N.Y. (census and pension papers), but he was possibly born in Manhattan. William T. Collins died 23 January 1901 Brooklyn, Kings Co. N.Y. Death certificate #1787, very poor copy, He was listed as 54 yrs, born N.Y., a lifelong resident of N.Y.C. Cause of death Exhaustion and Apoplexy. His occupation was Canvasser. His parents, both born U.S. were listed as unknown. He was listed as married, but this is incorrect. (He was living with Mrs. Spicer, who later deposed that they were not married; see Civil War pension papers which list why Spicer was not entitled to his pension. She was probably the informant for the above death certificate). William was treated from Jan. __ 1901 to Jan. 23 1901 by Dr. Allford or Dr. A.M. Ford of 192 Union St. William Collins last address was 78 Carroll St. Bklyn, a tenement where six families resided. Tenement meant that more than two families resided in the building. (Ref: 1850 and 1880 census; Civil War Pension papers; Nellie's death certificate). William was buried with his Collins parents and grandmother Gertrude Von Vultee in Lot 1934, Section 67, Greenwood Cem. 500 25th St. B'klyn, N.Y. 11232-1755. Gertrude purchased the plot.

Reck Pension date.

William T. Collins made a deposition about 1898 for a Civil War Pension, Certificate Claim #945158). William deposed that he was married 28 Aug. 1865 in Brooklyn by Rev. Adam McClanlend, Presbyterian Preacher, to Nellie Louise Gaylord. They were divorced 31 May 1878 in Brooklyn by Judge George G. Reynolds of Brooklyn City Court. He did not remarry or have any other children except for his daughters Nellie and Edith Collins. His Pension papers listed him as alias the William H. Mayo who served in N.Y. Militia, Co. C, 84th Reg't of Infantry. It is also listed as N.Y.N.G. Inf. (Does that mean National Guard)?
William T. Collins was a descendant of immigratn William Bradford, Mayflower passenger in 1620 and Gov. of Plymouth Colony (Massachusetts) for some 30 years.

I find William and Nellie Collins together in 1880 census in B'klyn. Must try to obtain the divorce record for true date.

Nellie's mother Nellie Louisa Gaylor aka/Gaylord, was usually called Louise. She was born ca 1847/8 in Albany, Albany Co. N.Y. (Ref: age 3 in 1850 census Albany, age 7 in 1855 census Buffalo N.Y.; her 2nd and 3rd marr. certif.; her death certif.).
(Ref; William's own deposition for Civil War Pension papers Certif. Claim #945158).

Death Certif. #21274. Nellie Louise Gaylor died as a married woman, Nellie L. Caldwell on 2 Nov. 1904 Brooklyn, Kings Co. N.Y., at her private house at 33 Prospect Place. Her age was given as 46 yrs, 5 months, 17 days, born Albany, N.Y. She had resided in N.Y.C. for 35 yrs. Cause of death was Uraemic Coma due to Chronic Nephritis. Her parents were listed as Hiram Gaylor and wife Sarah Weaver, both born U.S. Physician was Ira H. Bates who resided 137 Clinton St. She was buried 5 November 1904 in Evergreen Cemetery in Brooklyn. Undertaker F.E. Pouch 305 Adams St. (Burial Whispering Grove Section, Lot 137). (For her true age, see above from census record).

Please note that her mother's family was known as Gaylor, early in the 1820's in Montgomery Co. N.Y.; in Albany N.Y. 1850 census; in Buffalo, N.Y. in 1855 census; in 1856 in Buffalo when Nellie Gaylor/Gaylord's father Hiram died there. By the time that Hiram Gaylor's widow Sarah (Weaver) Gaylor died and was buried as Gaylor in B'ooklyn in 1865, some of her children were known as Gaylord according to Greenwood Cem. records. Thus, Nellie L. Gaylor, mother of Nellie L. Collins, may well have been known as Gaylord when she married William T. Collins.

Complicating the search for Nellie L. Collins Baker's true date of birth, their first child, Homer, was born in Buffalo on June 8, 1893, with Nellie's age looking like 22, a strike-over, difficult to read, which would be about 1870 since her birthday was in December. Her death certificate lists her death July 14, 1933, 60 yrs, 6 mo., 28 days which calculates to birth on Dec 16, 1872, which cannot be correct. At the time of Nellie Collins second marriage to the younger Fisher on June 22, 1910, she gave her age as 35, for birth about 1874. John C. Fisher, gives his age as 34. Nellie was truly a few years older than Fisher.

added Sept p 79

On the 1900 census, which listed much family misinformation, Nellie Collins Baker was listed as born 1871, age 29 (or 28 or 27, see strikeover). Her sister Edith Collins Davidson was listed as 26 yrs b. May 1874. They all resided with their mother and step-father.

error see p 280

On the 1910 census Nellie Baker was a widow, operating a boarding house, listed as age 35 for birth ca 1875.

I suspect that the sisters Nellie and Edith, were listing themselves as younger than their true ages, because their mother was also listing her age as younger when she married her second and third husbands, who were younger than the mother. The mother bacame younger with each marriage. Oh, what a tangled web we weave....

When Nellie's sister Edith Collins was married in November 1892, she and her husband to be, were both listed as residing at 49 Cranberry St. This was where Nellie's mother lived as the wife and also as the widow of her second husband Edward Augustus Clark, who died 26 January 1892, (Ref: Bklyn City Dir. 1892, 1893; Clark's Brooklyn Death certif. #1606). Witnesses to Edith's wedding were her widowed mother Mrs. E.A. Clark and Charles P. Caldwell.

Note that mother Nellie Clark was married three years later in 1895 to Charles P. Caldwell, who had witnessed Edith's marriage. It is possible that the mother was supporting herself by operating a boarding house after Clark died. Perhaps Caldwell was her boarder in 1892.

In 1860 Cranberry St. was in Wards 1 and 3. The numbers probably started near the river in Ward 1.

Charles H. Baker was described by his brother James as being his mother's favorite and a lovable child. He was described as being easy with himself and others, with a quick brain and not inclined to excel at athletic pursuits.

I have pictures of my grandfather Charles Henry Baker who died at age 38, when my father was nine years old. One picture shows him in the National Guard uniform of the seventy-fourth Regiment, Buffalo, N.Y., wearing a string of sharpshooter medals. My father wrote that he won many medals competing in sharpshooting inter-company and inter-regiment and that he was honorably discharged with a splendid record. His service is estimated to have been between the dates of 1882-1893. He was a slender, handsome, man with deep set eyes and heavy eyebrows. Another picture shows him in rather formal dress with short hair. He wears a handlebar mustache in both pictures.

The seventy-fourth Regiment was located at the Masten Street Armory. My father Homer Sr. stated that he had seen a well preserved record of his father's sharpshooter skill in 1920 when he visited the armory.

Charles Baker appeared at Baker Bros. Meat Market 1891-1893, in Buffalo City Directory with his elder brother Edward, which business was located at 32 Elk St. My father wrote me that the business was three Baker brothers, yet the only other brother James was studying for the ministry and left for India during the time of this business. One Albert Baker, was listed in the city directory as being part of their business, but Albert's relationship is not known. Brother James Baker's son Albert was not yet born.

Charles Baker's son Homer Baker Sr. stated that the Baker brothers were overly generous in extending credit to their customers which affected their profit. This was the time of a great depression in this country.

McKinley won the Presidency in 1896.

Charles H. Baker left the "Baker Brothers" store for employment in Buffalo as bookkeeper manager for the well known Mike Shea, who opened a Variety Theatre, the precursor to Vaudeville. In theatre circles, Buffalo was known as "Shea town". Mike Shea was shrewd and could figure excellently in his head, but was illiterate and could not write his own name, (family lore, Homer Baker Sr). Vaudeville was later superceded by motion pictures, although for a time during the "Roaring Twenties", both were shown in the same theatres.

Charles H. Baker was a member of the "Buffalo Ramblers", a six day marathon bicycle club, when large front wheel bicycles were in vogue. He was keenly interested in bicycle races when he moved to Brooklyn, often attending these races at Madison Square Garden.

NELLIE COLLINS before marriage:

My father Homer Baker Sr. stated that his grandfather (William T.) Collins was a soldier in the Civil War. I obtained the Pension Papers of William T. Collins who enlisted in N.Y.C. in 1864 as William H. Mayo (the surname of his mother's first husb.). He served 100 days in the 84th Infantry Militia Regiment, marching in West Virginia and Maryland. He was mustered out at Fort Albany Virginia in Oct. 1864. The papers are extensive because William's daughter Edith made a complaint against the woman her father was living with when he died. The papers identify and prove that William's wife was Nellie Gaylord, (sic), whom he divorced, that his daughters were Nellie and Edith and gives birth dates for them and their married names.

William Collins, father of Nellie, may have resided or had a business address on 46 Smith St. Brooklyn in 1872. This William was a sewing machine agent. (City Dir.).

1880 census, Brooklyn, Kings Co. N.Y. Ward 3, p. 340C; T9-0841. William T. Collins, Agent, Sewing machines, 34 yrs born ca 1846 N.Y., father born CT, mother born N.Y. Wife Nellie L. On the 1880 soundex of the census, the info. was the same and gave the family residence at 450 Fulton St. Brooklyn.

Nellie Collins was said to have had Dutch Ancestry. if so, it had to be from the maternal Gaylor/Weaver family, since her paternal grandmother Jeannette Von Vultee's family has been proven as German for many earlier generations. It is interesting to note that Homer Baker Sr. said his mother's ancestry was Holland Dutch, not German Dutch.

Nellie L. Collins was born in Brooklyn, about 10-14 years before the Brooklyn Bridge was completed. It was fourteen years in the making and was called the eighth wonder of the world. I wonder if she attended the exciting festivities of the opening of this historic bridge with her family. A picture of the young Nellie shows her in profile, with short hair, very curly, which appears to have been permed. She was a pleasant appearing lady but not beautiful. She had a strong chin. She and a Bow cousin were once in love, but did not marry because of the close relationship. He gave her a pair of diamond earrings which she owned until her death and willed one of them to each of her two children.

My memory of my grandmother Nellie Collins Baker Fisher was that she was short in stature, with very pretty blue eyes. She was a loving, devout lady who regularly attended the Reformed Dutch Church, travelling by Flatbush Avenue trolley. She was bedridden for a time, shortly before she died in 1933. I, a small child, lived with her at that time.

Marriage Certificate #3861. Nellie's mother Nellie Louise (Gaylor) Collins, a divorcee, aged 33, married second on 14 October 1888 in Brooklym to Edward Augustus Clark, age 40, by Rev. F. N. Laine who resided at 313 Jay St. Nellie was born Albany N.Y. and was daughter of Hiram Gaylord and Sarah Weaver. Edward was born Brooklyn, N.Y., son of Samuel Clark and wife Ann Tuttle. This was his second marriage. The couple both resided at 49 Cranberry St. Brooklyn. His occupation was Clothing.
Witnesses were Nellie's brother-in-law William A. Bow, (who had married Nellie's sister Kate Gaylor), and Nellie's dau. Nellie L. Collins.

Death certif. #1606. Edward A. Clark died at 7 A.M. on 26 January 1892 at 49 Cranberry St. Brooklyn, a one family house. This was less than four years after the marriage. He was listed as 47 yrs, 8 months, 3 days. Causes of death were Cirrhosis of the Liver and Bright's Disease. His parents were both born N.Y.S. He was treated from January 1 to January 25 1892 by Dr. Chas. F. Clark of 114 Montague St. Undertaker was Mr. Pouch of 305 Adams St. He was buried in Greenwood Cem. Jan. 28, 1892.

Cirrhosis of the Liver is often caused by alcoholic excess.

Edward A. Clark had a previous wife Sarah Blakely whom he married before 1880, see 1880 census. Edward Clark was buried with his parents Samuel Clark and Ann Tuttle in Greenwood Cem. Bklyn N.Y., Lot 13177, Section 95.

It would seem that the Collins daughters must have performed at Variety Theatres while their mother was married to Edward Clark. The girls both married the same year that Clark died.

Marriage certif. #3066. Their mother Mrs. Nellie Louisa Clark, age 38, married third in Brooklyn on 30 June 1895 to Charles P. Caldwell by Rev. R. B. Kelsay of 93 Sixth Ave. Her maiden name was listed as Nellie Louisa Gaylord, born Albany, N.Y., daughter of Hiram Gaylord and wife Sarah Weaver. Both resided Brooklyn. This was a second marriage for Caldwell who was 34 yrs old, born Philadelphia PA; son of Henry A. Caldwell and wife Rosalina LaSalle. Caldwell's occupation was Salesman. Witnesses were her daughter and son-in-law J. C. and Mrs. J.C. Davidson.

Mother Nellie had no issue by her second or third husbands Clark and Caldwell.

Mother Nellie Gaylor (Collins) (Clark) Caldwell resided at 33 Prospect Place at the time of her death in 1904. Her death certificate stated that she had resided in N.Y.C. for 35 years placing her there about 1871. She married in Brooklyn in 1865, the same year that her mother Sarah (Weaver) Gaylor died in Brooklyn. Her divorced husband William T. Collins made a deposition for a Civil War Pension which stated the dates of his marriage to Gaylord and the date of divorce. Nellie Gaylor was age 3 in 1850 census and age 7 in 1855 census for birth 1847/8 in Albany N.Y. I do not know the whereabouts of the Gaylor family between 1856 when her father died in Buffalo and July 1865 when her mother died in Brooklyn. Nellie was older than her husband Charles Caldwell. I believe she fibbed as to her age at this third marriage.

The 1890's were dubbed the "Gay Nineties". Nellie Louise Collins was a young performer on the "Erie Canal Circuit" in Variety Theatre, appearing at the Shea Theatre. Although she travelled with her sister and was chaperoned by her mother, she must have seemed a glamourous city girl to Charles, Baker, a farm boy from western New York, when he met her about 1891/2. She was billed as "Little Nell" and with her sister as "The Collins Sisters" Nellie sang, danced and emoted in the short skits of the times. One of these skits was called "The face On The Barroom Floor", which is a take-off of the similar skit "Ten Nights in a Barroom". It depicted a young daughter who tried to save her errant father from the ravages of alcoholic drink. My mother told me that Nellie had two trunks full of newspaper articles regarding these performances. Possibly some of these may still be extant at the Brooklyn Historical Society.

Apparently, mother Nellie Louise Gaylor was instrumental in the vocation of her two young daughters. They were billed as the Collins sisters.

CHARLES BAKER AND NELLIE COLLINS MARRIAGE

Charles H. Baker resided at 877 Main Street Buffalo, Erie Co. N.Y. in June 1893 according to the birth certificate of his son Homer. He could not be identified in the City Directory in 1890 or 1894. There was another Charles H. Baker in Buffalo at this time, but I cannot identify him as my Charles. (Ref: City Dir. at Buffalo Hist. Soc'y).

1893 Charles in city Dir Baker [illegible] pub worked for Shea ? 1894 - 1897

The first Shea Theatre was a frame building which was located at Main and Clinton Street where the Brisbane building now stands in downtown Buffalo. In 1893 this building burned, and it would seem that Mike Shea was out of business until the theatre was replaced. This event may have been a factor in Charles and Nellie's move before May of 1898 to Brooklyn, where Nellie had close ties to her family.

1898 Shea's Garden Theatre opened

Since Nellie (Collins) Baker was not a witness to the third marriage of her mother in June 1895, I suspect that she and her husband and son Homer, two years old, were still in Buffalo, N.Y. She may have moved in with her mother when she was widowed in Jan. of 1903, because she resided at her mother's Prospect Place address in 1910.

In 1894, Grover Cleveland was President and the country was experiencing the greatest depression of it's history up to that time. The majority of the population were farmers. In 1896, McKinley beat William Jennings Bryan for the presidency. Women could not vote in national elections, although they could vote in State Elections. It would be another 33 years before women could vote nationally. These were the early years of the marriage of Charles and Nellie in Buffalo.

Nellie and Charles signed an agreement in Brooklyn with her mother and sister Edith and Edith's husband in May 1898 when Nellie's mother, then Nellie L. Caldwell, purchased the #137 Whispering Grove cemetery plot at Evergreen Cem. in Brooklyn.

Nellie Baker joined the Old First Reformed Church on Carroll St. and Seventh Ave. Brooklyn in Oct. 1898. Nellie was still a member of this church at the time of her second marriage of 1910 to Jack Fisher.

Homer, son of Charles and Nellie Baker, stated on a job application that he attended school in Brooklyn beginning in 1900. Homer was 6 1/2 yrs old in early 1900. Homer attended P.S. #9.

* Add Charles Baker and his Talent Agent business at Coney Island. Find Homer's letter stating this.

Charles obtained employment at the Grand Opera House in Brooklyn where he was Treasurer. This building was torn down to erect Loeser's Department Store on Fulton St., corner of Boreum Place. Charles was a favorite of the famous tenor singer John McCormick. Once McCormick was so pleased with box office receipts that he presented Charles with a British gold piece. (Ref: son Homer Baker Sr.).

On June 11, 1900, the Baker family was residing at 26 Berkeley Place, Brooklyn, Kings Co. N.Y. with Nellie's mother and stepfather Charles P. Caldwell. Her sister Edith also lived there with her husband and children. Son Homer Baker Sr. also confirmed this address and another one on St. Marks Ave. in conversation with me about 1970.

The 1900 census has so many errors for this family that it is almost useless.

1900 census, all places of birth on Edith Davidson's line are incorrect because her mother's proven place of birth was Albany and her father was born in Brooklyn or Manhattan. John Davidson was born in Canada as were his parents according to his daughter Irene Davidson Howard's family records. Canada Eng. prob. refers to English in Canada vs French in Canada. Edith Collins Davidson was born in Brooklyn N.Y. according to her marriage certif. and her father's deposition on Civil War Pension Papers.

Charles Henry Baker's proven date of birth was 18 March 1864 Town of Camillus Onondaga Co. N.Y. and his parents were both born there also.

Berkeley Place runs between Union and Lincoln, west of Prospect Park. It is near Grand Army Plaza and Flatbush Ave. It is also near Carroll and 7th Ave. where Nellie's First Reformed Church is located.

1903, January 30, Charles Henry Baker died, age 38, while residing at 261 Prospect Place, Brooklyn. Charles H. Baker did well financially until tragedy struck in the form of Diabetes while Charles was still in his thirties. Insulin was not available at that time and Diabetes was a fatal disease. Charles left two young children Homer, age 9, and Ruth a year and a half old.

NELLIE (COLLINS) BAKER, WIDOWED:

1904 City Dir. Nellie's stepfather Charles P. Caldwell resided 33 Prospect Place Bklyn, occupation Leather, 71 Gold St, Manhattan.
This was the year that his wife Nellie Gaylor died.

Do more later city directories for Caldwell. What happened to him?

In April 1910, Nellie (Collins) Baker, a widow, was keeping a boarding house at the brownstone building which she rented at 33 Prospect Place Brooklyn. This was the house where her mother died 2 November 1904. Jack Fisher, a meat salesma, whom she was to marry a few months later, was a lodger at the house in this census.

Nellie had six other lodgers, Charles S. ?Pullrn, a meat salesman, age 58, his wf ?Erlisti, age 57 and his dau. Marguerite, age 26, also resided there. They were a family from Maine. Esther H. Smith, age 26, and Aurelia or Amelia A. Smith, age 50 or 56, a Canadian family also resided there.

John ?Mason, age 32, born N.Y. (parents born N.Y.S.), a leather worker also resided there. There is no indication that any of the lodgers were related to my family.

Step-father Charles Caldwell was not with Nellie Collins Baker in 1910 census.

Marriage certificate #5721. Nellie L. Baker, widow, married June 22 1910 Brooklyn N.Y. to John C. Fisher, single man. They both resided at 33 Prospect St. Nellie was 35 yrs, maiden name Nellie L. Collins, born Brooklyn, second marriage; father's name William P. or T. Collins, mother's maiden name Nellie L. Gaylor. John Fisher was was a salesman, his first marriage, born New Rochelle, s/o John Fisher and Martha Kallenberg. They were married at 857 President St. by Rev. J.M. ? arner. Her sister Edith W. and husband John C. Davidson were witnesses.

John Fisher, whom I remember, was affectionately known as "Jackie Boy."

At the time of Nellie's marriage to Jack Fisher, she was a member of the Old First (Dutch) Reformed Church on Seventh Ave. and Carroll St. in Brooklyn.

Jack Fisher, was born circa 1876, (calculated from Marriage Certif). He died from a cerebral hemorrhage; was buried May 27, 1950, age 76, in Evergreen Cemetery, Whispering Grove, Lot 137, Brooklyn, with his wife. He was a kindly, gruff man who was good to his step-children. Nellie's son Homer Baker was 17 at the time of this marriage; dau. Ruth was nine years old.

Jack Fisher grieved Nellie's 1933 death to the extent that he took to drink and lost his house on East 25th St. for unpaid taxes. These were still depression times. At this time, son Homer Baker had many large trophies and statues stored at the house, which he had won at track meets. They were never recovered. Homer described Jack Fisher thus: "no better man ever lived."

1920 January, 6 and 7th or Ward 6 and 7, census Brooklyn N.Y., Supervisor Dist. 3, Enum. Dist. 551, Sheet 3B. Handwritten pg #1016, also says p. 4933. 33 Prospect Place. House 33, house visit 46, family visit 52.

Baker, step-dau. 18 yrs born N.Y., no occup. Nellie's first cousin Robert Bow and wife Sarah Gordon and daughter Clara Bow 14 yrs were living in the same house, but were listed as a separate family.
John Adlington and wife Mary A. also lived in this house as a separate family, but there is no known relationship.

> Clara Bow later became a famous Silent Film Star, billed as the "It Girl." Her grandmother Kate Gaylor, siser of Nellie Gaylor, married William Addison Bow. Clara won a beauty contest when she was 16 years of age which included a screen test. She made some twenty odd pictures before "talkies" came into vogue and a few talkies.

Nellie had a mastectomy prior to 1924, (Homer's letter to Georgia Black before their marriage). This must have been an early date for this type of surgery for cancer..

On Dec. 26 1925, the author's birthdate, Nellie L. (Collins) (Baker) Fisher resided at 562 7th St. Brooklyn. Her son Homer Baker and wife Georgia Black were also living at that address when I, Jackie Baker was born. Likely it was Nellie's home at that time, since Homer had recently moved from San Antonio, Bexar Co. TX, back to Brooklyn. He resided a short time in 1925 in Baltimore, MD, where he took an educational course.

In 1933, Nellie and husband Jack Fisher owned a home at 449 E. twenty fifth St., Brooklyn, at the time of her death. This was near Flatbush and Newkirk Aves. The "Great Depression" was in full swing.

Nellie's daughter Ruth and granddaughter Shirley also lived at 449 E. 25th St in 1933. Nellie was close with her Bow relatives and with her sister Edith who was married to Jack Davidson. Edith had two children, Irene and Clyde. Edith became blind from Retinitis Pigmentosa, a hereditary disease which also struck Nellie's children Homer and Ruth. Ruth had Rheumatic Fever as a child, which affected her heart. Nellie had a heart of gold, and was described as frequently helping her relatives. One example of her largess was when she took a cousin, Irving Stockwell into her home for quite some time, at no cost to him. She also took Clara Bow and her parents into her home before Clara became a movie star.

She was buried as Shirley Baker. Ruth resided with her mother until Nellie's death, then with her stepfather for many years.

Notes:

Mother Nellie Louisa Gaylor was the daughter of Hiram^{2} (Philip^{1}) Gaylor and his wife Sarah Weaver, who resided in the City of Albany. Hiram was married probably near Stone Arabia, Montgomery Co. N.Y. where he was a member of the Trinity Lutheran church of Stone Arabia. Two of his children were baptized there. Philip resided in Palatine, N.Y. in 1802; city of Albany in the 1830's at which time he probably died. The Weaver family was probably from Montgomery Co. Stone Arabia area, also. This suggests that they may have emigrated with the 1710 Palatine Families that settled in that region.

Hiram Gaylor died in Buffalo 7 October 1856; was buried in Albany and reinterred in Lot 15984, Section 164 at Greenwood Cem. Bklyn in July 1865 when his wife Sally died in Brooklyn and was buried there. His father Philip was buried in Albany and reinterred in Greenwood Cem. in July 1865 with his son Hiram. The plot was owned by Eurilla Gaylor Bow, daughter of ~~43~~ 55. James Millard^{4} Baker was b. Dec. 13, 1866, Camillus, NY, died 23 March 1952, (Bob White), Asheville, NC. He was the son of Charles A.^{3}, (James M.^{2}, Matthew^{1}) Baker and wife Mary Hinsdale. He was baptized as an adult March 2, 1884 at the First Baptist Church Medina, N.Y.

He married June 19, 1895 (Contending) in Elbridge, N.Y., to May Harriet Rhoades from Elbridge, N.Y. The service was performed by Rev. M. J. Winchester. (marr. June 14, acc. to Geo. Baker, Grace Mayer and bible). They were divorced after 30 yrs of marriage.

James Baker married second on 2 May 31, 1933 to Susan Roberts whom he met in India. She was born Aug. 8, 1881, Saline Co. Mo. No children by this marriage. She was alive Dec. 1961. Susan resided in the Ashville house for several yrs after his death with a companion. She sold off part of the acreage for homesites.

May H. Rhoades was born 3 May 1876, Elbridge, NY, died 8 Apr 1960, Oglethorpe, GA where she had resided for many years. She was the daughter of Squire Munro Brown Rhoades (b. ca 1836, N.Y. 1880 census) and Harriet Agusta Preston, (age 40, b. NY, 1880 census). Squire b. 1840, N.Y. Strong[5] present. Dr. Strong was President of the Rochester Seminary. He became a lifelong friend. Shortly after this, The Baptist church at New Rochelle, N.Y. called him to represent them on the foreign field.

James M. Baker became a widely known Baptist missionary to India, (American Baptist). He was ordained at Medina Baptist Church in 1895, just one wk prior to his marriage. Sailed for India July 13, 1895. He and his wife Learned the Telugu language and worked closely with the more than 50 local castes at Ongole, South India. Professor and Principal, A.B.M. College, India, 1896-1900. Station Missionary at Ongole, 1901-29. Lecturing in U.S. 1930. Retired May 1931. Only 3 furloughs home bet. 1895 and 1929. (One of these in 1923). During furloughs raised money for his mission. 1929-1931 served as home deputy for missions. Founded Clough Memorial Hosp. in Ongole in 1916. Healthy and robust during missionary years.

James Baker wrote the book Contending The Grade In India. Quote from Rochester NY Democrat And Chronicle newspaper, "Ex Medinan writes book about mission work in India. Now operates a 48 acre farm, Nilgiri Springs Farm, 7 mi. from Asheville, N.C.".

Ministry to the people of Ongole, near Bay of Bengal, S. India. Primarily a history of the Indian Church, the book contains anecdotes about the life of Rev. Mr. Baker among the poverty stricken Indians. The success of his mission is attested by the membership figures of the church, Although the main congregation was divided many times to form smaller church units, the parent organization numbered more than 12,000 when Mr. Baker resigned his pastorate to return to the US. At that time the Ongole church was the largest institutional church in the world. In addition to pastoral duties, he and his colleagues assisted in the development of local industries and institutions and worked to improve the living standards of the people.

Rev. Baker wrote to the pastor of the Medina, N.Y. Baptist Church at the time of his retirement- I grew up as a member of your church and feel under great obligation to Medina. We lived on the Shelby Rd and my father gave $3000 toward building of your present church. I was graduated from Medina High School. Both my parents joined the Medina Baptist church on Apr 9, 1870. My bro. Ed joined Feb. 15,

He chose the name of his farm because of geographical similarities bet. Blue Ridge Mountains and the Hills of S. India suggested "Nilgiri" a sandscript name for Blue Hills.

James transferred his membership from Medina church, Aug. 10, 1935 to First Baptist, Asheville, NC.

He served 35 years in Ongole, India, later retiring to Asheville, N.C., where he purchased a large acreage, paying his workers two dollars a day to build his house during the "Great Depression". His home, called "Terrace Point" was located on Highway 74 at Hemphill Road, two miles from the city limits. The property encompassed in excess of forty acres and contained many cottages. He called the property Nilgiri Springs Farm and rented some of the cottages. Here, he resided with his second wife Susan Roberts until his death in 1952. He was divorced from his first wife, May Rhoades, an Elbridge, N.Y. native after 30 years of marriage. She remarried also. She was the mother of all his children. May´s relatives were preachers in Onondaga Co.

I corresponded with my Great Uncle Jim for many years, but only met him once, when my husband Oliver and I visited him in Asheville about 1950. We were in our early twenties. He and Susan were gracious hosts. Uncle Jim was short in stature, with nice blue eyes. He seemed kindly and congenial. A tragedy in his life was the death of his young son, "Sunny Jim" to Diabetes before insulin was discovered.

Obit. Funeral services were held in Gashes Creek Baptist Church for James Millard Baker, 85, of the Charlotte Highway. Died in hosp. Rev. James Smith, Rev. H. E. Benfield, Rev. J. B. Grice will officiate. Burial in Gashes Creek cemetery. Pallbearers were B.K. Miller, Robert LaCasse, J. A. Innes, Burney Riddle, B.B. Barrett, and Robert Puckeridge. He served as Vice Principal and Principal of the Junior College at Ongole, India. Also, pastor of Ongole Mission Church. Managed the erection of 30 buildings in India, Raised funds for and built Clough Memorial Hospital in Ongole. He and wf returned to U. S. in 1929, had visited most of European and Asiatic nations. On return to this country, toured the nation lecturing on social and economic conditions in India. He was a personal friend of John D. Rockefeller Jr. Morris Gearing Black funeral home was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Uncle Jim's wrote a pamphlet listing his personal philosophy:

Concerning values, he wrote that the highest rewards are beyond this world's power. The greatest gift is judgment in knowing life's values. He appreciated the scenes of nature, a baby's smile, the handclasp of a friend and above all, the assurance of being a member of "the household of God." He advised that one be ready to forgive, and to show repentance in deeds. He felt that theology should be obtained from men, books, nature, the Bible and God.

Concerning work, he wrote that one should work according to one's conscience rather than men's praise and to give all of one's devotion to the task. That one should measure oneself against one's own abilities, not the abilities of other people. Be tolerant with one's mistakes and have many other projects waiting, that one can turn to if the first one fails. Thank God for the privilege of being helpful and useful to other people. Weigh and consider one's actions before implementing them. Try not to over-influence other people to make changes, unless you are willing to accept responsibility if the advice proves unwise.

Shortly after the death of Rev. James, an article appeared on page 184 in the May 15, 1952 edition of The Watchman Examiner, a National Baptist Paper of the American Baptist Convention. It was entitled, "An Appreciation of Rev. J. M. Baker" by T.V. Witter.
summary
He had integrity, and a dynamic quality, forceful. Was inspirational. he was a master and maker of men; respected by all, sometimes feared by those whose wills were not set on a pure and right path. He was admired and loved by his friends.

He had marked executive and administration gifts. Because his abilities were consecrated to the Master, he achieved greatly. His passion was to bring all men into the saving knowledge of Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord.

He encouraged individuals to bring the Word of God to his parishioners through Telugu music. He initiated an annual Harvest festival wherein thousands of villagers participated. The offerings collected at the festival were used to build other churches in Ongole. He was instrumental in the building of the Jewett Memorial Church in Ongole. He created an educational system in the village schools in which Christian subjects were taught. His supervisors supplemented the local government to raise educational standards. There were at least 114 of these schools.

The influence of his Christlike qualities on the lives of others served as a memorial to "Uncle Jim" as he was called. He had compassion for the poor, the needy, the sick and the lost. His many administrative duties did not keep him from ministering to the villagers. He endured hardship with his beloved preaching band, of which he was proud. He encouraged self-support, strong discipline and self-government to the church congregations, bringing Hindus, Mohammedans and Brahmins to Christ.

His zeal and tenacity was responsible for the building of the Clough Memorial Hospital, an outstanding medical institution in Telugu country in spite of opposition. He solicited funds in America during his furlough for the building of this hospital. The author wrote that when "Uncle Jim´s four year old son died there was no qualified doctor within 70 miles. The author felt that this was when the "iron" entered Jim´s soul which forged the making of the hospital.

The author quoted a passage from Pilgrim´s Progress excerpted here, which stated that he was going to his Father´s after difficulty in getting hither, but that he did not repent of that trouble. His sword he gave to those that succeeded him in his pilgrimage, and courage and skill to those that could get them. His scars he carried to witness to the Battles he fought for his Rewarder. When he passed over, all the trumpets sounded on the other side.

REV. JAMES MILLARD BAKER AND M. RHOADES AND S. ROBERTS

~~36~~38. James Millard^4 Baker was b. Dec. 13, 1866, Camillus, NY, died 23 March 1952, (Bob White), Asheville, NC. He was the son of Charles A.^{3}, (James M.^{2}, Matthew^1) Baker and wife Mary Hinsdale. He was baptized as an adult March 2, 1884 at the First Baptist Church Medina, N.Y.

He married June 19, 1895 (Contending) in Elbridge, N.Y., to May Harriet Rhoades from Elbridge, N.Y. The service was performed by Rev. M. J. Winchester. (marr. June 14, acc. to Geo. Baker, Grace Mayer and bible).
They were divorced after 30 yrs of marriage.

James Baker married second on 2 May 31, 1933 to Susan Roberts whom he met in India. She was born Aug. 8, 1881, Saline Co. Mo. No children by this marriage. She was alive Dec. 1961. Susan resided in the Ashville house for several yrs after his death with a companion. She sold off part of the acreage for homesites.

May H. Rhoades was born 3 May 1876, Elbridge, NY, died 8 Apr 1960, Oglethorpe, GA where she had resided for many years. She was the daughter of Squire Munro Brown Rhoades (b. ca 1836, N.Y. 1880 census) and Harriet Agusta Preston, (age 40, b. NY, 1880 census). Squire b. 1840, N.Y. (1835-1904, Grace Harriet 1839-1929). reck dates. May's 4 grparents were b. NY acc. to 1880 census.
May married 2nd Joseph Green prior to the remarriage of James Baker. Son Albert Baker also moved to GA.
May appeared in 1880 census in Elbridge age 4, with parents.

May returned from India to Elbridge, NY in 1923 to supervise the education of Albert and Mildred. She did not wish to return to India where her husband served as a Baptist missionary. She was the mother of all the children. May's relatives were prominent preachers in Onondaga Co. Note that one of them, C.L. Rhoades was the marrying preacher at the 2nd mar. of Edward Hinsdale Baker, brother of James.

James felt called to the ministry at age 17. He graduated High School 1886, Post Graduate Course, Medina High School, 1887-8. He was educated for ministry at the Univ. of Rochester, NY, 1889-92 and Baptist Theological Seminary in Rochester, 1893-95. B.A. and Master's degree. He was ordained at the Medina Church June 1895, with Dr. A. H.

Strong[5] present. Dr. Strong was President of the Rochester Seminary. He became a lifelong friend. Shortly after this, The Baptist church at New Rochelle, N.Y. called him to represent them on the foreign field.

James M. Baker became a widely known Baptist missionary to India, (American Baptist). He was ordained at Medina Baptist Church in 1895, just one wk prior to his marriage. Sailed for India July 13, 1895. He and his wife Learned the Telugu language and worked closely with the more than 50 local castes at Ongole, South India. Professor and Principal, A.B.M. College, India, 1896-1900. Station Missionary at Ongole, 1901-29. Lecturing in U.S. 1930. Retired May 1931. Only 3 furloughs home bet. 1895 and 1929. (One of these in 1923). During furloughs raised money for his mission. 1929-1931 served as home deputy for missions. Founded Clough Memorial Hosp. in Ongole in 1916. Healthy and robust during missionary years.

James Baker wrote the book Contending The Grade In India. Quote from Rochester NY Democrat And Chronicle newspaper, "Ex Medinan writes book about mission work in India. Now operates a 48 acre farm, Nilgiri Springs Farm, 7 mi. from Asheville, N.C.".

Ministry to the people of Ongole, near Bay of Bengal, S. India. Primarily a history of the Indian Church, the book contains anecdotes about the life of Rev. Mr. Baker among the poverty stricken Indians. The success of his mission is attested by the membership figures of the church, Although the main congregation was divided many times to form smaller church units, the parent organization numbered more than 12,000 when Mr. Baker resigned his pastorate to return to the US. At that time the Ongole church was the largest institutional church in the world. In addition to pastoral duties, he and his colleagues assisted in the development of local industries and institutions and worked to improve the living standards of the people.

Rev. Baker wrote to the pastor of the Medina, N.Y. Baptist Church at the time of his retirement- I grew up as a member of your church and feel under great obligation to Medina. We lived on the Shelby Rd and my father gave $3000 toward building of your present church. I was graduated from Medina High School. Both my parents joined the Medina Baptist church on Apr 9, 1870. My bro. Ed joined Feb. 15, 1874, myself on Mar 2, 1884, only sister Florence Aug 12, 1888. She and myself the only ones still living. The entire profits form my bk will be devoted to the mission and hosp. in India. He chose the name of his farm because of geographical similarities bet. Blue Ridge Mountains and the Hills of S. India suggested "Nilgiri" a sandscript name for Blue Hills.

James transferred his membership from Medina church, Aug. 10, 1935 to First Baptist, Asheville, NC.

He served 35 years in Ongole, India, later retiring to Asheville, N.C., where he purchased a large acreage, paying his workers two dollars a day to build his house during the "Great Depression". His home, called "Terrace Point" was located on Highway 74 at Hemphill Road, two miles from the city limits. The property encompassed in excess of forty acres and contained many cottages. He called the property Nilgiri Springs Farm and rented some of the cottages. Here, he resided with his second wife Susan Roberts until his death in 1952. He was divorced from his first wife, May Rhoades, an Elbridge, N.Y. native after 30 years of marriage. She remarried also. She was the mother of all his children. May's relatives were preachers in Onondaga Co.

I corresponded with my Great Uncle Jim for many years, but only met him once, when my husband Oliver and I visited him in Asheville about 1950. We were in our early twenties. He and Susan were gracious hosts. Uncle Jim was short in stature, with nice blue eyes. He seemed kindly and congenial. A tragedy in his life was the death of his young son, "Sunny Jim" to Diabetes before insulin was discovered.

Obit. Funeral services were held in Gashes Creek Baptist Church for James Millard Baker, 85, of the Charlotte Highway. Died in hosp. Rev. James Smith, Rev. H. E. Benfield, Rev. J. B. Grice will officiate. Burial in Gashes Creek cemetery. Pallbearers were B.K. Miller, Robert LaCasse, J. A. Innes, Burney Riddle, B.B. Barrett, and Robert Puckeridge. He served as Vice Principal and Principal of the Junior College at Ongole, India. Also, pastor of Ongole Mission Church. Managed the erection of 30 buildings in India, Raised funds for and built Clough Memorial Hospital in Ongole. He and wf returned to U. S. in 1929, had visited most of European and Asiatic nations. On return to this country, toured the nation lecturing on social and economic conditions in India. He was a personal friend of John D. Rockefeller Jr. Morris Gearing Black funeral home was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Uncle Jim´s wrote a pamphlet listing his personal philosophy:

Concerning values, he wrote that the highest rewards are beyond this world´s power. The greatest gift is judgment in knowing life´s values. He appreciated the scenes of nature, a baby´s smile, the handclasp of a friend and above all, the assurance of being a member of "the household of God." He advised that one be ready to forgive, and to show repentance in deeds. He felt that theology should be obtained from men, books, nature, the Bible and God.

Concerning work, he wrote that one should work according to one´s conscience rather than men´s praise and to give all of one´s devotion to the task. That one should measure oneself against one´s own abilities, not the abilities of other people. Be tolerant with one´s mistakes and have many other projects waiting, that one can turn to if the first one fails. Thank God for the privilege of being helpful and useful to other people. Weigh and consider one´s actions before implementing them. Try not to over-influence other people to make changes, unless you are willing to accept responsibility if the advice proves unwise.

Shortly after the death of Rev. James, an article appeared on page 184 in the May 15, 1952 edition of The Watchman Examiner, a National Baptist Paper of the American Baptist Convention. It was entitled, "An Appreciation of Rev. J. M. Baker" by T.V. Witter.
summary
He had integrity, and a dynamic quality, forceful. Was inspirational. he was a master and maker of men; respected by all, sometimes feared by those whose wills were not set on a pure and right path. He was admired and loved by his friends.

He had marked executive and administration gifts. Because his abilities were consecrated to the Master, he achieved greatly. His passion was to bring all men into the saving knowledge of Jesus Christ as Saviour and Lord.

He encouraged individuals to bring the Word of God to his parishioners through Telugu music. He initiated an annual Harvest festival wherein thousands of villagers participated. The offerings collected at the festival were used to build other churches in Ongole. He was instrumental in the building of the Jewett Memorial Church in Ongole. He created an educational system in the village schools in which Christian subjects were taught. His supervisors supplemented the local government to raise educational standards. There were at least 114 of these schools.

The influence of his Christlike qualities on the lives of others served as a memorial to "Uncle Jim" as he was called. He had compassion for the poor, the needy, the sick and the lost. His many administrative duties did not keep him from ministering to the villagers. He endured hardship with his beloved preaching band, of which he was proud. He encouraged self-support, strong discipline and self-government to the church congregations, bringing Hindus, Mohammedans and Brahmins to Christ.

His zeal and tenacity was responsible for the building of the Clough Memorial Hospital, an outstanding medical institution in Telugu country in spite of opposition. He solicited funds in America during his furlough for the building of this hospital. The author wrote that when "Uncle Jim´s four year old son died there was no qualified doctor within 70 miles. The author felt that this was when the "iron" entered Jim´s soul which forged the making of the hospital.

The author quoted a passage from Pilgrim´s Progress excerpted here, which stated that he was going to his Father´s after difficulty in getting hither, but that he did not repent of that trouble. His sword he gave to those that succeeded him in his pilgrimage, and courage and skill to those that could get them. His scars he carried to witness to the Battles he fought for his Rewarder. When he passed over, all the trumpets sounded on the other side.

Florence was a teacher at a public school in Yonkers about 1903. She met John Clum in NYC where she was a Social Worker at the famous Henry St. Settlement House about 1913/14. John had a date with the roommate of Florence, who became ill and couldn't go on the date. Florence went instead. One cannot believe her to be a prim school teacher when one considers that she married a dynamic man with such a colorful past. It was a happy marriage and she was well liked by John's family according to John's granddaughter Nancy Gage. Nancy stated that she adored Florence. In later years she was called "Lady Florence". She spent her last years in a retirement home, used a cane for a leg problem.

Florence took her Hinkleman nephew on a trip to France when he graduated from High School.

Florence was the third wife of John Philip Clum who was born 1 Sept. 1851, in the Hudson River Valley near Claverack, NY. He d. 4 May 1932 in Southern Ca. He was the s/o William Henry and Elizabeth Ann Van Deusen Clum. John had 2 previous mar. First, Delaware, Ohio, 8 Nov 1876 to Mary Dennison Ware, niece of Wm Dennison, one time Gov. of Ohio. Mary d. Marjorie that married Mr. Parker and a dau. Nancy who m. Gage. John had a dau. Caro Kingsland Clum by wf 2.

John enlisted in the Army Signal Service in Santa Fe, New Mexico, 1871-1874. While there, he became a close friend of the territorial Governor, Marsh Giddings. John later was employed by the Dept. of the Interior as an Indian agent. He became an Attorney, owned and published the newspaper, The Arizona Citizen later called the Tucson Citizen. He founded Arizona's most famous newspaper, the Tombstone Epigraph and was Mayor, Postmaster and Chairman of the Board of School Trustees there. He was at Tombstone Arizona during Silver mining times. He rubbed shoulders with Billie Breckenridge, Wyatt Earp and his brothers. He supported Wyatt Earp for public office, even after the Gunfight at The OK Corral in 1881. For a time he was a clerk in the Office of Chief Inspector of Post Office Dept. in Wash. D.C. In 1886, he moved to Ca. All this was before he married Florence Baker. His varied career took him throughout the U.S. and to Alaska.

In 1931, a year before his death, he made a sentimental journey back to the San Carlos reservation where he visited his elderly Apache friends. Florence must have joined him on that journey.

John wrote an unfinished Autobiography of his life. The writing was completed by his son Henry Woodruff Clum, and published in 1963 by Univ. of Nebraska Press, as a book entitled Apache Agent.

His three years as San Carlos Indian Agent at Arizona Territory was depicted in the movie Walk The Proud Land starring Audie Murphy. This movie was produced in the 1940's or 1950's. John's call to fame was the 1877 capture of "Geronimo", the fierce Indian fighter. Also, he was the first person in the Southwest to institute unprecedented self-rule for the Indians. All of John Clum's personal papers were deposited by his grand daughter, Marjorie Clum Parker, in the Univ. of Arizona Library's Special Collections.

Biographical Note

John P. Clum was an Indian agent at the San Carlos Indian Reservation in southeast Arizona from 1874 to 1877. He later served as founder and editor of the Tombstone Epitaph newspaper, postmaster, and mayor of Tombstone, Arizona, as well as postal inspector and lecturer in Alaska. His son, Woodworth Clum, was an editor of the Washington Star newspaper, and the author of a book about his father entitled Apache Agent.

Scope and Content Note

Collection consists of the papers of John P. Clum and family. Correspondence, diaries, scrapbooks, photographs, typescripts, newspaper and magazine articles are by or about John P. Clum; a smaller quantity of typescripts, reprints, and biographical items concern John's son Woodworth Clum. Much of the material consists of writings by the Clums and others about the Apache Indians, Geronimo's capture, and events in Tombstone, Arizona. The bulk of the correspondence is between John and his wife Mary Clum, from 1876 to 1880. These letters, a diary from 1875, and some official documents contain information on his tenure as an Indian agent in Arizona.

Photographs, some original but mostly reprints, depict John, Mary, Woodworth, other Clum family members, and friends including Wyatt Earp. Identified Apache individuals are represented in formal portraits taken in Washington, D.C., where Clum took them in 1876. Group photos of Apaches show them on the San Carlos Reservation and other locations, both before and after Geronimo's capture. An 1898 diary, 1898 Alaskan newspapers, scrapbooks, and photographs chronicle Clum's time in Alaska. Miscellaneous items include an 1860 history book, and an account of Clum family history.

John Philip Clum
Gold Rush Postal Inspector

John Clum with his first wife, Mary. Mary Clum died in Tombstone, Arizona in 1880.

Photograph from the collections of the National Postal Museum.

While serving as a postal inspector in Washington, D.C. in the late 1890s, John P. Clum (1852-1932) was appointed as special commissioner to Alaska "to examine into postal affairs." Before becoming a postal inspector, Clum had already led quite a colorful life in the American West. While serving as the agent for the San Carlos, Arizona, Indian Agency, he crossed paths with Geronimo. Later, as mayor, of Tombstone, Arizona, (and founding publisher of the Tombstone Epitaph), he befriended Wyatt Earp and his family.Clum's postal bosses believed that because he had experienced the great silver rush of Tombstone, Clum was especially well suited to the rigors of the new gold rush.

Clum arrived in Skagway, Alaska on March 26, 1898. Both Skagway and nearby Dyea, Alaska had operating post offices by the time Clum arrived. After inspecting the facilities there and in Juneau, he set out along the Chilkoot Pass trail. His progress was slowed when he stopped to help dig out survivors and victims of the horrible "Palm Sunday" avalanche.

But even the avalanche, which occurred on April 3, 1898, did not keep Clum from his duties for long. The very next day, he appointed Joseph G. Brown as postmaster of the new, nearby Sheep Camp post office.

During his months in Alaska that first year, Clum traveled over 8,000 miles and established post offices across the territory. He carried everything he needed to create a post office with him-postage stamps, mailbags, postal locks, keys and postmarking devices.

During his first trip to Alaska, John Clum established a number of post offices along the gold rush trails and in the Alaskan gold fields, including:

The Nome, Alaska, post office in 1900.

Photograph from the collections of the National Postal Museum

When the Nome, Alaska, post office opened in June 1899, George Wright was named postmaster. By that fall, over 3,000 people were in Nome, with thousands more on the way. Clum had returned to Alaska in April, and concentrated his efforts on Western Alaska and the Bering Sea, extending postal service to the north Bering Sea coast, and establishing semi-monthly postal service between Nome and Point Blossom.

By the summer of 1900, the Nome rush had reached its peak. Over 20,000 people crowded the city and beaches of Nome, looking for gold--and mail. Clum, who assumed charge of the Nome post office for much of the summer of 1900, employed 23 men in that tiny building. Fortunately for him, among the gold-seekers that summer were two letter carriers from Salem, Oregon. Fred Lockley, Jr. and Ben Taylor, after obtaining temporary leaves of absence from their jobs, had arrived in Nome looking for gold that summer. When it became apparent to both that there were no available claims, they approached Clum with an interesting offer--their service as free city delivery carriers. The pair were hired, and their work was deeply appreciated by the astonished citizens of Nome. Lockley wrote about their work in a small book, "Alaska's First Free Mail Delivery in 1900."

In January 1906, Clum was named the postmaster at Fairbanks, Alaska. His daughter, Caro, worked at the office as a postal clerk. Clum's postal service to the Alaskan gold towns had not gone unnoticed by residents. The citizens of one small mining town showed their gratitude by naming their town after Clum's daughter. The post office at Caro, Alaska, on the Chandalar River, 45 miles north of Circle, opened in 1907.

John Clum left Alaska in 1909. He had run for public office the year before and lost to the very popular Judge James Wickersham. Clum spent the next several years touring the country and lecturing on Western America for the Southern Pacific Railroad. He retired for a second time in 1920 and moved near Los Angeles with his third wife, Florence. Clum lived quietly there, spending most of his time writing historical articles for various publications.

John Clum died on May 2, 1932, three years after serving as a pall bearer for his life-long friend, Wyatt Earp. As Clum's friends mourned his death, one noted that it was "a sign of the passing of the Old West."

Significant People in Wyatt Earp's Life

Billy Clanton: One of the three men killed at the OK Corral shoot-out. Billy, his brothers Ike, Phin and their father, known as "Old Man" Clanton, ran one of the largest rustling outfits in the area.

Ike Clanton: Brother of Billy Clanton and the man probably most responsible for getting his brother and friends killed. It was Ike's running off at the mouth that put him at the top of Doc Holliday's list and thus brought the wrath of Doc upon the cowboys at the OK Corral. Josie Earp described Ike as being the one cowboy who had absolutely no redeeming qualities. After his brother and friends were killed, Ike would try three times to get the Earps tried for murder, all would fail. Ike was shot down and killed by Detective J.V. Brighton in 1887 at Eagle Creek. Ike was reported to be running away when he was shot. Ike Clanton 49k, Arizona Historical Society

John Clum: Mayor of Tombstone, founder of the historical Tombstone Epitaph newspaper and life long Earp supporter. His support of the Earps after the shoot-out earned him an assassination attempt while he was leaving town on a stage. Clum would leave Tombstone for California shortly after the Earps. He would remain a life long friend of Wyatt's, visiting him in Nome, Alaska in 1900. Clum was at Wyatt's bedside shortly before his death. He collaborated with Josie in helping her write her book and he wrote his own, called, "It all Happened in Tombstone". Clum died on May 2, 1932.

Fred Dodge: Wells Fargo detective and lifelong Earp friend. Dodge, unbeknownst to Wyatt, was an Undercover Detective for Wells Fargo in Tombstone. He posed as a gambler to keep suspicion away from himself and it was probably in this way that he met Wyatt. Dodge would ride on posses and help out Earp when he could, as long as it didn't give him away as a Detective. Dodge stood by his friend Wyatt before and after the shoot-out, but he always disagreed with Wyatt on Doc Holliday's involvement in the Benson Stage Robbery that got Bud Philpot killed. Dodge would say in later years that he had proof that Holliday was involved in the robbery, but he never did elaborate because, at the time he made the comment, Wyatt was still alive and Dodge didn't want to say anything out of respect for his friend. Dodge would go on to work for Wells Fargo after the Earps left Tombstone and led a very adventurous life of his own. His book, "Undercover for Wells Fargo" is an excellent insight into the Dodge's life as well as a different perspective into the events surrounding the Tombstone. Dodge died on December 16, 1938.

Allie Earp: Third wife of Virgil Earp. Allie and Virgil most likely met in or about 1874. Allie had no love loss for Josie Earp. Allie had been good friends with Mattie Earp, and blamed Josie for Wyatt leaving Mattie and Mattie's subsequent suicide. Allie was said to "love all the Earp boys", although in her later years she didn't like Wyatt getting all the attention he did. She felt, and possibly rightly so, that her husband should have got most of the credit for their Arizona days, since he was the Tombstone Police Chief and Deputy US Marshal at the time. Allie would collaborate with Frank Waters in writing his book, "The Earp brothers of Tombstone". Allie knew the book was going to be critical of Wyatt, but Waters got a bit carried a way and kicked dirt on her husband Virgil's name as well. Allie, who loved her husband to death, was furious and declared Water's book a "bunch of lies" and threatened to sue if he published. (1) Furthering Water's problems at the time was Josie Earp ranting and raving about his book painting her husband in an unfavorable light. Possibly due to one or the other woman's complaints, Waters didn't publish his book until Josie and Allie were both dead. On November 17, 1947, Allie Earp died. She was just shy of her 100th birthday and she was the last surviving immediate family member of the Earps.

James Earp: Oldest child to Nicholas and Virginia Earp, born in June 28, 1841. James stayed close to his family during his life but never did join in the exploits of law enforcement and bounty hunting like his other brothers did. James was a Civil War Veteran, enlisting in Company F, Seventeenth Illinois Infantry on May 25, 1861. He was seriously wounded at Fredricktown, Missouri on March 22, 1863 and would forever draw a disability pension because of it. James spent most of his adult years with Wyatt and was in Tombstone during the shoot-out. James accompanied the family home to California when Morgan was killed. James worked mostly as a bartender or saloon keeper/gambler during his life. He was married to Nellie Bartlett Ketchum on April 18, 1873. She would later die in California in 1887. Even in his later years, James was out in the desert with Wyatt and Josie during their prospecting days of the early 20th century. James

WILLIAM H. BAKER, NOTED MERCHANT, PASSES AWAY HERE.
William H. Baker, 64 yrs, prominent chocolate manufacturer, died at his home 1483 S. State St., of Hodgkin's Diseaes of the kidneys. He is known from coast to coast through his extensive manufacturing of chocolate. He left his office in Wall St. in N.Y. City, about eight months ago, because of declining health. Since coming here, he had kept in touch, daily, with his office and factory in Brooklyn, etc.
William H. Baker was born Sept. 7, 1851, at Cold Water Mich...... In early life, he came with his parents to Parish, N.Y. While there, he conducted a general mercantile agency, until 1880, when he came to Syracuse. He shortly opened a wholesale grocery store in W. Water St. and was established here for eight years.

Eighteen years ago Mr. Baker opened the now famous chocoate establishment in Brooklyn. The concern grew until now it is one of the greatest manufactories in the country. It's products are shipped to all parts of the world. Mr. Baker spent most of his time in the metropolis, visiting his home here only occasionally. His son William H. Jr. was taken into the firm some time ago and is now conducting it.
mr. Baker was a prominent member of the Masonic order of Parish. Besides his widow, Mrs. Eliza Catherine Baker, and son, he is survived by two brothers in California. Burial at Parish.
(Note that only one brother resided in Calif., the other in Mexico).

On same page, is another article, re: William's ownershi[p of 19,000 shares of a bankrupt company, Pierce Butler and Pierce Co., which was being iònvestigated at his request.

1915, Feb. 26, Oswego Daily Times, obit., adds that he lived as a child in Mexico, before moving to Parish. On 1889, he came to Oswego, ..., then listed his two brothers, one in Mexico and one in California.

1915, Feb. 26, Brooklyn Daily Eagle, adds that his chocolate factory was located at 49-61 Clymer St., Brooklyn, which he opened in 1899. He had about 55 empoyees in Brooklyn. He was the Pres. of William H. Baker, Syracuse Incorporated, with an office at 79 Wall St. Manhattan. He never lived in Brooklyn, but frequently stopped here and in Manhattan hotels. he is survived by a son William H., of Boonton N.J., and two grandchildren.

BAKER ESTATE TO WIDOW AND SON.
The will of William H. Baker, former head of William H. Baker, Inc., oen of the largest cocoa and chocolate manufacturing concerns in the East, leaves all his property to his widow, Mrs. Eliza Baker, and his osn William H. Baker . Probate filed this morning in Supreme Court. he owned no real estate. The largest holding in personal property was the stock of the company which he founded. It is likely the estate wil exceed $100,000, and possibly will be about $200,000.
Mr. Baer made his will on June 8, 1912, etc.
The earnings of the corporation have been great during the last few years, especially since Mr. Baker won in the litigation between the six Baker concerns manufacturig chocolate and cocoa.

1917, June, Tuesday, Syracuse Journal.
Brought here for burial. Mrs. Eliza C. Mosher Baker, widow of William H. Baker, the well-known chocolate manufacturer, died Monday, at Saranac, where she had been staying for her health for two weeks. Funeral will be held from her late home 1483 S. State St. Mr. Baker died in February 1915. Surviving is one son William H. Baker Jr. of New York.

1917, June 16, Sat. The Post Standard, Syracuse, N.Y.
William H. Baker, son of Mrs. Eliza Baker, who died at Saranac Lake, June 4, 1917, filed with Surrogate Sadler, for Letters of Administration on his mother's estate. The value of personal estate is placed at $15,000. The amount of real estate is believed to exceed that of her personal property. The entire estate goes to the son, who lives at Boonton, N.J.

In 1899, William H. Baker of Winchester, VA, was also in the business of manufacturing Cocoa and chocolate. The Virginia man had been in business longer and was copyrighted. He sued William H. Baker, of Syracuse, trying to prevent the Syracuse William from using the same name. The Virginia man lost his case.

1900, March 15, New York Times.
William H. Baker, of Syracue, incorporated his business to manufacture chocolate. Capital was $10,000.

1901, Sept. The Syracuse Journal.
In Winchester VA, a kidnapping attempt was made on Marshall Baker, age seven, who was snatched from his bed. Marshall was the son of the Winchester Virginia, William H. Baker, who was several times a millionaire, and had his office at 194 Broadway, N.Y. City. He was one of the richest men in the State of Virginia. The kidnapper had to uncover the boy's face when he was unfastening the front door to leave, allowing Marshall to scream for his old black nurse, mammy. His father, brother and nurse ran to help him. The kidnapper became frightened and dropped the child and ran. No clue to the kidnapper was found.

1902, April 17, The Syracuse Journal. William H. Baker of Syracuse, won again in U.S. State Circuit Court of Appeals, when William H. Baker of Winchester, VA sued again, trying to prevent William of Syracuse from using his name in the chocolate business.

1907, Sept. 23, Brooklyn Daily Eagle.
Baker and Co. Chocolate Works Burned. Spontaneous combustion caused the lively fire at 49-53 Clymer St. The building had automatic sprinklers and fire alarm, which saved the building. Baker's company occupied the 5th and 6th floor of the building. The fire spread to the third and fourth floor. Baker's damages were $2,000. The building was owned by John Cowperthwaite.

1909, William H. Baker, of Syracuse, was again sued by the Walter Baker Chocolate Co. for the same reason. William, of Syracuse, won again.

ELLA JANE BAKER AND CHARLES CHASE AND MARCUS lAFAYETTE TEMPLE AND MELVIN BLAKESLEE

#94. Ella Jane or Elen was born 30 April 1862, near Sayles Corners, Oswego Co. N.Y. (I think that was in Mexico, N.Y.). Ella was daughter of James Adra Baker (Joseph2, Mathew1) and Nancy Brownell. Ella died May 27, 1941 Mexico, Oswego Co. N.Y.; buried Vermilion Cemetery.

Ella Jane Baker married first 20 Oct 1880 Charles Chase, according to W.F.T. Needs proof.

Ella married (?second) 1 Nov. 1893 Marcus Lafayette Temple, born October 26, 1835, died January 5, 1918, born and died Paradise, Palermo, Oswego Co. N.Y.; buried Vermilion Cemetery; son of Parmenas (b. 1783) and Sarah (Starkweather) Temple of Palermo.
South Mexico, Oswego Co. N.Y. Wellwood Cem. Temple family burials: Frank C., Myrtle, Purmenas, Sarah, Samuel B.

Either Daisy Zwicky, (dec'd), or the small Barron mss listed the Temple and Blakeslee marriages also.

The Mexico Independent Thursday, May 29, 1941.
MRS. ELLA BLAKESLEE DIED FROM LONG ILLNESS.
Ella, 79 yrs, die dat her home in Church St., Tuesday; was in failing health for three yrs. Mrs. Blakeslee had long been a respected resident of this community and had lived practically all her life here.
She was born near Sayles Corners, April 30, 1862, the d/o James A. and Nancy Brownell Baker, and spent her early years in that vicinity.
On November 1, 1893, she was united in marriage with Marcus Temple. Two children, both surviving, were born to this union. They are Herbert E. Temple, of Central Square and Mrs. Louis Licourt of Church St. Mr. Temple passed away on January 5 1918.
On December 9 1922, she was married to Melvin A. Blakeslee of Cazenovia. Their four children, who survive, are Merton and Fred Blakeslee, Mrs. Lyman Hayes of Cazenovia, and Mrs. Hattie Pittman of Williamson. Mr. Blakeslee died in 1929.
She is survived by several nephews, nieces and grandchildren. Mrs. Blakeslee was an active member of the Methodist Churches in Wellwood and Cazenovia for many years. Funeral etc. in Vermilion Cemetery. Bearers are Nelson Hardie, Henry Trowbridge, Ward Castle, Leonard Smith, Walter Preston and William Fish.

(Note that Mrs. Lyman Hayes was Grace. Merton was Merton D. All the Temple and the Blakeslee ch. listed in Ella's obit. were her step-children. She apparently had no isuue.

Oswego Times, January 1918. OBITUARY LaFayette Temple.
Lafayette Temple, aged 82 yrs, 3 months, a lifelong resident of Paradise, town of Palermo, died January 5 1918 from pleural Pneumonia at the home of James F. Baker of Richland, Mrs. Temple's brother, where they had been with Mr. Baker, since August.
Mr. Temple was born Oct. 26 1835, on the old homestead, where he had lived all his life, excepting for about a yr and a half. His father moved there from Springfield MA and settled there when the country was new. He moved by team and was seven days in coming. Respected etc. etc. Kind husband and father and Mrs. Temple and the son: Herbert and Mrs. Lura Licourt, the daughter, the daughter, and one brother Thomas, while grieving etc. Baptised late in life in the faith. Funeral by Rev. C.F. Miller of Mexico, January 8, 1918, at his late home, buried Vermilion Cemetery.

Ella married (?third) 9 Dec. 1922 Melvin A. Blakeslee, of Cazenovia, N.Y. He died 1929, (Ella's obit).

Melvin A. Blakeslee was born 1851 NY, (s/o Philander C. (b. ca 1816/1819 NY and Eunice Blakeslee b. ca 1841 NY), was of Fenner, Madison Co. NY in 1860 census with parents and siblings.

MARY ELIZABETH BAKER AND MR. WHITE AND G.S.L. SIKES AND JOHN MORROW AND WILLIAM A. RAINES

116 97. Mary Elizabeth Baker aka "Mollie" was the d/o Edwin R. Baker (Albert 3 prob., Matthew2,1) and Verlatia Moore. Mary Elizabeth was born 29 Sept. 1854 in Illinois. Mary died 2 Nov. 1933, 79 yrs, 1 mo, 2 days. Oklahoma City, OK. Senile.

Mary Elizabeth Baker married first ca 1872 to Mr. White, prob. TX. He was b. Ark.

Mary (Baker) White married second to G.S.L. Sikes, likely born Illinois, who died ca 1878/80.

Mary (Baker) Sikes married third 20 Sept. 1880 prob. in TX, to John Morrow. He was b. MO.

Mary (Baker) Morrow married fourth 3 Nov. 1885 Denton Co. TX to William A. Raines, b. Dec. 1842 VA, d. after 1920 census, perhaps in Garvin Co. OK.
Note that 1900 census indicates marr. was ca 1883 and probably late in the year if correct.

Mary was a young child when her parents moved to Texas, perhaps a babe in arms.

1860 Denton Co. TX.
1860 census Elizabeth Baker 6 yrs w/par., but no Mary.
1870 census Mary Baker 16 yrs w/par, but no Elizabeth.

1870 census, Denton and Lewisville, Denton Co. TX. #5 Edwin Baker 38 yrs, b. OH (ca 1832), no Real Estate, Personal prop. $200, wife Verlatia 38 yrs b. IL, Caroline 18 yrs b. IL, Mary C. (sic) 16 yrs b. IL, Nancy 14 yrs b. IL, John 11 yrs b. TX, George 11 b. TX. Neighbors were Harper, Carrouthers, Hair, Mills.

1880 June 14 census, Denton Co. TX, Pct. 1, p. 23 on left Sup'r 3, E.D. 100, p.12C stamped on right.
195.201. Edwin R. Baker, 48 yrs b. OH (ca 1832), father b. MA, mother b. OH, Farmer; wife Verlatia 48 yrs b. IL, father b. N.C., mother b. Ind. Ch. George W. 21 yrs, John F. 21 yrs, Reed S. 9 yrs, Lucinda F. 5 yrs, all b. TX, parents and all have father b. OH and mother b. IL. George and John's occup. laborer on farm. End of page.

The numbers indicate this was a double house. Mary was listed at the top of next p.12D.
195.202. Mary Sikes, Head, widow, 26 yrs, b. IL, father b. OH, mother b. Il. Farm Laborer, dau. Nancy E., G. or J.

Sikes 2 yrs b. TX, father b. IL, mother b. IL, dau Margrett ?C. White, 8 yrs, b. TX, father b. Ark, mother b. IL. Dau. Lulu E. White, 5 yrs b. TX, father b. Ark, mother b. IL.

Note that the Mormon extraction of this census lists Lulu as Sikes incorrectly. The actual census lists Margrett as surname White, then Lulu with a line at the surname under White, which assumes she is surname White. Also, her father matches that of margrett's father's birthplace.

Mary remarried shortly after this census. John Morrow would have taken on the raising of three children. However, the marriage was no longer than five years.

Edwin was listed in Denton Co. in 1885 Tax list. Does that mean that he resided there? Did Mary live close to her parents in 1885, when she no longer had a husband?

1920 Ft. Worth, Tarrant Co. TX, Ward 4.
840.5.9. George W. Baker, 63 yrs, b. TX (ca 1857), both par. b. IL, wf Alice, 61 yrs, b. MO, both par. b. MO; Lodger, Charles F., 36 yrs, b. NY x3, Lodger Charles M., 57 yrs b. VA x3. Assumption was that the lodgers surnames were Baker, but must not be correct as they were born in different States.

No George W. Baker was found in Ft. Worth in 1910 census. I don't know if this George in 1920, with a new wife, was the George Baker of this mss.

WHERE - 1930 census, One George W. Baker b. 1857 TX, both par. b. IL, res. with a wife Alice.

If our George died in 1943 in Tarrant Co., might he be the man of this census?

JOHN FRANKLIN BAKER AND RENA MACKEY AND AMANDA LYNCH AND LYDIA BECK

100. John Franklin Baker was s/o Edwin R. Baker (prob. Albert3, Matthew 2,1) and Verlatia Moore. John was born 13 Sept. 1859 Denton Co. TX. Twin. John's year of birth agrees with 1860 and 1880 census w/par. John died 10 April 1929 Wise Co. TX from Arteriosclerosis. (Ref: Wise Co. deaths).

Cannot find this info. online, 2007, must be rechecked as to whether official info from funeral home, or was subm. by someone.
Wise Co. TX funeral parlor online gives his parents as Edward and Verlada (Moore) Baker. Mentions brother George of Denton TX. Lists John F. Baker as born 13 Sep 1856.

John F. Baker was born ca 1856 acc. to 1910 census.
WFT lists his birth 13 Oct. 1856.

John Franklin Baker married first ca 1880-1883 to Rena Mackey.

John Franklin Baker married second 7 Oct. 1884 to Amanda Lynch. (Wise Co. marriages). WFT lists her death 16 Feb. 1902 Wise TX.

WFT info.
John Franklin Baker married third on 31 Dec. 1904, Wise TX, to Lydia Ann Beck, b. 20 April 1873 LA, d. 8 Jul 1945 Wise TX.
Lydia died 1945 (Wise Co. Deaths).

1910 census confirms marr. ca 1904/5 to Liddie, who was born ca 1874 TX.

Notes:
Interestingly, one Rachel PLACE married 1845 in Delaware Co. OH. The wife of Albert Baker would be expected to be named Baker, not PLACE if it was the the same woman.
There were several people named Place in Delaware Co. OH.

A Duke family online is trying to place Elizabeth Baker b. 1886 who m. Mr. Williams, maybe Wm Taylor Williams, as dau. of John F. Baker and wf Amanda Lynch.

GEN. 5

CAROLYN SHERWOOD AND JOHN SEYMOUR MUNRO

136. Carolyn Sherwood was d/o Mary Larkin (Maria Baker3, James2, Matthew1) and Edward Duane Sherwood, (s/o Gaylord N.). She was born 20 Feb. 1860, Memphis, Onondaga Co. N.Y., died shortly before 30 April 1915 in Camillus, (obit).

Carolyn married 22 Sept 1880, probably in Onondaga Co., to John Seymour Munro, born January 1856, N.Y., died Nov. 1924, at 68 yrs of age, Camillus N.Y. His obit. was published in the 23 Nov. issue of the Syracuse Post Standard. John was the son of David Allen Munro and Mary Jane Hill, who was the daughter of Isaac Hill.

Marcelus Weekly Observer, April 30 1915. Mrs. John S. Munro of Camillus died Friday. Rev. L. J. Silcox Pastor of Baptist Church officiated at her funeral.There was a magnificent floral display, including pieces from pupils of Camillus High School, Camillus Travel Club, and Sherwood Bros. Manufacturing Co. of Canastota. Six of her nephews were bearers Thomas H., David Allen, Philip A., and Edwin K. Munro of Camillus; E. Duane Sherwood and Henry M. Sherwood of Fayetteville.
Out of town relatives were: Isaac H. Munro and family of Syracuse, Mrs. Florence B. Nichols of Rochester, Otis M. Bigelow of Baldwinsville, Mrs. Louise B. Owens of Baldwinsville, John L. Sherwood and family, of Fayetteville, Miss Mary Porter of Lysander, Mrs. Browner A. Gere, Mr. and Mrs. John Bates, Mrs. J.M. Doust (wife of Dr. Doust), Mrs. Emma E. Munro, Mr. and Mrs. Wing R. Smith of Syracuse.

Mrs. Carrie (Sherwood) Munro was born at Memphis, Feb. 20 1860, daughter of Mary C.L. Larkin and E. Duane Sherwood, who kept a general store many years in Camillus Village on North and Mains Sts. Carrie moved to the village when very young, and lived there all her life. She joine dth eBaptist church as a young girl. On Sept 22 1880 Carrie married John S. Munro. They lived on ?Trolley farm 'til Nov. 1897; after that they lived in a house built by her father.
Besides her husband, the deceased is survived by three children, Mrs. S. B. Broen of Canastota, Sybil and Seymour munro of Camillus; a brother John L. Sherwood of Fayetteville; a grandson Samuel Munro Brown of Canastota; Uncle Charles E. Sherwood of Camillus and her own cousin Dr. A. E. Larkin of Syracuse.

Carrie attended Wells College at Aurora N.Y. She was proficient in music and was a beautiful pianist. She was an organist at the Baptist church for awhile. Carrie was a quiet, unassuming person, religious, gentle, benevolent, did good works and had a happy home life. She passed away peacefully at her home after a ten year illness, which she bore courageously. Burial will be in Maplewood Cemetery.

The Sherwood nephews, who were bearers, were children of Carrie's brother John Larkin Sherwood. I cannot identify any of the other out of town relatives, as having descended from Carrie's Larkin or Baker families, most having predeceased her.

The grandson was an adopted child.

John and Carolyn resided on the James M. Munro farm until his father's death, when they moved to the old homestead. In 1898, he occupied the large brick Sherwood house on Main St., ?Camillus, across from the Methodist Church. John tutored at home and abroad under Professor Bridgeman of Syracuse. He was a deacon of the Camillus Baptist Church for many years and was connected with the Baptist Educational Society. He was reelected Trustee of Cook Academy and President of the Camillus School Board for numerous terms. When the Erie Canal was being improved in the 1890's, stone from his quarries on the old farm was installed on the Jordan level of the canal.

John owned a Mora automobile, the first car in Camillus. A picture, on page 116, in Amongst The Hills of Camillus shows several of this family. Caroline appears to be a slim attractive lady, hoding the hand of Sybil, who was a small child about three years old at the time. Rosita was a grown woman who appeared slim and attractive. For more on the Sherwood and Munro families, see Amongst The Hills Of Camillus by Mary Maxwell.

John S. Munro's obituary listed him as director and Vice Pres. of Camillus bank. He died suddenly at his home in Camillus, probably from heart Disease. John's father David Allen Munro was born in Elbridge in 1818, son of David Munro. David Allen Munro was County Judge and member of the State legislature for many years. His great grandfather was Squire Munro, who served in the Rev. War, and settled in this area in 1799.

John S. Munro's three siblings predeceased him.
John studied at Syracuse Classical School, travelled to Europe in 1875 and also to Egypt and Palestine.
John settled on 500 acres of land in 1878 and was a progressive agriculturist and stock breeder. He retired several years ago to the village of Camillus. John was Pres. of the Onondaga Brick and Tile Co., which has a plant at Warners. He was Pres. of the Camillus Board of Education for many years. He was Treas. of the Maplewood Cemetery Ass'n. and an active member of Camillus Baptist church. John was survived by his son Seymour Munro and two daughters, Mrs. Samuel Brown of Detroit and Mrs. Donald G. Kirk of Cicero, N.Y. His funeral was held at his home and burial was in Maplewood Cemetery.

John and Carolyn resided on the James M. Munro farm until his father's death when they moved to the old homestead. In 1898, he occupied the large brick Sherwood house on Main St., ?Camillus, across from the Methodist Church. John tutored at home and abroad under Professor Bridgeman of Syracuse. He was a deacon of the Camillus Baptist Church for many years and was connected with the Baptist Educational Society. He was reelected Trustee of Cook Academy and President of the Camillus School Board for numerous terms. When the Erie Canal was being improved in the 1890's, stone from his quarries on the old farm was installed on the Jordan level of the canal.

He owned a Mora automobile, the first car in Camillus. A picture on page 116 in Amongst The Hills of Camillus shows several of this family. Caroline appears to be a slim attractive lady, hoding the hand of Sybil who was a small child about three years old at the time. Rosita was a grown woman who appeared slim and attractive. For more on the Sherwood and Munro families, see Amongst The Hills Of Camillus by Mary Maxwell.

~~79.~~ Harriet was the daughter of Lorenda W. Parker (Mary Carolyn3, James M.2, Matthew Baker1) and John Knox Knox. She was born 14 January 1873 in the James Millard Baker house on Bennett´s Corners Road in Camillus, N.Y. She died at age 90, about 1963, having fractured her hip in a fall. She was a spinster. ~~[illegible]~~ Marilyn Baker Gandenberger believes her to be buried in one of the boroughs of NYC (not [illegible])

Never had fractured Hip

Or 1874 When she was about one year of age her parents moved to Skaneateles. She graduated from the Free School there in 1869 at the age of 16. She taught high school students for two years before enrolling at age 18, at the Women´s Medical College of the New York Infirmary for Women and Children in New York City. She studied there for two years and at Cornell University for one year, graduating in 1894. She completed internship and residency programs, then became a licensed physician in New Jersey in 1897.

She practiced in Hackensack amidst initial prejudice against a woman physician. Since women physicians were not accepted for service during the Spanish American War of 1898, Harriet volunteered as a Red Cross Nurse. She served at Charleston, S. C. which was a port of embarkation for Cuba. At the time there was a typhoid epidemic at Charleston. She returned to Hackensack, making house calls first on horseback, then a hack, and in 1908 she purchased an auto, one of the first women to do so. She delivered babies for 40 years and practiced medicine for 60 years.

The New Jersey Medical Society presented her with a Golden Merit award for fifty years of service. In 1962, at the age of 89, she retired. When she began practice, there were only five or six physicians in Hackensack, when she retired there were more than eighty.
(The Advocate, Oct. 2, 1973, p. 5. printed in Onondaga Co.)

She was the first woman physician in Hackensack, N.J. An account of her life is in the Skaneateles, N.Y. library.

When she died she left her house and it´s contents to her housekeeper. She had many lovely antiques. The housekeeper did not realize the value of her antiques and was fleeced by neighbors and others, selling them for a pittance. Her Gandenberger cousins obtained some of her family pictures.

FRANK WALLRATH WAGGONER JR. AND ETHEL MILLS

140. Frank Wallrath Waggoner Jr., known as Wallace or Wally, was s/o Lillian D. Baker (Jerome3, James2, Matthew1) and Frank Wallrath Waggoner Sr. Frank Jr. was born 10 March 1875 in N.Y.S. He was alive in 1930 employed in Y.W.L. br. work in Brooklyn, N.Y. according to a recopied Dec. 29 1929 letter from his cousin Lorenda Knox to a friend in Camillus. 1930 census finds him employed as a secretary for Bedford YMCA in Brooklyn and lodging there.

The handwritten letter from Lorenda was transcribed by an unrelated lady who may have misread the letters Y.W.L., which could have been YMCA.

"Wally" Waggoner married ca 1897/8 to Ethel Mills, who was born Dec. 1880 N.Y., alive 1930 in Syracuse N.Y., residing with her sister Maude Britcher and husband Harry and her father Almon C. Mills.

Jerome Baker's descendant Mrs. Kathleen Kalamarides wrote in Oct. 2003 that he served in W.W. 1. Frank was in Poland and White Russia during W.W.1, with the Y.M.C.A. Wally served in Langree France. He was in Minsk just before the Russians invaded Minsk.She has a news article and a picture of him in uniform, which she doesn't recognise as of U.S. military issue.

Bill Emerson, an expert on military uniforms, identified the uniform that Wally was wearing as a National Guard Uniform of N.Y.S. It is believed that the picture in his uniform was taken a few years before the published newspaper article.

CLARENCE J. BAKER WEDS MISS OSBORN

URBANA YOUNG PEOPLE UNITED AT BRIDE'S HOME.

Isaac Kuhn Will be Married in New York City—Other Nuptial Events in Twin Cities and Elsewhere.

Mr. Clarence James Baker and Miss ela Gertrude Osborn were united in arriage, Saturday night at 8:30 'clock by Rev. R. F. McDaniel, pas- or of the First M. E. church, at the ome of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. ouglas Osborn, 1108 West Clark treet.

Miss Blanch Fowler played the ridal march as the bride and groom unattended took their places in the arlor, where they were united, the ing service being used.

The bride was attired in white silk mull, trimmed in lace, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. After the ceremony a four-course supper was served.

The house was beautifully decorated with sweet peas and hydrangeas.

The young couple left that night for an extended trip to Chicago, Milwaukee and other points on the Great lakes.

The bride is a graduate of the Thornburn high school and attended the University. She is an active worker in Trinity M. E. church. The groom is a graduate of the University and later was instructor in chemistry in that institution. He is now principal of the Taylorville high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker will be at home to their friends after September 1, at Taylorville.

Isaac Kuhn to Wed.

Isaac Kuhn, one of the executive heads of the Joseph Kuhn & Co. corporation, has departed for York, Pa., where on Tuesday he will be married to Miss Adler, a daughter of one of the prominent residents of that city. Mr. Kuhn has resided in Champaign all his life, is public spirited and enterprising and is a power in business circles and in the business advancement of Champaign. After a trip back to Chicago and a brief visit with friends there the couple will come to Champaign and make their home at 304 West Hill street.

F. K. Rambo is Married.

The Courier-Herald has received the announcement of the marriage of Mr. Forrest K. Rambo and Miss Luella Lyndell Lyman of Rogers City, Mich., on Monday, July 22. Mr. Rambo will be remembered by many as one of the managers of the Courier-Herald baby contest, conducted about a year ago. The young people will be 1913. I did not find Clarence in City Directory in Denver.

1918, 12 September, Clarence James Baker resided in Chicago, Cook Co. IL; World War I Draft Registration in Chicago at Draft Board 81. This is a poor copy of card ?#3163, 499, 12-1-42-C. I cannot read his home address at 122(?9) L___ ?Av. He listed himself as 33 years old, born 22 July 1885, occupation Chemist for the Calument Baking Powder Co. in Chicago. I cannot read the address of his employment. He named his mother Ada Baker as his next of kin, who was then residing at ?1233 ___ St. in Springfield Missouri. I cannot decipherher middle initial. Clarence was six foot tall, medium build, blue eyes, black hair.

Clarence's widowed Mother Ada Baker was in Springfield MO, residing with a sister Harriet hill in 1920 census. Ada died and was buried there in 1921.

1918 was close to the time that the war ended, so he may not have served, which agrees with census.

1920 census, Chicago, Cook Co. IL, January 6 census, Ward 13, p. 67, Sheet 4 A, Sup'r Dist 1, E.D. 779, Laurindale Ave. indexed as Clarance (sic) Baker.

No occup. daughter Marian A., 14 years born IL ca 1916, son Herbert D. 12 years born ca 1918, both children list father born CO and mother born IL.

1930 census Urbana IL, W. Green St. Lela's parents still resided there. Douglas Osborn was then an Insurance Agent and Emma was keeper of a lodging house. No ch. in house. 1930 census Lela's brother Dean Osborn seems to be the one residing in Grand Rapids, Kent Co. MI, 33 yrs, a W.W. I Veteran, married to Ella L., with 4 children.

Dean was said to have middle name Harold according to an ancestry.com submitter. I did not find him in 1920 census.

I did not find Clarence listed in W.W.II Draft Registration.

ILLINI AND THE WAR . . .

By QUITA BERNER

After months of aerial combat against the Nazis, Lt. Glen Wensch a Mustang fighter pilot of Champaign decided to see first-hand the damage his outfit had wrought from the air, so he recently obtained a three-day pass and hitchhiked his way toward the front.

After visiting the shambles of Aachen and Duren, he crossed the Rhine by pontoon bridge at Remagen and traveled as far as Kalenhorn, then only two miles from the battle line. Apparently satisfied by this time that his unit had been doing a real job, Wensch then picked up a Nazi officer's dress dagger and an elite flag staff standard as souvenirs and headed back for his base in Belgium.

Lt. Wensch is the holder of the air medal with four clusters and the presidential unit citation for "extraordinary heroism, determination and esprit de corps in action against the enemy," and a member of the 352nd fighter group, which has downed more than 650 Nazi planes. He was a senior at the University before entering the army and had been employed in the engineering department of Commonwealth Edison company.

It recently has been announced by the 4th air force headquarters that Herbert D. Baker ex'40, of Oak Park, has been promoted to captain. Gen 6

Captain Baker was an accountant with the Bendix Aviation corporation, South Bend, Ind., prior to his commission in March, 1943, and after a year's assignment at 4th fighter command in Oakland

Dear Ms. Baker,

Thank you for your e-mail re: Herbert D. Baker. We do not have any sort of biography on Mr. Baker, but, in investigating your request, we have found some information that you may be interested in. Below is a brief summary of the research we conducted.

First, we checked the Alumni and Faculty Biographical File (record series 26/4/1) and we did not find a folder for any Mr. Baker. This is not uncommon given the vast number of students who have passed through the University over the years.

We also checked the 1998 Alumni Directory (26/4/801) and there were two entries for a Herbert Baker, one a Master's Degree recipient in 1939, with an address listing him as in Greenwood, Indiana and the other a B.S. in Commerce recipient with an address listing him in Pacific Palisades, California. d. in CA

We next checked the Illio Yearbooks (41/8/805) for 1939 and 1940 and found several entries on a Herbert Baker, who in the 1940 Illio, which covers academic year 1939-40, is listed in his senior portrait as Herbert Douglas Baker of Oak Park, Illinois, graduating in General Business in the College of Commerce. This entry also lists that clubs and organizations he was a member of throughout his time at the University including, Alpha Kappa Psi, Accountancy Club, Band of X, Skull and Crescent, The Daily Illini (Freshman), Interfraternity Council (Junior and Senior), and Commerce Council (Junior and Senior).

We then checked the Board of Trustee Reports (1/1/802) to confirm that his name was among the degrees conferred and on p. 1022 of the 1938-40 volume, his name appears. If you would like to see a digitized version of this record, please click on the following link:

http://uihistoriesproject.chass.illinois.edu/cgi-bin/rview_browsepdf?REPOSID=8&ID=8118&pagenum=1024&query=herbert%20douglas%20baker

Please note that this link was originally created as part of a student project and is now maintained by the creator in conjunction with the University Archives.

Finally, we checked the Daily Illini student newspaper (41/8/801), which has been digitized from 1916-45. It is part of the Illinois Digital Newspaper Collection, which also has the Urbana Courier digitized from 1903-35. On this website, I found several matches for Herbert Baker, but only twenty-three for "Herbert Baker" some of which pertain to the Mr. Baker in Commerce and others pertaining to other Herbert Bakers. This website can be accessed via the following link:

www.library.illinois.edu/idnc

When using this site, you can narrow your search results using the "Search within results" box in the bottom left of the screen.

I hope that you find this information helpful. If you are interested in reproductions of the yearbook pages mentioned above, please let us know and we can arrange to make copies for you. Additionally, please let us know if there are any other lines of inquiry that we can assist with.

Thank you for working with the U of I Archives.

His mother died in childbirth. He was raised at the Medina farm by his grandparents with the help of his maiden Aunt Florence. He suffered with Pyloric Stenosis as a baby and almost died. His father Edward was away much of the time, living in Buffalo operating the Baker Brothers Meat Market.

The family moved to 60 Bruce Ave. Yonkers, NY, perhaps about the time the Medina farm was sold in 1904. George graduated from Yonkers High School and Union College near Schenectady in 1911 as an Electrical Engineer. He met his future wife at college. He served in France in the US Army Engineers during WWI, but not in active fighting. He installed electrical systems in hospitals while in service.
Later, he was employed for Bell Telephone Laboratories on 14th St. in NYC, until retirement in 1950.

George resided in Teaneck, NJ for many years.

Dr. Harriet Knox, his second cousin from Onondaga Co. NY, was his family Physician in the 1920-30's in NJ. Lorenda Parker Knox and dau. Dr. Harriet were frequent dinner guests at their house. The two women talked of losing money in the Stock Crash of 1929.

Note; I have a group picture which includes Clara and George, taken at Uncle Jim's home in Asheville, probably in the 1940's. Cousin Dr. Harriet Knox in picture, was then living in N.J. and must have taken the trip to N.C. with George.

HOMER EDWARD BAKER SR. AND GEORGIA MAE BLACK

146. Homer Edward Baker[5] was the son of Charles Henry Baker[4] (Charles A.[3], James M.[2], Matthew[1]) and wife Nellie Collins. Homer was born at 877 Main St, Buffalo, Erie Co. N.Y. on June 8, 1893, but soon moved with his parents to Brooklyn. He died Nov. 25, 1977, 84 years, Williamsport, Lycoming Co. PA of a Myocardial Infarction. Homer was buried in Resthaven Cemetery, Phelps, Ontario Co. N.Y. with daughter Jackie's husband Oliver Humphrey, who died a year earlier.

Homer married Georgia Mae Black July 15, 1924 in San Antonio, TX, at midnight, on Dr. Gates front porch of the First Baptist Church. Dr. Gates had been on a Baptist Sunday School Watermelon party. Homer and Georgia had been dancing on the Elk's Roof with childhood friends, Mr. and Mrs. Pelfrey, Undertaker. Georgia was 24 and Homer was 31 years of age.

Homer obtained a divorce in Miami, Dade Co. Florida April 22, 1949, since it was difficult to obtain one in New York State. He stayed in Fl. just long enough to satisfy requirements for the divorce. Neither remarried.

Georgia, was born April 7, 1900 in Fredonia, Caldwell Co. KY. She died 25 Oct. 1980 in Daytona Beach, Volusia County Fl, 80 years, Cardiovascular Accident. She was buried in Volusia Memorial Park Cem. Ormond Beach, Fl. where daughter Betty Miller and son Homer Baker Jr. resides.

Georgia was the daughter of David A., Black (David L.[4], Samuel[3],[2],[1]) and wife Jennie Brelsford, (Samuel3, Hiram2, Nathan1). Both of her parents were Caldwell Co. Kentucky families that had moved to Texas after the Civil War. Georgia was orphaned by the time she was 10 years of age and all her grandparents died before Georgia's birth. Georgia and her two siblings grew up while residents of the Buckner Academy, an orphanage in Dallas, Texas. Georgia graduated from the Physician's and Surgeon's Hospital in San Antonio, graduating May 14, 1923 as a Registered Professional Nurse. The name of the hospital was later changed to Baptist Memorial Hosp. I think it was owned by a Holmes cousin by marriage, who was a physician?

> David A. Black was born 10 Nov. 1861 Princeton, Caldwell Co. KY, died 10 March 1903 of TB at Leesville, Gonzales Co. TX. Jennie Mae Brelsford was born 19 May 1864 Prnceton, KY, died 30 April 1910, San Antonio, Bexar County TX, of Acute Cardiac Paralysis and Intermittent Fever. Both had previous spouses.
> David had a brief previous marriage to Ellen O'Brien, who died within a year of marriage. Jennie was previously married to her cousin Dr. David M. Dodds. Dodds reportedly died in a hunting accident. Neither had issue by their first spouses. Georgia's parents were also cousins. David was employed by a railroad in Caldwell Co. KY before his death. Jennie took the family to TX, where she had relatives, when David was hemorrhaging from TB and not expected to live. He died soon after their arrival.

Rev. Samuel Black[1], a Presbyterian preacher, came to this country from Ireland ca. 1732. He was educated for the ministry at Edinburgh Scotland. He first resided in Chester Co. PA., then to Delaware and later moving near relatives in Albemarle Co. VA, where he later died at age 70. Nathan Brelsford, Georgia's earliest proven maternal side ancestor, probably descended from the Quaker Brelsford family of Buck's Co. PA in the mid 1600's, but I have not found the proving linkage. Nathan was in Ohio briefly, perhaps Ross Co. in 1802, when son Hiram was born; but probably in Frederick and Hampshire Co. Va. previously. He may have been related to the early PA. Margerum family. Ck spelling). See Pioneer Preacher by Natalie Black and Emily Croom's Kentucky Brelsford and Kin. Emily did not find the connecting proof for Sam2 Black, but he was lsited in Caldwell Co. KY records as father of Sam3 Black).

May 1898, Homer Baker's parents signed a family agreement as to burials in the Whispering grove, Evergreen Cem. plot purchased in 'Bklyn by his grandmother, Nellie (Gaylor) (Collins) (Clark) Caldwell. Thus, Charles and Nellie Baker were in B'klyn by this date. That indicates that Homer started his education in Brooklyn.

Homer was listed on 1900 census at 26 Berkeley Place, B'klyn, with his parents and grandmother Nellie Louisa and step grandfather Charles P. Caldwell and his Aunt Edith and her husband John C. Davidson in Bklyn.

1901, Homer and family still at Berkeley Place (City Dir.).
1901, Aug. Homer and family at 35 St. Mark's Place when sister Ruth was born (bible).
1902, Homer's grandmother Nellie Gaylor living with her 3rd husband Charles Caldwell at 471 First St. B'klyn, (City Dir). Not sure if Baker family residing there in 1902.

1903, Jany 30, Homer and family living at 261 Prospect Place when his father Charles Henry Baker died. Homer was nine years old. He was a skinny boy with long gangly legs. His childhood pictures show that he had a handsome face with beautiful round blue eyes and long eyelashes. He wore eyeglasses by the time that he was competing in athletic track races as 20 year old young man.

1904, Homer and family living at 33 Prospect Place. Homer's grandmother Caldwell died this year and it is possible that Homer's mother Nellie Jr. moved back with her mother Nellie Sr., when widowed. Homer's grandmother was ill for a period of time according to descendant Irene (Davidson) Howard. Davidson's may also have lived there.

Homer attended and graduated from P. S. #9, Brooklyn, 1900-1909. Homer became interested in foot racing and high jumping while a pupil at Public School #9. He captured the High Jumping Championship of The Public School Athletic League for three years in succession about 1908.

Obviously, Homer held that record for 5 yrs).

1910 April, Brooklyn, Kings Co. N.Y. 33 Prospect Place. Widow Nellie Baker, boarding house keeper, rented at the brownstone building. Son Homer and dau. Ruth in hh. This was the house where Nellie's mother, also Nellie, died 2 November 1904. Jack Fisher, a meat salesma, whom she was to marry a few months later, was a lodger at the house in this census.
Nellie had six other lodgers in house, Charles S. ?Pullrn, a meat salesman, age 58, his wf ?Erlisti, age 57 and his dau. Marguerite, age 26, a family from Maine; Esther H. Smith, age 26, and Aurelia or Amelia A. Smith, age 50 or 56, a Canadian family; John ?Mason, age 32, born N.Y. (parents born N.Y.S.), a leather worker. There is no indication that any of the lodgers were related to the Baker, Collins or Gaylor family. CITE FULLY.

Step-father Charles Caldwell was not with Nellie Collins Baker in 1910 census.

Homer attended Manual Training High School in Brooklyn for 3 yrs, 1910-1913, but did not graduate. He took a Law course at Fordham University for 2 months in 1913. (Homer's own written words).

Homer Baker's 1913 record.
N.Y. Times Feb. 16, 1919. Part of article abstracted.
.... A former Pelham Bay sailor, Newton P. or R. Brown, running unattached, raced away to victory in the 1,000-yard run at the national Junior indoor cahmpionship games at the Thirteenth Coast Artillery Armory in Brooklyn last night. The winner's time was 2:22, which was 3 and 4/5 seconds slower than the record for the event 2:18 and 1/5, made by HOMER BAKER of the N.Y. A.C. in 1913.

Homer was a member of the mercury foot New York Athletic Club from 1912-1916, and The Amateur Athletic Union.

Homer Baker served as an infantry soldier in the National Guard, (certificate of service 26562447), from Oct. 21, 1912 - 20 Jany 1914; 13 Feb. 1914-6 Feb. 1915; 10 March 1915-1916; the last muster roll with his name listed was on 9 Feb. 1916. He was in the Medical Detachment, 71st Regiment, Park Avenue, Brooklyn or N.Y.C.. He participated in drills, first aid, and shooting practice. He was Captain of Athletics. His unit was placed under Federal control in 1916 and was activated for overseas duty in 1917. At this time, Homer's vision did not pass approval for combat. He was required to turn in all uniforms and equipment, and was apparently separated from service at this time. In later years, he did not remember ever receiving his discharge papers. This appears to have been an oversight on the part of the National Guard. In 1971, he had correspondence with the Division of Military and Naval Affairs which located his service record but could not locate his discharge papers. There was nothing negative in the records. Homer was adament that he did not go A.W.O.L. Had he been fully activated to wartime service, the records probably would have been more reliably kept. He also served in the New York Militia.

Homer's races which were scheduled for Finland, Russia, Italy and South Africa had to be cancelled when he became stranded in Stockholm in Aug. 1914 at the outbreak of WWI. Banks were closed, American dollars were valueless. He took the only available train bound for Antwerp, Belgium. Two days later, at Stuttgard, Germany, he was detained without his visa, which had been confiscated. He escaped in a locked compartment on a train which was bound for the English Channel. A few days later he took a channel boat for Dover, Eng. stripped of his baggage and trophies. He finally arrived at his destination, Glasgow, Scotland. Although he was hungry and tired, having not slept for two days he ran two races at Ibrox Park to a crowd of 110,000 racing fans. In the second half mile race, he established a new Scottish record, previously held by Mel Sheppard. Between races, Homer fell asleep and was late to arrive for the second race. The crowd booed, not realizing the ordeal that Homer had endured. When that was explained, they cheered. He returned to the U.S. aboard the SS Cameronia, a Scottish Anchor Line, in Sept.

Track was so popular during Homer's running days, that he was asked for his autograph wherever he went. He also competed in many European countries including Oslo, Norway, Copenhagen, Denmark, and Olympic Stadium Stockholm Sweden where he continued his winning streak to crowds exceeding one hundred thousand enthusiasts.

Homer's family resided in a brownstone building at 261 Prospect Street in the Prospect Park West section. He was frequently seen running around the Parade Grounds of Prospect Park. Homer ran races while a member of the N.Y. Athletic Club. He beat the ranking Olympic and star ranking champions of his day, in the United States and Europe. He beat Ted Meredith, Mel Sheppard and Abel Kiviat. He was chosen as an alternate to the Olympics, I believe in 1911. He had to decline because he did not have funds to travel to Europe, his father having been deceased for some eight years. Athletes were not subsidized in those days. He beat Abel Kiviat in the 71st Regiment Armory in one of the most sensational races ever seen in New York. This established a new indoor track record of I minute, 56 4/5 seconds for the military half mile. He won the American A.A.U. Half Mile Championship, beating Melvin W. Sheppard in 1913 at Grant Park in Chicago. This win was repeated against Sheppard in 1914. This record held for 4 years. In 1914, he won the A.A.U. National Half Mile race at Baltimore, Md. He won the British half mile championship in record time at Stamford Bridge, England on July 4, 1914 in I minute 54 1/5 seconds, beating R. E. Atkinson and A. G. Hill who later became an Olympic champion. A week later, July 12th, he ran at Olympic Stadium, Berlin, Germany. He beat Germany's Hans Braunn who also was an Olympic champion. He won Danish records in Copenhagen and set a new German half mile record. He beat Mel Sheppard's Scottish record in Scotland. He established Scottish records for the half mile and 1000 yards.

On September 26, 1914, Homer established a new World Record for 660 yards in 1:20 1/5 seconds against Ted Meredith at Traver's Island Summer Club House, Pelham Manor, N.Y. (See N.Y. Times). Ted had been 1912 Olympic Champion and world record holder for the half mile. Homer's record held for 29 years. This race came into being because promoters wanted to pit the best world champ half miler, 880 yards, (Homer), against the best world champ quarter miler, 440 yards, (Ted). They compromised at 660 yards. Homer wrote that he had defeated all the middle distance runners of the world at this time.

Homer did a bit of sailing in 1914, at Travers Island on Long Island Sound, in a gig, a racing craft with sail and oars, heavier than a scull. He told of one hair raising day when the craft overturned in a sudden squall. His life was in danger before being rescued after about an hour. His rescuers, in another boat were alerted by his lusty yells.

1914, Homer sailed from Glasgow Scotland on the ship Cameronia arriving in NY City on August 23. He was 21 yrs old. He was processed through Ellis Island. He gave his last place of residence as Brooklyn N.Y.

This was after his world track record in Europe and his travails after being detained in Germany because of the declaration of World War 1.

The dirt track made the time fairly slow, but the mile went to Ike Messer with a 70 yard handicap in 4:21 2/5.
HOMER BAKER found the track to his liking in thre half, for he made that in 1:59 4/5.

BAKER ENTERS THE CHAMPIONSHIPS

Against the advice of a physician and his club officials, Homer Baker the international half mile champion will compete in the national championships at San Francisco. he sent his entry for the half mile run to Chairman Rubien of the National Championship Committee yesterday, with an explanationatory note that his injured leg had recovered and he would be in shape to leave for the coast on July 23. Baker was injured in a motorcycle accident and developed water on the right knee. He was advised by a physician that he would have to remain out of athletics the entire summer. Baker has been training quietly for several days, but not at the Travers Island track of the N.Y.A.C. He is said to be in good shape.

1917, June 2, Homer E. Baker registered for the Military Draft in New York City. Registration card 2716 or 2786, difficult to decipher. Registrar's Report 31-9-45-A. Homer was 23 yrs, b. 8 June 1893, Buffalo, N.Y., resided at 33 Prospect Place Bklyn, occup. was auto transportation, self employed. His mother was a partial dependent. He was single. He had prior military service as a Pvt in National Guard for 4 yrs in N.Y. Homer claimed exemption to the Draft because he had tried to enlist in the Army and was rejected because of poor eyesight and hearing and bad knees. Homer was listed as tall, of slender build, with blue eyes, brown hair. signed by P.J. Sculley, City of N.Y.

From December 1916 to December 1918, Homer Baker was Physical Director for the U.S. Ordinance Department at Camp Morgan, South Amboy, N.J. There, he directed soldiers and government employees in physical training and recreation, consisting of boxing, swimming and clubhouse activities. The job ended when this building was devastatingly destroyed in an explosion on Oct. 4, 1918. The munitions exploded when Homer was on the premises, but miraculously he was not injured. He was near the Administration building until near midight. Damage was in excess of eighteen million dollars. Hundreds died, thousands were injured. Fiery debris, exploding shells caused houses and other buildings to catch fire. Trainloads of explosives blew up. The plant was utterly destroyed.

Soon after this explosion, a devastating Flu epidemic occurred in the area which was the worst in the history of the world at that time. For two months, Homer drove a Red Cross ambulance to serve the flu and explosion victims. This was courageous because the stench of the dead was terrible. Drivers were scarce since they feared getting the disease. Homer made many trips to cemeteries since there were thousands of burials. I assume he was in the National Guard at this time.

The Armistice for W.W.I was signed in 1918.

From January 1919, to December 1920, Homer was Organizer and Director of the Todd shipyards Athletic Association, where he directed athletics, swimming, track, soccer, football. Todd shipyards built and repaired ships, and had 5000 employees at that time, 500 of which took part in athletics. In 1920, Homer was a member and coach of the 14th Infantry Regiment.

1920 January 6 and 7 census or Ward 6 and 7, Brooklyn, Kings Co. N.Y., Supervisor Dist. 3, Enum. Dist. 551, Sheet 3B. Handwritten pg #1016, also says p. 4933. 33 Prospect Place. House 33, house visit 46, family visit 52.
John Fisher, Head of rented house, 43 yrs, born N.Y., both parents born N.Y., Wholesale Butcher; wife Nellie 44 years born N.Y., both parents b. N.Y., no occup. listed. Homer Baker, step-son 26 yrs born N.Y., occup. ___ Shipping, Ruth Baker, step-dau. 18 yrs born N.Y., no occup. (Nellie's first cousin) Robert Bow and wife Sarah Gordon and daughter Clara Bow 14 yrs were living in the same house, but were listed as a separate family.
John Adlington and wife Mary A. also lived in this house as a separate family, but there is no known relationship.

Note that Homer Baker wrote in an application for employment that he worked for Todd Shipyard as an Athletic Director in this time frame.

Clara Bow later became a famous Silent Film Star, billed as the "It Girl." Her grandmother Kate Gaylor, siser of Nellie Gaylor, married William Addison Bow. Clara won a beauty contest when she was 16 years of age which included a screen test. She made some twenty odd pictures before "talkies" came into vogue and a few talkies later.

HOMER BAKER QUITS AMATEUR ATHLETICS
Famous Half-Miler Departs Today to Take Government Post in Canal Zone

Homer Baker's career as an amateur middle-didatnce runner has ended. The bespectacled representative of the Glencoe A.C., who holds the world's outdoor 660-yard record of 1:20 2/5 and who has twice held the national half-mile title, in addition to local championship honors won in nine years of competition, will sail today on the steamship Colon of the panama Line fro Cristobal. Baker is going to Panama to act as Government Director of Athletics in the Canal Zone. The appointment to this position was received by Baker from Washington several days ago. On his last visit to the Metropolitan A.A.U. headquarters baker turned in his registration card, as illustrating his permanent retirement from amateur competition.

Baker's long career includes brilliant victories in indoor and outdoor running, both in, both in this country and abroad. He captured the national half-mile title in 1913 and 1914, when he was competing as a member of the N.Y. A.C., and has held the military, local and British titles at this distance. Included in his exploits as a half-miler are victories over the once peerless mel Sheppard and Abel Kiviat, Ted meredith and A.G. Hill, British runner, who was victorious in the last Olympic games.

Baker started his career as an athlete in schoolboy circles about nine years ago. he began as a high jumper and won the title in public schools athletic competition for three successive years. When he entered the ranks of A.A.U. competitors, however, Baker discarded jumping for running. In 1913, at the senior national track and field championships, held at Grand Park, Chicago, Baker captured the half-mile title as a member of the N.Y. A.C. team, numbering among his vanquished rivals Mel Sheppard. The following year Baker successfully defended his title when he again defeated Sheppard. Subsequently, in a test at the Seventy-first Regiment Armory Baker showed the way to Abel Kiviat, then representing the Thirteenth Regiment in the Military Athletic League half-mile title race, establishing a M.A. L. recird of 1:56 4/5.

Following these successes Baker competed in the English championships held at Stamford Bridge July 4 1914. he captured the British half-mile title in 1:54 1/5, creating a new meet record for the distance and showing the way to Hill and R.E. Atkinson, a Cambridge athlete, who made the supreme sacrifice in the war. Subsequently, Baker went to Copenhagen, where he competed successfully and established several Danish records. He also competed in Berlin in half-mile and quarter-mile events, establishing several new records and then raced in Scotland. At Glascow,, he erased the Scottish 1,000-yard record, which had previously been held by mel Sheppard.
Upon his return to this country a match race was arranged between Baker and Ted Meredith at Travers Island, and the bespectacled runner raced to victory in the record time of 1:20 2/5. Baker has represented several clubs in open A.A.U. competition. Included in the list are the Central Y.M.C.A. of Brooklyn, the New York A.C., Todd Shipyards A.A. and the Glencoe A.C. The former champion was attached to the latter organization up to the time he received his appointment from Washington as Director of athletics for the Canal Zone.

This department served as Ship Toll collection and maintenance of the Army and Navy in Panama. There, Homer coached among others, Aline Riggins who became a swimming star as well as the lady who became the wife of the cartoonist Berndt, who created the well known comic strip character Smitty. In Panama, Homer joined the Sibert Masonic Lodge Gatun, Canal Zone, which was home-based in Massachusetts. In later years, he became a 32nd degree Mason and Shriner.

Homer was in Panama approximately two and a half years, where he supervised Physical Training and assisted with Inventory, etc. Homer conducted School drills, calisthenics, and Army/Navy cooperative work Leagues, (probably recreational). He sold and wrote articles while in Panama, which were published. I have a copy of a narrative article about life in Panama which was sold and published in the N.Y. Sunday World in July, 1922. CITE HERE.

1922 Sept. 1, Homer arrived in NY City on the ship Van Dyck, after sailing from Hamburg Germany. He was 29 yrs old. His usual place of residence was Brooklyn NY. He was processed through Ellis Island.

How did it happen that Homer was in Germany in 1922?

Homer took a stab at Professional racing in 1922. Homer wrote that his Government employment as a Physical Education Director in Panama precluded his running as an amateur. He won a half mile race in nearly world record time in the fastest time of his career in a pouring rain at Blackpool Stadium, Liverpool, England. His time was slowed by the wet condition of the track. The purse of 100 pounds was equivalent to about $500 American money. The following day he won 20 pounds at another professional race at Sheffield, England. At this time he was on vacation from his occupation in the Pananma Canal Zone but had to return to his job in spite of lucrative offers to race in England, South Africa and Australia. Thus, he did not continue racing in England.

1923, August 28, Homer arrived at New Orleans LA, sailing from Cristobal, Canal Zone on the ship Lacapa on August 23rd. He had been working for the Federal Gov't as Athletic instructor in Panama. Homer gave his usual address as 562 7th St. Brooklyn NY. He was 30 yrs old and still single.
This was his mother's address.
Homer went directly from Panama to San Antonio TX, (Letter to his Mother).

In San Antonio, Texas, Homer was employed as Physical Director of the Vocational Training School, of the U.S. Veteran's Bureau from August 1924, to October 1925. This school served to rehabilitate 900 disabled World War One Veterans.
(Ref: a later job applic. written by Homer - but the 1924 date seems to be off by a yr, because Homer arrived in San Antonio in Aug. 1923 and was courting his future wife in Dec. 1923 there, while employed at that position).

Late 1923, San Antonio, Texas, Homer came out of anaesthesia after having his tonsils extracted. He fell in love with his nurse, whom he described as "an angel from heaven." He wrote Georgia Black loving and tender letters as fast as he could pen them, finally winning her hand in marriage on July 15, 1924.

1924, The couple apparently left TX within a month after the marriage.

Homer took a one year Instructor's Physical Education course which required spending the summer of August 1924 at Silver Bay, N.Y. Part of the course was by correspondence. This was sponsored by the International Y.M.C.A.
While Homer was at Silver bay, wife Georgia was staying with Homer's mother in Brooklyn.

I have a copy of an application for employment written by Homer, which lists his former work experience as abstracted for this manuscript.

Homer took a position in Baltimore, MD. from 10/1925-10/1926, (if dates on one of Homer's job applications is correct. Dates may well be a year off and was 1924-1925 and seems to have been for one year). He was Athletic Director and Coach of Postal Employees, Postal Athletic League, under Dr. Burdick. He directed Physical Training in schools and playgrounds, coached 200 Postal employees, was Director of Physical Training, 5th Reg't. for 1500 soldiers. By Oct. 1926 Postal Athletics was discontinued.

While in Baltimore, Georgia lived with Honer's mother in Brooklyn. I suspect this was when she was pregnant in 1925. Georgia did spend some time in Baltimore with Homer and likely met Homer's cousin Edith (Stockwell) Sainsbury (of the Gaylor line of Homer's grandmother) there.

1925, Dec. 26, Homer and Georgia lived at 562 7th St. Brooklyn, when Jackie waas born (birth certif). They were residing with his mother Nellie (Collins) (Baker) Fisher and his stepfather John C. Fisher at this time.

1927, Georgia took Jackie to TX. They were having marital problems.

abt 1929, Homer and Georgia resided in an apt. house in Brooklyn after they reconciled.

Homer's parents were residing at 449 E. 25th St in this 1930 census.

In 1932, age 39, he weighed 175 lbs. In his forties, he was six feet tall, well proportioned, and handsome of face His hair was prematurely white, his complexion ruddy. This created a striking appearance. He was a bit portly in his middle years. Homer was a serious minded person, rather strict with discipline, demanding, caring and affectionate. During my childhood he was grappling with his blindness. This affected his personality. There was no energy left for fun. He was always dressed in a business suit and tie, never dressed casually, commanded respect.

In his elderly years when Homer resided in Pennsylvania, he was honored by admission to the West Branch Valley Chapter, Sports Hall of Fame in PA., although his U. S. races were held in New York State.

Extracts from letters written by Homer Baker Sr.:

Letter to his mother from Texas to Brooklyn - Aug. 28, 1923:
My dear Darling Moms,
I received your letters just before I sailed for New Orleans. It nearly broke my heart to leave Panama. The tears rolled down my cheeks when I was leaving. Several of the boys and girls came to the docks to see me off. I am enclosing clippings of the newspapers.

I was seasick all day Friday. The voyage has been very quiet and restful. I brought lots of things back with me and will hold them awhile until I find out whether or not you will visit. I have become greatly attached to Panama, but it is not a place to live for a very long period of time. I am sorry not to have been able to get home before going to Texas, but I shall do so soon.
Love to all, Homer.
(Homer told his dau. Jackie, that in the 1920's it was not considered healthy to reside in the tropics more than 5 yrs).

Letters to his future wife, Georgia:

Sat. - 3 P.M.
Dear Georgie, You are a girl with a mild, soft, easy, velvet-like disposition.
Don't mention amy more about country places. San Antonio is the most countrified town I ever want to live in again.

OH, GEORGIE, SWEETEST OF ALL SWEET THINGS ON EARTH. I FEEL AS THOUGH I AM RISING IN THE HEAVENS. YOU JUST CALLED UP. $*#&'(")("%&_. I CAN'T WRITE ANOTHER WORD!
Homer

January 16, 1924, I have not heard from home since Christmas and I think my mother has been sick and they are trying the same stunt that I did -- keeping it quiet. They never let so much time pass, and they always write at once when I send things home. My Aunt[1] wrote and it made me suspicious. I would have been on my way home had I thought it was serious.

[1] probably Aunt Edith Collins Davidson.

Georgie, you are such a dear sweet kid. Don't worry any more about Charles. He will find his bearings soon. When the weather gets warm, he can head for the north, where work is plentiful. I will help to get him placed, so that he can learn a trade. San Antonio is a hard place to get along in. Will you take a kiss and a tight hug. Homer.

January 24, 1924, San Antonio
My Dear Sweet George, Did you see Clara[2] in "Black Oxen"! She sent me a beautiful picture yesterday.

Georgie Dear, the "Vetsnuse" [3]will have to cease. An official order, five pages long, came to me yesterday. Only that which comes form the printing plant at Washington is to be printed. (This was a magazine published in TX for Military Veterans of which Homer was the Editor, JBH).

Here is a little kiss with a great big hug and a big pile of love with more to come,
Homer.

January 24, 1924, San Antonio,
My Dear Darling, I left you this morning in a dazed state of mind because you have not fully realized that you consented to marry me before I leave the city to accept another appointment. I did not realize the appointment would come so quickly. I telegraphed that I would be ready one week after notification. I expect communication to report any time after Feb. 4th.

I have fully made up my mind that I love you and always will. I shall certainly try to be all that you expect of me. From the time that you put the ring on, I loved you. I have met thousands of people throughout the world. I have met many women and I am not talking to you as a seventeen year old youngster would. I often told my mother that within five minutes, I would know the girl I wanted to marry. Within a minute after first seeing you, I said that I liked you. Gee, Georgie, while you were there, I enjoyed my stay in the hospital.[4] I have telegraphed because I expect you to go with me. If I do not accept the job, my name will be withdrawn from the Civil Service list. I won't go if you won't go with me. If you think you would rather stay here, I will stay too. This would be foolish because the salary is greater, and I will be closer to home. We can get to N.Y. in a little over twelve hours. During summer vacation, we shall have fifteen days in "Noo" York town. I can make more money in larger cities like N.Y., Phila., Boston, Wash. Here, we are out in a "desert", miles and miles from nowhere. San Antonio is not a very progressive town.

[2] Clara Bow, silent screen star, Homer's 2nd cousin.

[3] Homer was editor of this paper.

[4] Homer met Georgia when he had his tonsils removed.

I would like to have you forever and ever. I am tired of shifting around for myself. I want to shift for a girl like you; to provide for a little "Geomer". What you need to do is to make up your mind fully what I can mean in your life. Are you sure that you love me? Are you sure that you will be contented to go wherever I have to go in pursuit of my life's work?

Perhaps I should tell you a lot of "bunk" and convince you to marry me now. But, Georgie I want you to decide for yourself. I have told you that you are my love and desire. Do you consent? I have always been fortunate whenever I follow my own feelings or desires. I have never had best results listening to the advice of others or trying to "force" greatly. Do exactly as you feel and think best for yourself. I have confidence in your judgment. Don't run to others, they cannot think for you. This is a great fault of my mother. When she is in doubt, she runs to the neighbors for advice and never gets anywhere. She underwent a serious operation some time ago, before which the neighbors were telling her what not and how to do it. The Doctor told me the seriousness of it and I just grabbed her and made her go to be operated on at once. (Apparently refers to his mother Nellie's mastectomy for cancer, JBH).

January 31, 1924, San Antonio, All champion athletes have been superstitious in my day. Ralph Craig never ran without a pebble in his mouth. Charles Paddock never runs without touching a piece of wood just before he starts. I always dreamed before a big race and almost knew whether or not I would win.

After my father died[5] I grieved so much that the Doctor wanted to send me to the country, so for a year I stayed with my Grandma.[6] She is dead now. I shall never forget her and all the things that she did for me. Next to my Dad, I miss her more than anyone. (This would be Mary Hinsdale Baker in Medina, N.Y.; his other grandmother lived in Brooklyn, J.B.H.).

[5] Homer was nine years old.

[6] In Medina, N. Y. with Mary Hinsdale Baker.

Last night I started to write to my mother about you, but I am withholding the letter. If I write home now, the newspaper boys will have all kinds of stories about you and I. I will give it to them right off the bat when the time comes. Once my mother had a fit because of newspaper stories about me. Alfred Lake, champion cycle rider was a pal of mine and he had me meet his fiancee. We all lived in Brooklyn and often went home together. Every time I raced and before the starting of which, Alfred's girl would get up in the box and just scream HOMER! O-O-HOO-H-O-M-E-R. Just as soon as I would see or hear her, I would wave back and smile. The newspaper boys in the press box thought that she was my girl waving the final encouragement. No one ever thought much about it until one night when the clerk of the course and announcers hunted and called all over Madison Square Garden for Alfred Lake to appear in the bike race which he had entered. Alfred was nowhere to be found. Harold Dibblee, manager of the 71st Regiment track team in New York, rushed over to the officials and newspaper men and said, "Alfred eloped and won't appear tonight. The newspaper men were eager for a story and questioned him. Dibblee said, "do you know the girl who always waved and hollered to Homer Baker just before he started to race? Well, she is the girl with whom Alfred eloped."

Next, the representative of the Hearst newspapers came over to me and said," Alfred eloped with your girl! That's too bad. How did it happen? I knew nothing at all about it and I thought he was kidding me because he was a very good friend of mine. I thought that I would kid back and said, "sure, once I was able to give her a thrill racing afoot, but then Alfred had to come along and give her more thrills with his racing on a bike. Girls will be girls, you know." Well, you should have seen the morning papers with pictures of Alfred and I, racing for the hand and heart of a woman. I was sure surprised.
I can tell the newspaper boys a tale now. It may not have the kick it would have had in former years when I was in my glory.

I went to church Sunday. I am sending two clippings from the Barruca News. You will also find some clippings about the boxing. It may be possible for me to conduct a State Boxing Championship Tournament before I leave - depending on when I shall have to report to South Carolina.

Darling, I wish that I could express how much I love you. Hour by hour, you are still in my thoughts. Hurry home, because I don't know how much longer I can stand your being away. Don't you get a day off up there.
Kisses and hugs to the loveliest,
Homer.

(I would like to see a copy of that paper. Did Homer go to N.C? Where was Georgia? JBH).

March 2, 1924, San Antonio.
'Lo Honey, Today, I had the best time. I took the Boston newspaper men to the park and after practice, I took them to Medina Lake. The best pitcher in the American League was with us, also. It is just great to get back again with the boys I knew long ago and those who know me so well. I showed them the Vetsnuse which I was publishing, and they think that I should be in the newspaper game - cartooning and sports writing. Someday I am going back to it for keeps. It is enjoyable but I wouldn't be able to hop around from place to place like I have as Athletic Director. I shall have to live in a cottage with honeysuckle vines around it.

I am enclosing a clipping of Hudson Maxim. I knew him well and some day I hope to take you to see him. He is keen. A man with his brain cannot help but seem as crazy as the week is long. One day when I was running along a snow covered road, he came along on horse back and challenged me to a race. I beat his horse. Every person he meets, remembers him for years and years. He is very eccentric. He is very wealthy, and owns half the property around Lake Hopatcong.

Once he offered me all the land I wanted if I would come up and start a boy's summer camp. One of his arms was blown off in an explosion.
Homer.

San Antonio, March 9, 1924.
My Dear Little Sweetheart, I shall find out about the boat on which Charley left.
Several copies of letters are enclosed. The originals were sent to Charley in care of my mother. You need not worry at all about Charley because he can stay at my mother's if he doesn't find a job right away. It may encourage Charley to know that he can go there anytime that he likes.
My mother has helped many boys. During the war, she entertained the boys in service. I used to go home and see a whole pack of them there. They were young fellows from every section of the U.S. At that time, I was stationed at Camp Morgan, N.J. After the war, they tried to get jobs in N.Y. and went broke.
Homer.

Sat. P.M. Hello Darling! Charlie's steamer will arrive in N.Y. Wed. I am getting a letter to my mother and a friend who may be able to help Charlie get a job. Had I known earlier I could have sent the letters before his arrival. Charley is going to get lost in N.Y., I'm telling you. Wait 'til he gets in a subway. I shall wire Charley to go to my house.

I just finished a letter to my mother and to a friend who will be on the lookout for Charley. If Charley doesn't get his "wires" crossed, he can have a place to eat and sleep. Homer.

June 11, 1924. My Dear Darling George, I think of you constantly, it seems, ever since I first laid eyes on you. If such ever diminishes, I don't know what I shall do in a weary ol' world like this.

Last night I saw Clara Bow in the "Poisoned Paradise". She is now one of America's leading 'movie lights'. I am glad for Clara's success.
Love and kisses for you alone, Homer.

Letters to wife Georgia after marriage.

They were married in July, 1924.
Silver Bay on Lake George, N.Y. Aug. 22, 1924.
Georgia was staying at the home of Homer's mother in Brooklyn, N.Y.

I am glad to know that Charlie is doing well.

Honey, girl, my mother wrote very fine about you and she loves my darling - I knew she would. Darling Georgie, have you enough money? If not, Mother will give you ten until I get back. Don't be afraid to ask for what you need.

Letters written from Brooklyn NY to Georgia who was in Texas with daughter Jackie, just turned two years old.

Dec. 30, 1927
My Dear Darling Baby, The best love letters you have ever written arrived today. The tears come and I love you more than I have in three months. The love you express is like sunlight through the clouds of great disappointment. My mind is easier.

Honey, I never "Buffaloed" my Baby. I wrote as I felt about a love that I had never known before. Perhaps you pictured me as bigger, greater and stronger than I am, and perhaps I did likewise. I shall never be truly happy with any woman but you.

Now, as to your reasons for going to Texas:
1. To lean to cook and sew. It would have cost one tenth less to send you to school locally.
2. To see if couples did any fussing. Ho! Just stick around long enough.

3. To see if I love you. Hell of a way to find out!

Now, about your conditions to return:
1. To leave N.Y. in one year. I cannot promise that. Maybe!
2. That I will change my position. I earned close to $1500 in the first two months at Westwood Realty, but not a dime since you left. It is a wonder I have not lost my job, I have spent so little time in the office. I cannot promise to change jobs. I had a bitter experience last summer.
3. Mother shall never come to see us or phone us. I'll live with my babies of course, but when Mama gets "the grouch", I'll go to the other Mama.

Honey, I have no other plans if you love me, but if you don't I have thought about taking a travelling position in another capacity.

I know I have faults, Honey, plenty. Tell Papa with kind words for they are stronger than the strong arm. All I want is Mama and Kookie to love, and a place to hang my hat. When I am sure, sure, oh so sure of your love, I shall go almost any place and try all over again.

January 14, 1928
My Dear Darling Baby; Enclosed you will find a letter which I have withheld from mailing until I heard from you so that I can be more sure of myself and you. Your last letter made me feel that things were hanging by a thread and I made up my mind that you were not hurting me. My decision was to make the best of things no matter which way they turned.

Georgie darling, I never loved any one in the world but you. Often you said that no one would have me. Honey, I know I am far from perfect. I often feel you should have married some one better than me for your own happiness. I can only do my best. When things go wrong, I desire you the most. When a prospective deal goes smash, it is tough to come home to a wife who bawls me out. Do you know that most of the men in the U.S. are earning less than $2000 per year. My earnings have always considerably exceeded that sum.

In one of your letters, you wrote that you perhaps would not return until June or July. After much thought I have decided that if you like Texas so well to stay away so long, then nothing I do matters much. My full dress suit hangs in the closet ready to wear for me to attend a full dress racket.

I am going to an athletic event where Lloyd Hahn from Nebraka may make a new indoor track record tonight. I wish my babies were here. I am lonesome without you but I will feel better if you write sweet letters every other day. Enjoy yourself but don't stay too long. I shall send you fares to return any time this or next month. No matter what you have done, I love you still. When you come back, we shall have a little place by ourselves.
Love, kisses and hugs to the darling girl and Jackie.
Homer.

Westwood Realty Co. 685 Flatbush Ave. Brooklyn, N.Y.
January 24, 1928.
Dear Darling, The winter has been the mildest in years. Would you like to stay throughout Feb? You will be a long time with Papa and maybe we cannot go to Texas for a long time. Perhaps it will be nicer for you and Kookie to stay longer.
Love, Homer.

January 31, 1928,
Dear Georgie, I've known for a long time that my wife was unhappy. Our happiness, delicacy in itself, has long been in the palm of your hand to make or destroy. Seems to me like all is coming to you now. Love and kisses to my Kookie baby and save a couple for yourself.
Homer.

Sunday, Kearny, Nebraska.
(This was probably written during the Great Depression, about 1932/33, when Homer rode the rails (train) on his way to California where he hoped to seek assistance from his cousin Clara Bow. Clara had been taken in to live with Homer's mother at a time in her life when Clara needed help).
Dear Darling George, I was picked up and placed in the Good Samaritan hospital at Kearney, Neb. in a deranged condition due to a blow on the head rendered in some mysterious manner. I am also suffering with water on the left knee, the old injury of years ago, and I am crippled for the time being. There is exactly $9.00 in my pocket. Homer.

End of letters.

Georgia was insecure with making a decision to marry and move from TX to N.Y.C. Her brother Charles preceded her in moving to N.Y., which probably helped her to make up her mind. Although her parents and grandparents were deceased, Georgia had other Brelsford relatives in TX with whom she felt close. Having been orphaned early, she did not have a realistic idea of what marriage was all about. However, like all honeymooners, she wanted to live in a separate household with her husband, which was apparently not financially practical in their first two years of marriage.

Georgia apparently thought that Homer was financially secure. Homer left her a month after his marriage to take a summer course out of the area, while Georgia lived with his mother. He also left her with his mother to work in Baltimore, probably during her pregnancy, and before being able to afford to rent an apartment. Georgia did not get along with Homer's mother. By late 1927, Georgia rightly demanded that Homer obtain an apartment for them. Georgia left Homer and took their dau. Jackie and went to TX. I suspect that Georgia's cousins could not house them indefinitely. With a small child to support, I suppose she had few options, thus returned to Homer. I believe that Georgia did work as a graduate nurse for a time in Brooklyn, either before she became pregnant, or shortly after Jackie's birth. Homer's mother or sister would likely have cared for Jackie if Georia worked. In those days, Georgia had beautiful clothes.
By late 1928 or 1929, Homer and Georgia had their own apt. By 1930, Georgia was not employed.

The timing of the Great Depression of 1929 and early 1930's, as well as the subsequent deterioration of Homer's eyesight and hearing, put further strain on an already troubled marriage.

The recently married couple moved to Brooklyn, N.Y., where Homer's mother lived. At that time, women had only recently been permitted to vote in national elections. The couple resided at his mother's home at 562 7th St. Georgia lived with Homer's mother, while Homer took a position in Baltimore, MD. from 10/1925-10/1926, (if one of Homer's job applic. is correct, possibly all a yr earlier than stated). He was Athletic Director and coach of Postal Employees, Postal Athletic League, under Dr. Burdick. He directed Physical Training in schools and playgrounds, coached 200 Postal employees, was Director of Physical training, 5th Reg't. for 1500 soldiers. By Oct. 1926 Postal Athletics was discontinued. Georgia was pregnant in 1925, so it was probably expedient for her to be with Homer's mother, Nellie. Their first child Jacqueline was born Dec. 26, 1925 during a howling snowstorm.

1926-1932, Homer became a real estate salesman and broker, specializing in commercial real estate. He was licensed by the State of N.Y., 1926-1932. He was first employed with the Westwood Realty Co. on Flatbush Ave. and Bulkeley-Horton Co. in Brooklyn. Later, he was President of Homer Baker Realty Corp. He supervised 20 people in sales, leases, loans, moving vans, electricians, painters, carpenters, janitors, office work, building reconstruction. He was doing well until Black Monday, the day the stock market crashed in 1929 which heralded the Great Depression. His real estate career was brought to a halt. He had two realty offices, one on Marlborough Rd (E. 15 St), near Cortelyou Rd in Brooklyn.

Homer's second child, Betty Jane Baker, was born 5 January 1931 in Brooklyn. Soon the marriage was floundering and Homer's eyesight and hearing were failing. He was diagnosed with Retinitis Pigmentosa, which also afflicted his sister and Aunt. The adjustment to permanent blindness was difficult for Homer. The couple separated for a time, reconciled, then had a third child, Homer Edward Jr. born August 29, 1934. These were still depression era times.

Homer, with poor vision attempted a variety of jobs to make ends meet during the depression. These varied from analyzing handwriting at Coney Island to free lance sports cartooning for various newspapers and sports magazines.

Homer's eyesight continued to deteriorate mandating rehabilitation to a new vocation. Although he had difficulty adjusting to his blindness, he was always courageous and uncomplaining about it. He resided at a Blind Home becoming their commercial salesman or jobber for brushes and brooms made by their residents. These were tough times. His fame in Brooklyn was responsible for many contracts he obtained for the Blind Home. After the U.S. entered World War II in 1941, his services were no longer needed since Government contracts were awarded to the Blind Home, obviating the need for a salesman. Homer struck out on his own, conducting his business as a jobber by travelling the subways and buses with a guide dog.

He did not reside with the family again, since the marriage was on the rocks. He kept in close touch with his children, and was a very loving father.

On Oct. 27, 1944, the N.Y. Times published an article by Arthur Daley, who wrote "Sports of The Times". It was entitled Homer Baker Makes A Call. This article outlined his career and noted his blindness. Daley noted that Homer just missed making the 1912 Olympic Team when he was 18 yrs old, then defeated Mel Sheppard two yrs hand-running for the Nat'l AAU half mile championship. In 1914 he toured Europe without a setback and won the British 880 yard crown in record time from famed A. G. Hill, a double Olympic titleholder. Daley went on to write that Homer had a motorcycle accident in 1915 that damaged his knees and finished him as a top-flight athlete.

The article continues: Homer competed in Scotland, England, Germany, Denmark, and Belgium with Italy and Russia still on his itinerary when W.W.I erupted while Homer was in Stockholm. Homer reached England by boat in the middle of a spy scare. German customs had impounded all his baggage, trophies and papers. The only way he could prove his identity was with press clippings, which were not solid evidence in wartime.

In Stockholm, the American Medley Relay team were only four men, oblivious to the fact that the Danes used a five man relay. Homer ran the first half mile leg, then ran again another 880 yards as a substitute for the fifth man anchor and won in a breeze.

Daley wrote that Homer's most famous race was 660 yd against Ted Meredith in 1914. Meredith had won the AAU 440 yd championship for 2 yrs. A race between Homer and Ted in a neutral 660 yd was scheduled at Travers Island. Homer waited until the homestretch then blasted ahead to victory in 1:20 and 2/5 seconds, a world record which endured for 29 yrs.

Homer joined New York Athletic Club when he was a Public School Athletic League High Jump Champion for Manual Training High School. He also ran for the 71st Reg't.

Homer wanted to be remembered for his athletic achievement rather than his blindness and deafness. He was a courageous and proud man who continued to earn a living, well into his seventies, first hiring a guide, then having guide dogs. The first was a German Shepherd, the second a boxer. Because he became blind in his middle years, he had normal expression on his face for many years. I can remember his being in a subway and other riders asking him for directions. He knew the subway stops by heart and could tell the requester exactly at which stop to exit the train. At one time when he was in Florida and knew his way around rather well, a rookie cop who happened to observe him entering, then leaving a bank by a different exit. He decided that Homer was not blind and was casing the bank for a burglary. He detained Homer and was subsequently embarrassed for his mistake. Nevertheless Homer lived a difficult life when blind. In his last years, he wore powerful hearing aids in both ears.

Homer moved to New Jersey, Philadelphia, and finally Williamsport, PA. where he died. Georgia moved back to San Antonio in the 1950's, but died in Daytona Beach Fl in 1980 where she lived in a nursing home near her daughter Betty for a short time.

JBH, author met Homer's first cousin once removed, Justin Baker, now deceased. there was a startling resemblance to my father Homer, in the profile of Justin's head, as well as the way that both people's arm hair grew on their bodies.
this indicates that Homer favored the physical traits of the Baker family in many ways, rather than Homer's maternal Collins line.

JACQUELINE BRELSFORD BAKER AND OLIVER CARLTON HUMPHREY

125. Jacqueline^{8} Brelsford Baker was born 26 December 1925 at Methodist Hosp., 7th Ave. Brooklyn, N.Y. during a howling snowstorm. She is the daughter of Homer Edward^{5} Sr. of Brooklyn (Charles H^{4}., Charles A.^{3}, James M.^{2}, Matthew^{1}), and Georgia^{6} Mae Black (David A.^{5}, David L.^{4}, Samuel^{3}, Samuel^{2}, Samuel^{1}) of San Antonio, Texas.

Jackie´s life was chaotic from a family standpoint. Her mother took her to Texas when Jackie was about 2 years old, when she separated from Homer. They reunited, and had a second child when Jackie was five. They resided on Rugby Rd near Cortelyou Rd. They separated again when Jackie was six. At this time, Jackie went to live with her father at her grandmother´s house at 449 E. 25th St. Her grandmother died when she was seven. At this time, Betty and Jackie were placed in a children´s home. Betty was soon hospitalized when she contracted Scarletina which was the catalyst in causing their parents´ reconciliation. Her parent´s lived unhappily together for about six more years, first on E. 17th St. near Beverly Rd. Their third child Homer Jr. was born when they resided at this address. At thistime Jackiewas eight years old. They moved to 379 E. 16th St. near Cortelyou Rd. Homer´s eyesight was so bad by the time Jackie was about twelve, that he moved to a Blind home for Rehabilitation. He did not live with the family again, but visited on weekends and was a stable influence on the children.

Jackie´s mother Georgia had difficulty adjusting to the financial and social burdens caused by Homer´s blindness. She was depressed for many years.

Jackie was a girl scout for several years and was a Patrol Leader. She was an active member of The Baptist Church of The Redeemer on Ocean Ave. and Cortleyou Rd. She attended P.S. 139, and P.S. 225 (Montauk Jr. High School) graduating from 9th grade.

Jackie enjoyed her many friends in Brooklyn, when the neighborhood was a cohesive unit. She enjoyed roller skating, ice skating on a beautiful lake in Prospect Park, and excursions to the beach at Riis Park. Steeplechase and Luna Park, were fine amusement parks of that time. The youngsters saved their money for weeks in order to obtain enough for the admission price of fifty cents for thirty one rides. It was common for the whole neighborhood to join in these excursions. The youngsters took the subway to their intended destinations. They usually sang songs while in the subway to the delight of the other passengers. Neighborhood games included Hot Beans, Kick the Can and Three Steps to China. Summer evenings were often spent at the unsupervised local schoolyard, singing songs and playing the harmonica. One could ride one´s bike to Prospect Park to hear big bands play dance music without charge.

This was the time of the 1939 NY World´s Fair with it´s Trylon and Perisphere and famous parachute jump ride which was later moved to Coney Island. Jackie was 13 years old, but learned her way by subway, which required a change of trains.

When Jackie was in High School in 1941, the Brooklyn Dodgers won the World Series. Everyone celebrated. The event became a school holiday.

Jackie at fifteen, was a high school student when Japan bombed Pearl Harbor in 1941. Half of the auto headlights were painted black to reduce light from being easily seen in the event of a bombing. Periodic practice blackouts were held in the city. Everyone took to the roofs to view the sights of a dark city. Ebinger´s bakery even sold a blackout cake. Ration books were issued. Sugar, meat and soap products were in short supply. In the schools , student´s paid ten cents per week to buy war stamps. When one had $17.25 worth of stamps, one purchased a War Bond.

When one is born and raised in Brooklyn, one has a tendency to think that NYC is the center of the universe. Jackie was not aware of her paternal family´s farm background until she was a married woman with children. Actually, she was the first Baker to be born in Brooklyn. Her father was raised in Brooklyn, but her grand father was born and raised on a farm as were his ancestors before him. No wonder she has considered her farmer friends as "salt of the earth" types.

She married 24 August 1946 at Canandaigua, NY, Oliver Carlton^8, son of Maxwell^7, (DeWitt^6, Andrew^5, Hugh^4, Oliver^3, Hugh^2, John^1) and Ethel Ridley Humphrey. Oliver was born 30 Dec. 1924 at Newark, New York and died 1 April 1976 at Niagara Falls, N.Y.

Jackie is tall, having blue eyes and dark brown hair, which turned white prematurely. She was active, athletic, attractive and slender in her younger and middle years. She has an inquiring mind and enjoyed being of service to people in need.

Jackie graduated from Erasmus Hall High School in Brooklyn in January 1943. Erasmus was the first public high school in Brooklyn. She graduated from the nursing curriculum at

Keuka College, Keuka Park, N.Y. in January 1946, and is a Cum Laude graduate of Niagara University, Niagara Falls, N.Y., in January 1973. She holds a Bachelor of Science in Nursing.

She was President of Welcome Wagon in Lewiston and was a Youth Leader in the Baptist Church at Lewiston for a time.

Jackie was employed in a variety of positions in nursing through the years, including Public Health Nurse, Industrial Nurse and Community Mental Health Nurse for the State of New York in Buffalo. For the latter, her position was clinical, supervisory and administrative. Her position was in the community with outpatients, being responsible for two clinics and an adult day treatment facility.

Her career was prematurely ended by the growth of a benign brain tumor, five years after Ollie´s death. This left her with constant occipital pain and weakness and pain of the neck muscles. Three subsequent surgeries of the cervical and occipital area failed to correct the problem. It became necessary to reside near one of her children. This necessitated selling the house in Lewiston and moving to Florida.

With enforced physical limitations, she turned to Genealogy for a hobby, which hopefully will be of some assistance to future researchers of the families she writes about. Her research has led to proving her lineage for membership in the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Colonial Dames of the 17th Century, and the Sons and Daughters of the Pilgrims. She is eligible for membership in other organizations of descendants of the Colonial era in America.

Ollie was Episcopalian, later changing to his wife´s denomination which was Baptist. He graduated from Canandaigua Academy in 1943. He was a member of the swim team there. He had been accidentally shot in the foot by a hunting companion when he was 13 years of age. This prevented his being accepted in any branch of the service during World War II, although he tried to enlist in several branches of the military.

Ollie was handsome, had deep set cornflower blue eyes, light brown hair, and was of medium height and build. He had a quick temper but seldom held a grudge. He was trusting, trustworthy and had a straightforward manner. He was a good family man and enjoyed activities which he could share with his family.

Ollie worked for his Uncle Earl Stephan delivering ice in Canandaigua and Phelps during his high school years. He was a brakeman on the Lehigh Valley Railroad on the Manchester-

Niagara Falls route during world war II. When his Uncle opened a construction business after the war, Ollie was employed by him.

Ollie and Jackie built a house one mile from town on the West Lake Road in Canandaigua in 1951. Both worked diligently building the house. Jackie remembers, vividly, waterproofing the cellar wall before the soil was back-filled around the cellar wall. This was after working at the hospital all night. Sandi was parked nearby in her carriage while Jackie worked. This was the year when television sets became available for the average householder. The children were born in Canandaigua.

Ollie was a volunteer fire fighter for the Merrill Hose Company in Canandaigua, which also served socially for card playing. He was an explorer Boy Scout leader in Canandaigua, also. He acquired a pet raccoon who was permitted in the house. He purchased a couple of rabbits for Sandra, that soon multiplied to many rabbits.

When the St. Lawrence Seaway was being built, Oliver moved to Waddington, N.Y. for three years, and was employed there as an operating engineer. Some of the construction equipment was the largest ever seen, having tires taller than a man. During this time, it was so common for houses to be relocated, that Steve placed toy houses on his toy trucks to simulate the daily scenes which he witnessed.

Ollie enjoyed hunting and the pristine fishing available in the St. Lawrence River at that time. He could bring home a catch of bass or northern pike just about any time he went fishing, being knowledgeable about the habits of the fish. He caused me some real concern when he purchased his first "new" car, a 1956 Pontiac station wagon. Ice fishing was popular in Waddington. The fisherman drove their autos on the ice and used them, in lieu of huts, to keep warm. When he drove me out on the ice with him, the groaning of the ice made me more than a little uneasy. When I was told that insurance would not cover the auto, if the ice caved in, I was downright distressed.

The Waddington Milk Company was sawing blocks of ice from the river and storing these blocks for summer use at that time. It was their custom to ring the area where they had sawed with evergreen trees, as a warning to others to avoid thin ice. Being newcomers to the area, we were not aware of that practice. One day, Sandra, then about seven years old decided to visit Daddy who was out on the ice. She was pulling Steve, then two years old on her sled. Ollie was alerted when fellow fisherman blurted out that there were two darn fool kids in the ringed, thin ice area. He was astonished to see that they were "his" kids. He didn't dare go out on the ice because his weight would have broken it through, and it was swift, "deep" water. There was nothing to do but watch them continue their trek. He breathed a sigh of relief when they made it safely to thick ice. You can be sure it was "lecture" time for Sandra. During the three years we were in Waddington, the temperature went down to minus 48 - 51 degrees for about a week each winter. "That" was an experience. We brought the auto battery in the house at night and kept a light on under the hood of the car. It was sometimes still necessary to have the car towed when it wouldn't start. Sometimes the wheels were so frozen that they would not turn when being towed. The construction machinery was operated 24 hours a day. If they hadn't, the machines would not have started again in the extreme cold. One Christmas a neighbor agreed to tend the furnace while the family was out of town.

Something went awry and the furnace went out, causing water pipes to burst in the kitchen. When we returned, we found a sheet of ice on the kitchen floor. We used snow shovels to pitch the ice outdoors when we returned.

The local hardware and feed store decided to give away 15 free chickens. Sandra had her heart set on having some chickens. We first kept the chicks in the dining room under a makeshift incubator to keep them warm. As the chicks grew, each had a distinctive name, and were the recipient of much petting. We learned the strategy of the hardware proprietor, in the matter of free chickens, each time we reached in our pocket to purchase feed for the ravenous poultry. It was 20 miles to the nearest town, to purchase items other than basic. Ollie needed fish bait frequently. Soon he decided to catch his own bait. He rejuvenated an old cistern in the basement for a tank, and used Jackie to hold the other end of a large seine in order to snare minnows in the local creeks. She was known to fall in the water when the seine was bulging with fish and was too heavy to hold.

At this time Ollie had beagle dogs for hunting. Jackie cooked rabbits and pheasants galore, and their friends were supplied with the surplus game.

While in Waddington, Jackie was a member of the Little Theatre and was a Brownie Scout Leader. The whole family learned to use the Hula Hoop.

The family was in Waddington when the St. Lawrence River was temporarily dried up during construction of the Long Sault dam. This was a very difficult construction feat because the water was especially swift. When it was finally accomplished, we walked for miles in the river-bed. (In contrast, there were no unusual problems when Niagara Falls was dried up for repairs in order to preserve the underlying ground structure).

The family moved to Sanborn in 1958 for a short time, then purchased a house in the village of Lewiston, N.Y. in 1959. This was when the Niagara Power Project was being built. In 1967, he and Jackie purchased a house on Lower River Road in the Town of Lewiston where they resided until Ollie´s premature death from cancer of the stomach and esophagus.

Ollie was an avid hunter, preferring the hunting of ducks. He was very knowledgeable regarding species, and could identify the type of duck even when they were flying at a great distance. He participated in competition on a pistol team, was an ardent conservationist, and was active in Ducks Unlimited. He was active in fighting chemical pollution of the Niagara River long before the Love Canal chemical pollution was recognized. He raised beagle dogs at one time, then became interested in the breeding and field training of labrador retrievers. He was an excellent trainer. He was a volunteer duck bander for the State of New York. He was President of the Finger Lakes and Western New York Waterfowl Association and of the Fin, Feather and Fur Conservation Club. He was a trustee of the Baptist church in Lewiston. He and Jackie tried their skill at waterskiing and tennis, then bought a catamaran which was a thrilling water ride. Finally, they purchased a 26 foot sailboat and enjoyed sailing the waters of Lake Ontario, with Toronto and Hamilton as destinations. Jackie learned to snow ski after a fashion. They both enjoyed playing Duplicate Bridge.

JACQUELINE BRELSFORD BAKER AND OLIVER CARLTON HUMPHREY

29. Jacqueline^{6} Brelsford Baker was born 26 December 1925 at Methodist Hosp., 7th Ave. Brooklyn, N.Y. during a howling snowstorm. She is the daughter of Homer Edward^{5} Sr. of Brooklyn (Charles H^{4}., Charles A.^{3}, James M.^{2}, Matthew^{1}), and Georgia^{6} Mae Black (David A.^{5}, David L.^{4}, Samuel^{3}, Samuel^{2}, Samuel^{1}) of San Antonio, Texas.

Jackie's life was chaotic from a family standpoint. Her mother took her to Texas when Jackie was about 2 years old, when she separated from Homer. They reunited, and had a second child when Jackie was five. They resided on Rugby Rd near Cortelyou Rd. They separated again when Jackie was six. At this time, Jackie went to live with her father at her grandmother's house at 449 E. 25th St. Her grandmother died when she was seven. At this time, Betty and Jackie were placed in a children's home. Betty was soon hospitalized when she contracted Scarletina which was the catalyst in causing their parents' reconciliation. Her parent's lived unhappily together for about six more years, first on E. 17th St. near Beverly Rd. Their third child Homer Jr. was born when they resided at this address. At thistime Jackiewas eight years old. They moved to 379 E. 16th St. near Cortelyou Rd. Homer's eyesight was so bad by the time Jackie was about twelve, that he moved to a Blind home for Rehabilitation. He did not live with the family again, but visited on weekends and was a stable influence on the children.

Jackie's mother Georgia had difficulty adjusting to the financial and social burdens caused by Homer's blindness. She was depressed for many years.

Jackie was a girl scout for several years and was a Patrol Leader. She was an active member of The Baptist Church of The Redeemer on Ocean Ave. and Cortleyou Rd. She attended P.S. 139, and P.S. 225 (Montauk Jr. High School) graduating from 9th grade.

Jackie enjoyed her many friends in Brooklyn, when the neighborhood was a cohesive unit. She enjoyed roller skating, ice skating on a beautiful lake in Prospect Park, and excursions to the beach at Riis Park. Steeplechase and Luna Park, were fine amusement parks of that time. The youngsters saved their money for weeks in order to obtain enough for the admission price of fifty cents for thirty one rides. It was common for the whole neighborhood to join in these excursions. The youngsters took the subway to their intended destinations. They usually sang songs while in the subway to the delight of the other passengers. Neighborhood games included Hot Beans, Kick the Can and Three Steps to China. Summer evenings were often spent at the unsupervised local schoolyard, singing songs and playing the harmonica. One could ride one´s bike to Prospect Park to hear big bands play dance music without charge.

This was the time of the 1939 NY World´s Fair with it´s Trylon and Perisphere and famous parachute jump ride which was later moved to Coney Island. Jackie was 13 years old, but learned her way by subway, which required a change of trains.

When Jackie was in High School in 1941, the Brooklyn Dodgers won the World Series. Everyone celebrated. The event became a school holiday.

Jackie at fifteen, was a high school student when Japan bombed Pearl Harbor in 1941. Half of the auto headlights were painted black to reduce light from being easily seen in the event of a bombing. Periodic practice blackouts were held in the city. Everyone took to the roofs to view the sights of a dark city. Ebinger´s bakery even sold a blackout cake. Ration books were issued. Sugar, meat and soap products were in short supply. In the schools , student´s paid ten cents per week to buy war stamps. When one had $17.25 worth of stamps, one purchased a War Bond.

When one is born and raised in Brooklyn, one has a tendency to think that NYC is the center of the universe. Jackie was not aware of her paternal family´s farm background until she was a married woman with children. Actually, she was the first Baker to be born in Brooklyn. Her father was raised in Brooklyn, but her grand father was born and raised on a farm as were his ancestors before him. No wonder she has considered her farmer friends as "salt of the earth" types.

She married 24 August 1946 at Canandaigua, NY, Oliver Carlton^{8}, son of Maxwell^{7}, (DeWitt^{6}, Andrew^{5}, Hugh^{4}, Oliver^{3}, Hugh^{2}, John^{1}) and Ethel Ridley Humphrey. Oliver was born 30 Dec. 1924 at Newark, New York and died 1 April 1976 at Niagara Falls, N.Y.

Jackie is tall, having blue eyes and dark brown hair, which turned white prematurely. She was active, athletic, attractive and slender in her younger and middle years. She has an inquiring mind and enjoyed being of service to people in need.

Jackie graduated from Erasmus Hall High School in Brooklyn in January 1943. Erasmus was the first public high school in Brooklyn. She graduated from the nursing curriculum at

Keuka College, Keuka Park, N.Y. in January 1946, and is a Cum Laude graduate of Niagara University, Niagara Falls, N.Y., in January 1973. She holds a Bachelor of Science in Nursing.

She was President of Welcome Wagon in Lewiston and was a Youth Leader in the Baptist Church at Lewiston for a time.

Jackie was employed in a variety of positions in nursing through the years, including Public Health Nurse, Industrial Nurse and Community Mental Health Nurse for the State of New York in Buffalo. For the latter, her position was clinical, supervisory and administrative. Her position was in the community with outpatients, being responsible for two clinics and an adult day treatment facility.

Her career was prematurely ended by the growth of a benign brain tumor, five years after Ollie's death. This left her with constant occipital pain and weakness and pain of the neck muscles. Three subsequent surgeries of the cervical and occipital area failed to correct the problem. It became necessary to reside near one of her children. This necessitated selling the house in Lewiston and moving to Florida.

With enforced physical limitations, she turned to Genealogy for a hobby, which hopefully will be of some assistance to future researchers of the families she writes about. Her research has led to proving her lineage for membership in the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Colonial Dames of the 17th Century, and the Sons and Daughters of the Pilgrims. She is eligible for membership in other organizations of descendants of the Colonial era in America.

Ollie was Episcopalian, later changing to his wife's denomination which was Baptist. He graduated from Canandaigua Academy in 1943. He was a member of the swim team there. He had been accidentally shot in the foot by a hunting companion when he was 13 years of age. This prevented his being accepted in any branch of the service during World War II, although he tried to enlist in several branches of the military.

Ollie was handsome, had deep set cornflower blue eyes, light brown hair, and was of medium height and build. He had a quick temper but seldom held a grudge. BETTY JANE BAKER AND JAMES ROBERT MILLER

161. Betty Jane Baker was born January 5, 1931, at the Methodist Hospital, 7th Ave. Brooklyn, N.Y. She is the daughter of Homer[5] (Charles H.[4], Charles A.[3], James[2], Matthew[1]) and Georgia Black. The family resided 379 E. 14 St.(Rugby Rd.) B'klyn at the time of her birth.

Betty Jane Baker married James Robert Miller March 3, 1951 in Canandaigua, N.Y. James was born 6 April 1923 at Rochester, Monroe Co. NY. He is the son of Carlisle James Miller and wife Rose Lass.

Betty's early life.

Betty attended P. S. 139 in Brooklyn through 6th grade, then Cunningham Jr. High (P.S. 234) and James Madison H.S. when she resided at the Baptist Children's Home in Brooklyn. Betty went to the home after her parents had their last separation and times were tough for Homer who was now blind and hearing impaired.

Betty had contracted Scarlatina and was hospitalized when quite young. Homer's love for Betty during this illness sparked Georgia to reunite with Homer before the birth of their last child. Homer, forbidden to see Betty because she was quarantined, climbed the outside of the hospital to gain admittance. This daring act touched Georgia's heart.

Betty, tired of the restrictive life at the Baptist home, left there at about age 16, and resided with an elderly widowed friend of her mother on Cortelyou Rd near Rugby Rd. for a short time. She obtained a job at American Telephone and Telegraph Co., on Canal St. in Manhattan as a long distance operator. Lack of parental guidance at her young age was responsible for her leaving that position. At age 17, her father sent Betty to Canandaigua N.Y. where she lived with her young married sister Jackie for about three years, until Betty married James Miller.

Betty was employed at Roseland Park in Canandaigua as a waitress when she fell in love with the boss's son.

James R. Miller's early life.

James R. Miller resided at Rochester and Canandaigua during his early years, with the family moving back and forth between the two cities. He attended first through 7th grades at Rochester, and 8th grade through High School in Canandaigua, graduating in 1942. He was on the swim team in high school. Jim was drafted at Canandaigua in 1943 and served through 1946. He was a Technician 5th Grade, assigned as clerk in the orderly room. He was stationed in England, France and Luxenburg Germany. Although he was in the area of the "Battle of the Bulge," he was not in active combat. He did receive a battle star. He was separated from service at Ft. Dix, NJ.

James was employed most of his working years by his father, first at Roseland Park, later as Manager and part owner in Daytona Beach Fl. where his father owned an amusement park and arcade.

It is interesting to note that Martha Lass, sister of Rose, married William Muar who developed the well-known Amusement Park, "Roseland Park" on Canandaigua Lake. Another sister, Clara married the brother of William Muar. This is how C.J. Miller became associated with "Roseland" for many years. ~~He~~ C.J. became a very successful businessman.

Frank G. and Clara Etta Burnett.

Betty and Jim Miller as a married couple.

Betty and Jim resided on the West Lake Rd. in Canandaigua, later moving to Ormond Beach, Fl. where they have lived for many years. Betty was employed part time at her father-in-law's arcade. James retired early.

In their middle years both have participated and won many trophies participating in triathalon competitions which consist of running, bicycling and swimming. James was competing even at age 65.

Betty enjoys country line dancing. Jim enjoys playing golf.

She obtained a job at American Telephone and Telegraph Co., on Canal St. in Manhattan as a long distance operator. Lack of parental guidance at her young age was responsible for her leaving that position. At age 17, Homer sent Betty to Canandaigua where she lived with her young married sister Jackie for about three years, until her marriage to Jim.

Betty was employed at Roseland Park in Canandaigua as a waitress when she fell in love with the boss's son. She married James Robert Miller March 3, 1951 in Canandaigua, N.Y. He was the son of Carlisle James and Rose Lass Miller. James was born 6 April 1923 at Rochester, Monroe Co. NY. Alive 1994.

> Carlisle James, known as C.J. was born 6 June 1898-1988, Canandaigua, NY), s/o Nettie May? Burnett Miller whose husb. left her with 3 ch. to support. James married prob. in Monroe Co., NY, Rose Lass, 1897-1977, died Canandaigua, NY. She was one of five sisters, daughters of Ludwig Lass and his wife. Ludwig was her second husband. Rose probably grew up in Rochester. They both immigrated from Germany. It is interesting to note that Martha Lass, sister of Rose, married Wm Muar who developed the well - known Amusement Park, "Roseland Park" on Canandaigua Lake. Another sister, Clara m the brother of Wm Muar. This is how Carlisle Miller came to be associated with "Roseland" for many years. He became a very successful businessman.

James R. Miller resided at Rochester and Canandaigua during his early years, with the family moving back and forth between the two cities. He attended first through 7th grades at Rochester, and 8th grade through High School in Canandaigua, graduating in 1942. He was drafted at Canandaigua in 1943 and served through 1946. He was a Technician 5th Grade, assigned as clerk in orderly room. He was stationed in England, France, Luxenburg, Germany. Although he was in the area of the "Battle of the Bulge", he was not in active combat. He did receive a battle star. He was separated from service at Ft. Dix, NJ.

James R. was employed most of his working years by his father, first at Roseland Park, later as Manager and part owner in Daytona Beach Fl. where his father owned an amusement park and arcade. Betty and Jim resided on the West Lake Rd. in Canandaigua, later moving to Ormond Beach, Fl. where they have lived for many years. Betty was employed part time at the arcade. James retired early.

In their middle years both have participated and won many trophies participating in triathalon competitions which consist of running, bicycling and swimming. James competing even at age 65.

HOMER EDWARD BAKER JR. AND JOAN MCGUIDWIN

127. Homer was born August 29, 1934 at the Methodist Hospital, 7th Ave. Brooklyn, N.Y. He is the s/o Homer^5 (Charles H.^{4}, Charles A.^{3} , James^2, Matthew^1) and Georgia Black Baker. Alive 1994.

Homer married Joan McGuidwin, Aug. 10, 1957 at Mount Hor Presbyterian Church, Rochester. Joan is the daughter of Irving and Marian McGuidwin. Joan is a Registered Professional Nurse who was educated at Highland Hospital in Rochester. Irving died April 1993, was cremated, ashes at Whitehaven Mem´l Park, Pittsford, NY. Marian is alive Sept. 1997, resides in N. or S. C.

When Homer was born the family resided at that time in an apartment at 225 E. 17 St. Brooklyn. By this time, Homer Sr. was having serious problems with his eyesight, which affected his ability for employment.

When Homer was about 8 years old, he was run over by a taxicab. He was hospitalized at Kings County Hospital, sustaining a brain concussion which caused unconsciousness for several days, and a fractured leg. It was this accident that sparked Homer Sr. to place the 2 youngest children in a home with Georgia´s consent. He and Georgia were separated at this time. Homer felt that the younger children needed better supervision than Georgia was giving them.

Homer Jr. attended P.S. 139 in Brooklyn, then P.S. 159, then PS 234 which was Cunningham Jr. H.S. through 8th grade when he resided at the Baptist Children´s home in Brooklyn. In 9th grade, he attended Mercersberg Academy, a highly rated Prep. School At Mercersburg, Pa. He later transferred to Admiral Billard Academy, a prep school at New London, Ct which is no longer open.

He attended the Univ. of Miami for a time, leaving after an auto. accident. He resided with his sister Jackie in Canandaigua for a time, obtaining employment at Eastman Kodak in Rochester. He also attended the Univ. of Rochester completing about 2 yrs as an accounting major.

Homer served in the U.S. Marine Corps in peacetime, Basic training at Parris Island and Adv. Infantry at Camp Geiger, NC. Camp LeJeune, NC was his permanent location.

Homer and Joan resided in Greece, Monroe Co. N.Y. for a time, then built a lovely home in Fairport, N.Y. Homer was Manufacturing Administrator for Ryan Homes in Victor, N.Y.

for many years, later transferring to their office near Athens, Ga.

They have resided at Athens for many years. In recent years Homer has been the owner of Universal Stationers, an office supply store and is now retired. They sold their lovely home in Athans in 1992/3 and purchased a cottage in the Ormond by The Sea area where they will reside when Joan retires about 1995.

Joan attended Twelve Corners Elem. School in Brighton, NY gr. K-6, grad. of Brighton HS 1953, Highland Hosp. Roch. NY as Registered Professional Nurse in 1956. Employed Intensive Care Unit at Highland Hospital in Rochester for 8 yrs, also beginning 1981 at Athens regional Medical Center, Athens, Ga. Served as Director of Nursing for Medicine and Surgery there, and is curently Administrative Supervisor there, 1992.

Homer was President of Rotary Club in Victor, N.Y. and once coached Little League in Fairport.

The death of their eldest child Douglas in an auto accident, at age 19, was a tragedy for the family.

GRACE SYLVIA MAY BAKER AND WILLIAM LEE MAYER

208. Grace Sylvia May Baker was born November 22, 1933, Van Nys CA. She is alive in Oregon in Dec. 2005 She is the d/o Albert Millard^5 (James^4, Charles A.^{3}, James M.^{2}, Matthew^1) Baker and Alta Ruth Kinnamon. Alive Oct. 2009, 151 Dan Ave. in ? Medford, Oregon.

Grace, Sylvia May Baker aka "Gay" married 8 Feb. 1953, Yuma, AZ to William Lee Mayer who was born March 11, 1935 at Los Angeles, Ca. William died 15 December 1998 in Medford, Oregon. He was the son of Karl Wilhelm Mayer (18 April 1903, Donora PA - 6 June 1952, Los Angeles CA) and wife Edna Irene Scott (7 Jan 1916 Cleveland OH - 29 Oct. 1978 Loma Linda CA), who were married 28 Nov 1931 at Cleveland OH. Edna had a second marriage to Isaac Farley. (Mayer surname was originally Myer, a German family from Stuttgart).

Grace is the author's (JBH) second cousin, but I didn't know she existed until I was 61 years old. She found me through the Mormon Family Registry program where I had registered my connection to the Baker family. We live at opposite ends of the continent, but have exchanged many letters in our pursuit of our common lineage. Grace has been searching actively much longer than I, and I admire her dedication and tenacity in researching her family roots. She is a fine amateur genealogist. I regret that I will never meet her.

Grace met Bill when she was employed as a nurse's aide at Glendale Sanitarium in 1952. She has been a licensed baby sitter and has been employed part time for Sears and Roebuck for at least 7 yrs, carpet and drapery sales.

Bill employed service and repair of Burrough's Business Machines and Office Equip. in LA, then Monroe Calculator Co. Medford, Or. in sales and service, 1964-71, then sales and Service Mgr in 1971 in Anchorage Alaska for 6 yrs. He transferred to Pocatello, Idaho in 1977. Later employed by Radio Shack til 1984. Now employed by Boy Scouts of America. He is a 30 yr volunteer in scouting as master and commissioner. Resided Salem, Or 1979-80, Roseburg, Or 1980-82; then Medford OR. They enjoy camping, photography, square dancing.

Sandra´s first marriage was in Lewiston, Niagara Co. NY to Daniel Moore Upham III whose father Daniel was Chief Editor of the Minneapolis Star in Minn. Sandra and Dan lived together in Ma for only a short time after their marriage in Feb. 1971, but did not divorce until 1977. No issue from this marriage. Dan is a college graduate and was employed as Efficiency Expert Supervisor by Blue Cross, Blue Shield of Ma. Daniel remarried, also.

She married 2nd, Eric Lars Nilsen, 5 Sept. 1982, s/o Nils and Janine Gillieux Nilsen. Eric was b. 1950? LINY. Nils was b. in Norway and Janine in Belgium.

Sandra and Eric were married in Annisquam, Ma in a quaint old church. The theme of the wedding being Victorian, the newly-weds left the church in a horse drawn carriage for a week-end, at a turn of the century hotel on the ocean, with the wedding guests. Neither were members of that church. Sandra was living at Nashua, New Hampshire at the time. Sandra retained her maiden name for business purposes.

Oliver Humphrey was the s/o Maxwell7, (DeWitt6, Andrew5, Hugh4, Oliver3, Hugh2, John1) and Ethel Roslyn Ridley. The Humphrey family were in New Windsor, Orange Co. N.Y. as early as 1720, then moved to Phelps, Ontario Co. N.Y. about 1791. The family stayed in Ontario Co. until the present time. See unpublished The Humphrey Family of Orange and Ontario Co. N.Y. by Jacqueline Humphrey. Copy at N.Y. Hist. Genealogical Society, Phelps, NY Historical Society, FHC Library in Salt Lake, Utah etc.

Sandra attended Gr. 1-3 W. Lake Rd School, Canandaigua, NY; 3-5/6, Waddington, NY, gr. 6, Sanborn, NY briefly, Gr. 6, LewPort C.S., graduated from Lewiston Porter High School, 1965 and N.Y.S. University College at Cortland in 1969. She majored in Mathematics. She has travelled extensively in the U.S. and Europe and resided at Natick, Boxborough, Mass. and Nashua, New Hampshire.

Sandra was employed by Digital Equipment Co. in Mass. and N. H., then became Director of Marketing Communications for Modcomp A.E.G. in Ft. Lauderdale, Fl. Brief stint as Director with Maynard Electronics in Casselberry, Fl. 1992, employed with Motorola, Boynton Beach, Fl. Sandra has a better than average position, and is considered to be in the upper echelons for a woman's career. She and Eric, the father of her only child, reside at Boca Raton, Florida.

She has done extensive scuba diving in this country and the Caribbean. For a time she was co-owner of a N.A.U.I. method scuba diving school in Boston, where she taught this skill. She enjoys racquetball, aerobics, jogging and board sailing. She is attractive, of medium height and build, has blue eyes and sandy blond hair.

Eric is the son of Nils and Janine Gillieux Nilsen who are first generation Americans. He was born 25 Aug. 1950 at Amityville, N.Y., and is of Belgian and Norwegian descent. He has been a teacher, commercial photographer, and owner of a carpet store. He is handsome, of slender build and has blue eyes and blond hair.

Sam H. Baker4, s/o Henry J. was residing in Steele Co. MN in 1880, with his Millard/Lee cousin, while he was a teacher there. You should have this in the mss CD that I sent to you. He later m. Ada Chick. I did have his month and yr of birth from 1900 census, but not the day.

His son Clarence's bio. proves Clarence's connection to Sam Henry.

~~I just noted that a anc.com submission on Leonard family, also follows this family, but lists Sam H. as s/o Robert Baker of Yates Co. NY. She lists 1860 census when one Sam Baker, no middle initial, 4 yrs, was one of many ch. of Rob't. I have never responded to any anc.com submissions because I do not have a subscrip, ans use my dau in law's password. However, one corresp of mine says he just requests a person he queries to respond to his email rather than the main subscriber of which he has a share.~~ d have made a qu at anc.com just that way, asking what proof this lady has connecting Sam H. to
